Doesn't matter if you have a religious belief of any sort. There is simple difference here between right and wrong.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

Please take an honest look at your life and the lives around you. Please ask yourselves what is a TRUE right and a TRUE wrong. Stop making excuses for YOURSELF and blaming everything and everybody else. You sit where you sit only because of the decisions you made on your own.

Once you realize this, you will become humbled. It's a big step but once you take it, your life will improve beyond any expectation....

I see your point, and I understand where you are coming from. To an extent I agree with you. I personally would not have an abortion. However, I also know I am not qualified to pass judgment on any one. I may not agree with the way a person lives their lives, but it is their's to live. My opion and yours should and does not have any pertinence.

I have friends that have had abortions and they are still my friends.

Pro Choice is exercised by the man and woman BEFORE THEY HAVE SEX. Where is the responsibility? It is NOT OK to murder because of ones sexual desires as the time and no responsibility taken. Man will eventually LEARN that intercourse is for creating a child only, but thats going to be awhile. Intercourse is NOT entertainment. This is a sick sad world. If you are not ready to be a responsible parent, do not have sex! Otherwise, at least use some really good birth control.

And under God's law, even in rape, you are killing a human being. Bring the child into the world and give it to willing parents. I have been raped, and I didn't conceive, but I know I would not have sought abortion. I observe, in fact assisted the doctor in an abortion. I didn't know before I went into the D and C room that it was an abortion. I was sickened as I watched that life being sucked out and down the GARBAGE DISPOSAL. Is that all life is to people?

And this was a married couple with no children.

Abortion is MURDER.

It's NOT a woman's "body". It is another life inside of her body. She has no right to kill it. It stands alone as its own entity.

Yes, the baby relies on the mother to survive. Once birthed, the baby STILL requires the mother to survive. Why can't she just kill it after it's born, hmm?

I agree it should be allowed in the case of the life of the mother, possibly rape and incest.

"Free will" abortion should be banned.

Sorry you were an irresponsible idiot, take ownership of your decisions.

Premature babies have survived at 22weeks. Is that not a person? If at 22 weeks it has been proven they can survive...then where do you draw the line you murderer.

And on a last note... If it had been me that someone was thinking about pre-born murdering....no matter how bad the case is I would have wanted the chance live.

You support the pre-born murder of innocent children. And you Claim some right to know better as to whether you get kill that unborn child.

Prove that abortion is evil? THOU SHALT NOT KILL ANOTHER HUMAN. It matters not what age that human is. Is god's law that hard people?

Pro Choice is exercised by the man and woman BEFORE THEY HAVE SEX. Where is the responsibility? It is NOT OK to murder because of ones sexual desires as the time and no responsibility taken. Man will eventually LEARN that intercourse is for creating a child only, but thats going to be awhile. Intercourse is NOT entertainment. This is a sick sad world. If you are not ready to be a responsible parent, do not have sex! Otherwise, at least use some really good birth control.

How stupid is man on this world, worse than stupid, he is sinful and iniquitous.
Quoting: God Loves ALL

You have free will because you have MIND to make choices. It does not mean you are not held responsible for the choices you make. It does not mean that all your choices are holy. You are here to learn the difference. Now grow up. Abortion is murder of another human being and against the Laws of God. You see, you idiots who think its OK, God is about LIFE AND LOVE. IF YOU LOVE, you will not make a Life unless you truly intend to care for that Life. The HUman, IS GOD you see, or trying to become Like the Father.

HUman, and it matters not if you talk about the "animal" human or the angels, all with God MIND are HUMAN. Human is the highest evolution. Except on this sad fucked up world.

We who come from the highest heaven are trying to bring to you understanding of God's Laws, because some many were deceived thru the Lucifer Rebellion and other iniquitous galactic beings who are imprisoned here in order to UNDERSTAND the WHY of God's laws. 5 global civilizations have been washed into the sea since the days of Lucifer and his thugs. Religion is completely irrelevant in this case.

Do you think its the right thing to do because you chose to have intercourse? By destroying life AND your own body because of your own lack of responsibility.

This is the only question.

And under God's law, even in rape, you are killing a human being. Bring the child into the world and give it to willing parents. I have been raped, and I didn't conceive, but I know I would not have sought abortion. I observe, in fact assisted the doctor in an abortion. I didn't know before I went into the D and C room that it was an abortion. I was sickened as I watched that life being sucked out and down the GARBAGE DISPOSAL. Is that all life is to people?

I provided GOD's definitions above. To break the laws of God if you truly don't understand the laws, no wisdom yet, is evil/error. Sin is the breaking of god's laws when you know better. Iniquity is on purpose to confuse others about God's law. the purposeful pro choicers in government and various agencies KNOW the Law, but they are trying to prevent God's people from incarnating here. I myself, had my own mother attempt to prevent my arrival on this world. She was not successful and she never forgave me for being born, and she went to the 2nd death.

But despite this story, which some would suggest that there are good reasons for abortions, because there ARE bad parents out there, the fact is I not only survived the abortion attempt I survived life period on this world and I now head the earth crew of 2nd Coming Organization. I am proof therefore of what I speak. You cannot judge an embryo before birth as somebody above suggested, as to whether a Hitler or a Saint will result. There is no reason for abortion. Even the defective child who may live a short time, or a long time, is sometimes a saint incarnate who has come to provide lessons.

Doesn't matter if you have a religious belief of any sort. There is simple difference here between right and wrong.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

Please take an honest look at your life and the lives around you. Please ask yourselves what is a TRUE right and a TRUE wrong. Stop making excuses for YOURSELF and blaming everything and everybody else. You sit where you sit only because of the decisions you made on your own.

Once you realize this, you will become humbled. It's a big step but once you take it, your life will improve beyond any expectation....

I believe that women should have a choice in whether they want to give birth or not. You keep saying that this has nothing to do with religion, but I think it does. I don't think that abortion in late trimesters is right, but I believe a woman should have the choice to abort a fetus in the first trimester.

There is a reason why I believe this and it has NOTHING to do with religion, unlike your arguments. First off, try to put yourself in the shoes of the baby that HAS to be born because abortion is illegal. Would YOU want to be born to a mother or father who did not want you? This world is tough enough. If abortion is made illegal, many women would be forced to have their babies. And these children would not be wanted, adored or loved children. They would be children born for the reason that abortion is illegal. What kind of a life do you think they would have? Of course, because of religious and political brainwashing, you don't think this way.

Many of these mothers abort babies because they are young and they make mistakes. We all make mistakes. Most of these mothers cannot possibly afford to raise a child. Many of them would not choose to adopt these children out but would instead raise them. The Republicans/Christians (same difference) are against welfare. You couldn't care less about the child AFTER it is born, but you use abortion to elect people who you are TOLD are religious. In other words, you are nothing but stupid sheep. Baa, Baa.

You would not wish to be born into this world to parents who didn't want you, so why do you want to FORCE that lack of choice on to mothers? Is it because of religion??? I think so. So try not to be so selfish (I know, it is hard) and try to imagine yourself in the mother's shoes. Imagine being pregnant with no chance of abortion. Maybe you would seek out an illegal abortion, even though that would be dangerous. Of course, you are not thinking of anything but yourself and that is exactly why you are so anti-abortion.

This statement shows the complete absence sound moral judgement of the OP. Incest is also a valid moral reason for an abortion. No little girl should ever be forced to bear her father's child.

Trying to figure out of this works... Is it a point system? Where all the souls you saved gives you a better place in your heaven? Can't you just live your life the way you think it should be lived and left others do the same? Don't you have enough of your own life to run without fucking up someone else's?

Remember the story of the Saint, Jesus, and the ruler of that time that tried to murder HIM by killing all the boy children under age 2. the world has not changed and this is evident in the allowance of abortion. They are trying to kill the saints coming in before they can be born.

Well little girls have and the results are not always bad. When little girls can actually TELL the truth to somebody, they will be helped thru this. There is a child who was raped at age 5 in South America by close family member, always thought to be her father, and its definitely rape at age 5 and everyone including the child almost as old as his mother, turned out OK. Incest is not a cause for abortion. It is a reason to remove the rapist from society though, and sterilize him. I don't care who the rapist/incestor is, he is removed from normal society. Sadly society is so full of those who break the rules of God, there is no place on this planet big enough to place them all.

God does have laws which when followed by choice of the many will enable a civilization to become balanced and holy. Look at this fucked up world, many do not know these laws and others don't give a fat fuck. The Creator life force, the living MIND of the creation is very real. And members of the celestial Hierarchy provide those laws on planets to guide the people into building a sustainable global civilization. We do not have that, far from it, because man does not LIVE the laws of Creator. This is a sick world. Nature attempted to toss man off (for the 6th time) this world after the world wars, as he was so out of balance.

this was prevented by the hierarchy from heaven, who came and stabilized the planet to give all the Re TARDs time to grow up. Its not working well, sadly.

Since the time of the LUcifer Rebellion when he and his followers were placed on this world to grow up, this world has 5 times before this time, grown into a global community as populated as earth is now, and each was returned to the sea. And man reincarnated yet again without availing himself of God's Laws. that man is still walking this world is because the celestials bought you all some time.

Again, Glp server went down as I posting and I don't know if a prior post is there or not, but the 20 laws were regimen a number of years ago, and you can download this pdf file and read them with careful teaching. If you do not accept them and continue to vilify them, you will be committing sin and not error. In the care of error, the laws are not known. Read this, and if you don't know them, you will. And you will be held responsible, which you always are anyway.

Prove that abortion is evil? THOU SHALT NOT KILL ANOTHER HUMAN. It matters not what age that human is. Is god's law that hard people?

Pro Choice is exercised by the man and woman BEFORE THEY HAVE SEX. Where is the responsibility? It is NOT OK to murder because of ones sexual desires as the time and no responsibility taken. Man will eventually LEARN that intercourse is for creating a child only, but thats going to be awhile. Intercourse is NOT entertainment. This is a sick sad world. If you are not ready to be a responsible parent, do not have sex! Otherwise, at least use some really good birth control.

How stupid is man on this world, worse than stupid, he is sinful and iniquitous.

Quoting: God Loves ALL

The fact there is a law in the Bible that says not to kill does not even prove that killing is evil. It proves that God does not want us to kill.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1018225

Religion is completely irrelevant in this case.

Do you think its the right thing to do because you chose to have intercourse? By destroying life AND your own body because of your own lack of responsibility.

This is the only question.

when this is allowed, most planets bit the dust. Ponder it. As this planet moves upward, the people will be councilled by the hierarchy of heaven, because you see, the planet if back under such since the booting of Lucifer 2000 years ago, and GAIA is making her own ascension and this solar system is in the end of this age cosmic energies and moving into the next ones, and it does become the business of some of us here to help.

This is a terribly backwards world. If you respect life, and you know somebody who is going to get an abortion, you should if possible sit down and work with them on it, without judgement, so that they might consider choosing another and better option. Abortion is never an option. There is always something better and you might help somebody. To turn a deaf ear is to aid and abet the dark. Ponder that, for at some point, your brothers and sisters must become important to you as well as to God. We are really having troubles getting the brotherhood of Man, under the FATHER Hood of God going on this world, and one reason is that too many people turn away and say it does not concern them. Well, the whole globe is filled with this, and had fleet not come after ww2 and stabilized the planet, you wouldn't be here to have the discussion. Ponder that one too.

You may choose to turn your head if you wish, but you too will pay karmically for doing so. YOU cannot PREVENT the other, but you can teach, love and advise that there are other more holy options and perhaps then this other one will grow in the ways of the Lord, for Human is to become LIKE THE FATHER. You will have given someone an better opportunity to choose LIFE.

and there's ANTI-ABORTION.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS PRO-LIFE.

A TRUE PRO-LIFE PERSON WOULD BE DEMANDING THAT IT BE EASIER TO ADOPT A

(EVER HEAR THE ANTI-ABORTION PEOPLE YELL ABOUT THAT ???)

all true. There are few pro life people on this world, even within Christianity who as a group has totally allowed the thugs to genocide much of the middle east, based on the fact they believe Muslims are hated by God. I have witnessed this OFTEN. And we must witness to those who do this, support the wars of genocide, that it is not right. That is what we are supposed to do, WITNESS.

Okay anti-abortionists, I think this post above deserves an answer. If you want to police what others do based on your own personal belief system of what is right and wrong, why not focus on the war that is killing so many? (including children). Why not focus on the Children who need to be adopted and given a home (because someone carried them to term and couldn't care for them and then gave them up for adoption).

Life is sacred, and we have all been given free will to make our own choices.

you have free will yes, but there is a price for it, when the choice is made outside the laws of God, it gets written into your astral form to be dealt with in the future, until you clear by KNOWING and Understanding the laws of God.

I am a pro lifer in every way and I already posted a bit on your topic. Man had best be focusing also on the wars he supports which are murder also. Man is the responsibility to protect self, and to not protect self is self murder. But these wars are not about protecting self or our country. We were never attacked in the first place, as to the United States. So these wars are not self defense.

Life is sacred and we who know that have responsibility to teach others and also demonstrate by our own choices what is right. It is NOT OK to TURN the other Cheek in this case, IT IS NOT OK to be deaf, dumb and blind to this world. IT IS OK to TEACH and help others who are lost and there is not enough of that going on. IT IS MY BUSINESS WHEN MY BELOVED BROTHER

CHOSSES WAYS WHICH DO NOT SERVE. And one day on this planet, those who do not value LIFE per screwing around without taking responsibility will be sterilized. For they have demonstrated they do not value life.

We will sterilize the feeble minded, the rapists, the ones who commit incest, and those who engage in one night stands. Only dedicated couples will be allowed to reproduce. We will also engage in DNA testing to look for malformations that can be passed on and choose sterilization so we don't.

There are couples out there having embryos tested for carried genetic malformations and aborting them, rather than choosing not to reproduce in the first place. aborting in this case is still murder. They who cannot bear healthy children will sterilize and adopt.

This world is rising up, Gaia is making her own ascension and the civilizations OF this world must become self sustainable, that means ETERNAL and man will take an interest in perfecting his DNA but the time to do that, is before conception! Not after. That is why man is learning his DNA sequencing, because in a perfecting world, he does give a shit.

I have never had an abortion because I have never been pregnant. I was raised by parents that weren't afraid to educate me about sex and the use of contraceptives. They had a realistic awareness of teenage hormones and the trouble they can get into no matter how diligent a parent you are. Education is key to making informed choices in life.

Too many women have grown up in households that did not prepare them to make informed choices about their bodies, sex, or marriage. They end up pregnant with no way to emotionally, mentally, or financially handle the pregnancy let alone raising a child by themselves. They make the choice for abortion usually out of fear and for survival.

I know this because I knew a doctor that performed abortions and was allowed to follow him around on his job one day several years ago. I am an RN and was curious about what he did. He performed 40 some abortions in one day. Most of them took about 5-8 minutes to perform. I looked at some of the charts of the women. Some had had many abortions before and seemed to almost be using it as a form of birth control.. Sad. Others, rape or incest. An of course there were many first timers that just couldnt handle the thought of attempting to bring a life into the world when they were barely able to handle their own.

The old saying "Don't judge another til you have walked a mile in their shoes" is true. You can't know the burden many of these women faced having to make the choice. And then the protesters that stand outside the clinics and yell at them that they are killing their baby as they walk into have the abortion...doesn't help them. What about their life? What about their free will?

You can't know how difficult it is for some of them. You have no right to talk to them of morality and what god expects from them. You think you know right and wrong? Then YOU live that.

Doesn't matter if you have a religious belief of any sort. There is simple difference here between right and wrong.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

Please take an honest look at your life and the lives around you. Please ask yourselves what is a TRUE right and a TRUE wrong. Stop making excuses for YOURSELF and blaming everything and everybody else. You sit where you sit only because of the decisions you made on your own.

Once you realize this, you will become humbled. It's a big step but once you take it, your life will improve beyond any expectation....

Yes we do and so did that murderous doctor. What did he do to assist them? Every created child has a right to life. I realize this is an ignorant world. But ignorance is removed by education. Did he make any effort to educate a single one of them? He will stand to answer that one, believe me. He is a murdered.

I too am an nurse, or was, I am retired. I have in this one life alone witnessed to a great deal of wrong. And mostly wrong IS committed because they do not know "right". I too brought my children up to KNOW, yet one of them spread his seed well anyway and lucked out I guess you could say, no woman ever came and claimed him the father. He openly admitted to me he did not like condoms.... and this after my years of teaching that one should be responsible before they create life.

I myself had troubles saying NO to a man, and thus allowed in a sense, my own rape, although I married that one later and it failed 17 years later. For for other reasons not related to those early issues. I was a very abused child myself, which is why I didn't "defend" myself even though I did not want the sex. I have walked good enough on this world and seen what there is to see. This is my 6th incarnation on this place and the problems here are appalling.

But that does not excuse that doctor. those women who keep using it for birth control should be legally sterilized and we will go there at some point. FINALLY, because to value life is to sterilize those who do not and age has not anything to do with it. In the case of incest and rape, these ones will be sterilized also, not necessary the woman involved, but the man who engages in it and women too. I bet most of you here have no idea how many WOMEN molest their children? Well I was one who was molested by my MOther and my Father. Both of whom should have been sterilized when this was discovered. But we had no laws you see. My own Grandmother would have seen to my mother being sterilized if there were, but they were not available to her at the time to use.

If you don't like hamburgers, don't eat hamburgers.

I'm never going to have to get an abortion because I'm a male. What right do I have to withhold a female from getting one? It's a situation that I, and all men, will never truly understand because we'll never be in those shoes directly.

Abortions should be legal. This doesn't mean what all the pro-lifers seem to think....that we should celebrate it and have free abortion tuesdays and everyone should just killing their babies.

If you are against abortions, that's fine. Never get one. That's all. Your soul will be clean and pure and you'll have no fetus blood on your hands. Just because you don't like hamburgers, doesn't mean that we should make them illegal for everyone. You just don't have to eat them. Problem solved.

You can't expect the United States to reform it's laws to fit your religious beliefs, so that you have no other choice but be forced to be a good Christian or whatever. No. That's totally against the point. If God truly wanted that, we'd be born into a world with those rules already set up and we'd have no choice but to follow them. But that's not what happened, is it? God (if there is one)wants you to be a good soul on your own accord. He doesn't want the law to hold your hand and force you to. What's the point in that?

Prostitution, drugs, and abortion should all be legal and you should take full responsibility for your own choices.

Do we really want to live in NERFed world? Do we really want to keep suing Mcdonalds because we spilt hot coffee on ourselves? We need to grow the fuck up. Do you really want the government telling you what you can and cannot do with your own body? You want to give them that much power and redefine their role as such? Really?

I should be able to take drugs. If I research it before hand and know the consequences, then it's nobody's fault but my own if anything goes wrong. We need to grow up and we need to start taking full responsibility for our choices, actions, and decisions.

And if you want to be a good Christian, be a good Christian. Don't get the law to force you to be one. That's stupid.

I am a teacher of God's Law, not a judgemental woman. Take it or leave it, your choice By offering 40 abortions in a single day he is engaging in the murder of LIFE> and violating God's Law. That abortion was made LEGAL, and available thus to Doctors to perform, is against God's Law. It was done as I said, to allow the murder of bodies the saints wished to use, and also they saw it as the easy way to control growth of the planet. There is no better way to a man or woman to LEARN the laws of God but to break them, even when they do not understand them. Right is encoded IN the body to start with on this topic. All are born knowing right from wrong, but they choose to avoid the issues.

I myself as I pointed out, did not say NO in a relationship I was involved in, because I lacked the WILL to go against others and stand up at the time, having been heavily abused from my birth on. I UNDERSTAND THAT VERY PERSONALLY, but I also know abortion is not the answer, for it writes to astral form and must be resolved thru natures laws of Karma. There is so much more to be learned by these women.

I myself was conceived possibly by rape or my own mother unable to say no. I don't know her motive, but she did try to abort me and my own childhood was terrible. But I grew out of it and these woman can be given a similar opportunity. There are options to abortion, always in trueness, except in very rare situations. One of those might be raped nuns, who know what the priests DO to their babies when born.

We need to teach responsibility. Sex should not be for entertainment, and it is. it is for the creation of LIFE and nothing else. Period. On a confused world, contraception should be used, I agree with that. On a mature world, people do not create children that are not wanted and do not engage in sex as entertainment and mental control of others. And no doctor should have a legal right to practice murder. I understand some believe they should since the woman might harm herself doing a self abortion.

Well, unless she was raped, her opportunity to avoid pregnancy came at the time she spread her own legs. Some people, this is the only way they LEARN, as you pointed out by the fact that many women were on their upmteth abortion, when the doctor should have offered sterilization after the birth. this is a world for people to learn from their irresponsibility. The issues are complex, but no matter their complexity, every embryo has a right to life and this will include at some point the animals on this world will also have a right to life.

Did he make any effort to educate a single one of them? He will stand to answer that one, believe me. He is a murdered.

I too am an nurse, or was, I am retired. I have in this one life alone witnessed to a great deal of wrong. And mostly wrong IS committed because they do not know "right". I too brought my children up to KNOW, yet one of them spread his seed well anyway and lucked out I guess you could say, no woman ever came and claimed him the father. He openly admitted to me he did not like condoms.... and this after my years of teaching that one should be responsible before they create life.

I myself had troubles saying NO to a man, and thus allowed in a sense, my own rape, although I married that one later and it failed 17 years later. For for other reasons not related to those early issues. I was a very abused child myself, which is why I didn't "defend" myself even though I did not want the sex. I have walked good enough on this world and seen what there is to see. This is my 6th incarnation on this place and the problems here are appalling.

But that does not excuse that doctor. those women who keep using it for birth control should be legally sterilized and we will go there at some point. FINALLY, because to value life is to sterilize those who do not and age has not anything to do with it. In the case of incest and rape, these ones will be sterilized also, not necessary the woman involved, but the man who engages in it and women too. I bet most of you here have no idea how many WOMEN molest their children? Well I was one who was molested by my MOther and my Father. Both of whom should have been sterilized when this was discovered. But we had no laws you see. My own Grandmother would have seen to my mother being sterilized if there were, but they were not available to her at the time to use.

Quoting: God Loves ALL

That doctor was an amazing man who had compassion. One young woman was crying while lying on the table when he walked into the surgical room. He talked with her about why she was crying and deciphered that she really was not sure about her choice to have the abortion. He sent her away to talk with a counselor there. He did not do abortions on women forcibly. They had all made their own choice.

You are an extremely judgemental woman and I waste my time probably even replying to you. You have no compassion.

Quoting: Zephyr2

I am a teacher of God's Law, not a judgemental woman. Take it or leave it, your choice By offering 40 abortions in a single day he is engaging in the murder of LIFE> and violating God's Law. That abortion was made LEGAL, and available thus to Doctors to perform, is against God's Law. It was done as I said, to allow the murder of bodies the saints wished to use, and also they saw it as the easy way to control growth of the planet. There is no better way to a man or woman to LEARN the laws of God but to break them, even when they do not understand them. Right is encoded IN the body to start with on this topic. All are born knowing right from wrong, but they choose to avoid the issues.

I myself as I pointed out, did not say NO in a relationship I was involved in, because I lacked the WILL to go against others and stand up at the time, having been heavily abused from my birth on. I UNDERSTAND THAT VERY PERSONALLY, but I also know abortion is not the answer, for it writes to astral form and must be resolved thru natures laws of Karma. There is so much more to be learned by these women.

I myself was conceived possibly by rape or my own mother unable to say no. I don't know her motive, but she did try to abort me and my own childhood was terrible. But I grew out of it and these woman can be given a similar opportunity. There are options to abortion, always in trueness, except in very rare situations. One of those might be raped nuns, who know what the priests DO to their babies when born.

We need to teach responsibility. Sex should not be for entertainment, and it is. it is for the creation of LIFE and nothing else. Period. On a confused world, contraception should be used, I agree with that. On a mature world, people do not create children that are not wanted and do not engage in sex as entertainment and mental control of others. And no doctor should have a legal right to practice murder. I understand some believe they should since the woman might harm herself doing a self abortion.

Well, unless she was raped, her opportunity to avoid pregnancy came at the time she spread her own legs. Some people, this is the only way they LEARN, as you pointed out by the fact that many woman were on their upmteth abortion, when the doctor should have offered sterilization after the birth. this is a world for people to learn from their irresponsibility. The issues are complex, but no matter their complexity, every embryo has a right to life and this will include at some point the animals on this world will also have a right to life.

If God saw fit to give humans free will and the right to choose our own path, what makes you think you're special enough to take that away? Do what you will, but stand in judgement for your sins by GOD, isn't that how it was set up? Didn't he also tell us humans not to judge each other, in fact to love each other unconditionally? So quit trying to be God by judging others, and let them make their own choices, else you might find YOURSELF being judged harshly when you stand before Him.

and there's ANTI-ABORTION.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS PRO-LIFE.

A TRUE PRO-LIFE PERSON WOULD BE DEMANDING THAT IT BE EASIER TO ADOPT A CHILD.

This was the best comment of the entire thread and great example of thinking outside the box. Many couples cannot create life but would be fitting parents of the children that are aborted. I still feel as though women who are raped or put in danger of death should have the right to choose, but that is it.

As for your second reference, I also agree. I stand with Ron Paul in bringing our troops home and be less involved with worldly affairs. However, in some certain cases, such as the atrocities in Dharfur, sacrifices should be made in defense of others. Other than that, I feel the only justification for murder is self defense.

I know one thing, karma is a bitch. The morals that our politics and economics have set forth will not end well unless we change.

I have never had an abortion because I have never been pregnant. I was raised by parents that weren't afraid to educate me about sex and the use of contraceptives. They had a realistic awareness of teenage hormones and the trouble they can get into no matter how diligent a parent you are. Education is key to making informed choices in life.

Too many women have grown up in households that did not prepare them to make informed choices about their bodies, sex, or marriage. They end up pregnant with no way to emotionally, mentally, or financially handle the pregnancy let alone raising a child by themselves. They make the choice for abortion usually out of fear and for survival.

I know this because I knew a doctor that performed abortions and was allowed to follow him around on his job one day several years ago. I am an RN and was curious about what he did. He performed 40 some abortions in one day. Most of them took about 5-8 minutes to perform. I looked at some of the charts of the women. Some had had many abortions before and seemed to almost be using it as a form of birth control.. Sad. Others, rape or incest. An of course there were many first timers that just couldnt handle the thought of attempting to bring a life into the world when they were barely able to handle their own.

The old saying "Don't judge another til you have walked a mile in their shoes" is true. You can't know the burden many of these women faced having to make the choice. And then the protesters that stand outside the clinics and yell at them that they are killing their baby as they walk into have the abortion...doesn't help them. What about their life? What about their free will?

You can't know how difficult it is for some of them. You have no right to talk to them of morality and what god expects from them. You think you know right and wrong? Then YOU live that.

I was watching Dr. Phil the other day and a beautiful young girl, 25 years of age was on. She admitted to already having 7 abortions. It hit me like a ton of bricks and I began weeping. What have we become when we allow mass genocide of our children. Plenty of couples would gladly adopt if the options were made easier. There are other alternatives than killing your child. After hearing this young girl, I realized that our youth is using abortion as birth control and it sickens me. May God forgive us!

This is so, its not written by God, its not God's Word. It has some truth in it. the OT is mostly the stories of one single race which was on the planet at that time and the planet was at that time everywhere populated, all continents which could bear life were full of life. This was ONE group. Every GROUP is given teaching by star seeds who incarnate as Full Sons of God, as appropriate to them and it all gets mucked up, but as to teachings that came to hindus and orientals, these far exceed the non holy bible. The teachings Jesus gave has been massacred in the NT and many are purposely missing and all are any as remembered because only some of them were written even the people that bear their names. This was one tiny spot in the world. There were reasons why Michael of Nebadon in companionship with Immanuel Esu decided to come to that particular region, in part because the peoples there were descendants from another world and originally had much better knowledge but lost it.

Adam and Eve had come close to there, the Garden of Eden is sunken in the easter mediterranean. Its a huge area of controlled by the Anunnaki too and a large portal over the area.

Other cultures in the world were for the most part doing better, having paid more attention to their heavenly teachers.

Religion, public religion is always dark side on any world. Jesus taught that you and your relationship with the Father Within YOU, is your personal business. You are to cultivate that and not head off to mind controlling churches. Yet there most of you here even go. I don't mind that you go for social reasons, but you are not taught about God in them. I have only found ONE church that has any knowledge of God and that is the quakers.

God has no problem with assembly, that is the teaching behind two or more in MY name, or wherever two or More are gathered in my Name. But so many of these gatherings have little of God within them. They do not have GOD POWER because of the FOLLOWING by non thinkers. God the Father has placed a portion of his MIND in YOUR mind. Since the times of Michael, since the Bestowal of the Spirit of Truth, all born with a normal mind receive a Father Fragment when they commit their first MORAL decision, which is around the age of 5. Did you know some animals have become smart enough to receive a Father Fragment? I had a cat who got one at age 15, another at age 2, and a third when he was about 5 or so. What is wrong with this picture? Nothing, except these ones, these cats KNEW they were going to move up and become people. But the people here, they don't see themselves as moving up to become LIKE THE FATHER. Its not taught. the heavenly ascension is not taught. Well it is, but the thugs keep it out of site as much as possible.

Someplace in my own KJV bible which is quite old now, it says that at the end of the age, gods sons well come again, and re-instruct man, so why are you ones READING ANCIENT CORRUPTED SHIT? I have read my version cover to cover and it has massive errors in it. That 1% is true doesn't make it the word of God. most of it is war stories in the OT. Did you know that Christ was NOT a genetic descendant of David? But Immanuel Esu did walk this plane in prior incarnations as David and Elisha? and many other places not in that region. Eau immanuel and Mary M are soul mates and there service to this world goes back to before Atlantis and they worked tirelessly in Atlantis only to see it go into the sea for its evil.

The story of one tiny people does not make that book holy. The Holy Spirit did not write it, It doesn't have hands and pens. It is man's remembrances of what happened. And until the KJV the catholics kept their version hidden from the people.

As I state here all the time, there were no JEWS back then. The Khazars made that name for themselves and you ought to be reading The 13th Tribe by Arthur Koestler, about those Khazars who were never the people from Israel, but were from MONGOLIA. They stole a country and there was no Diaspora.

You Christian Zionists supporting israel as being HAD by your "devils" of this world.

Jesus never started your church. The part in the bible that says Jesus made Peter the head of his church is a complete lie put there by ROME which has over time corrupted everything given by Jesus. And continues to do so. They are the WHore of Babylon. If you ones would throw out that book, and sit down and actually THINK you would recognize its not very true. As I said, 1% truth does not make the whole book true.

I'm never going to have to get an abortion because I'm a male. What right do I have to withhold a female from getting one? It's a situation that I, and all men, will never truly understand because we'll never be in those shoes directly.

Abortions should be legal. This doesn't mean what all the pro-lifers seem to think....that we should celebrate it and have free abortion tuesdays and everyone should just killing their babies.

Pro-Choice just means that one believes it's the parents' choice whether to bring a child into the world and not the government's choice. Not all people who are pro-choice would have an abortion if put in that situation. They just believe it's nobody else's business but the parents'.

It's funny how there are all these people who are about small government and downsizing government regulations, but when it comes to social issues they want the government all up in everybody's issues and choices.

It's also funny how many people who are pro-choice are also against teaching responsible sexuality which would cut down on unwanted pregnancies before the issue of abortion ever came up you don't understand free will. Free Will is the ability to REASON, not free choice. You are to learn on these baby worlds to align with the laws of God and Nature or not. It takes many a very long time to learn those lessons. These lower worlds provide the proper responses to poor choices. Those this disvalue life have a long haul ride. doesn't matter if its abortion or war, or the destruction of a planet. If you are to align with the Father, you will make better choices. Until you do you live on crap worlds with tons of problems.

This world is changing, and those that dis value life will be moving to another low world, that is how it works. This world is going to now harbor people who value life and peace and have learned about the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God. There will never be peace any other way.

I am neither condoning nor condemning abortion, any more than I condone or condemn war. The people of every country think I condone the war they are fighting, and condemn the war that their opponent is fighting. The people of every nation believe they have "God on their side." Every cause assumes the same thing. Indeed, every person feels the same thing—or at least hopes it is true whenever any decision or choice is made.

And do you know why all creatures believe God is on their side? Because I am. And all creatures have an intuitive knowing of this.

This is just another way of saying, "Your will for you is My will for you." And that is just another way of saying, I have given you all free will.

There is no free will if to exercise it in certain ways produces punishment. That makes a mockery of free will and renders it counterfeit.

So with regard to abortion or war, buying that car or marrying that person, having sex or not having sex, "doing your duty" or not "doing your duty," there is no such thing as right and wrong, and I have no preference in the matter.

You are all in the process of defining yourselves. Every act is an act of self-definition. If you are pleased with how you have created yourself, if it serves you, you will continue doing so in that way. If you are not, you will stop. This is called evolution.

The process is slow because, as you evolve, you keep changing your ideas about what really serves you; you keep changing your concepts of "pleasure."

Remember what I said earlier. You can tell how highly a person or society has evolved by what that being or society calls "pleasure." And I will add here, by what it declares to serve it.

If it serves you to go to war and kill other beings, you will do so. If it serves you to terminate a pregnancy, you will do so. The only thing that changes as you evolve is your idea of what serves you. And that is based on what you think you are trying to do.

If you are trying to get to Seattle, it will not serve you to head toward San Jose. It is not "morally wrong" to go to San Jose—it simply doesn't serve you.

The question of what you are trying to do, then, becomes a question of prime importance. Not just in your life in general, but in every moment of your life specifically. Because it is in the moments of life that a life itself is created.

All of this was covered in great detail in the beginning of our holy dialogue, which you have come to call Book 1. I am repeating it here because you seem to need a reminder, or you would never have asked Me your question on abortion.

When you are preparing to have your abortion, therefore, or when you are preparing to smoke that cigarette, or when you are preparing to fry and eat that animal, and when you are preparing to cut that man off in traffic—whether the matter is large or small, whether the choice is major or minor, there is only one question to consider: Is this Who I Really Am? Is this who I now choose to be?

And understand this: No matter is inconsequential. There is a consequence to everything. The consequence is who and what you are.

You are in the act of defining your Self right now.

That is your answer to the abortion question. That is your answer to the war question. That is your answer to the smoking question and the meat-eating question and to every question about behavior you've ever had.

Every act is an act of self-definition. Everything you think, say, and do declares, "This is Who I Am."

its really sad on a "modern" world, (yea right), that people have so little respect of life. Its not only abortion, its the horrid raising of meat, which is for cave men types and not modern man, the wars, the abuse of the mother planet in all ways, the hate of religion and the like. Anyone with care can make a pretty big list of where and how there is no respect for life. Life is the Gift of Creator and all of it should be treated in love, just as creator loves.

The actual Lord's Prayer Given by Jesus 2000 years ago.

"MY SPIRIT, YOU ARE OMNIPOTENT. YOUR NAME IS HOLY. MAY YOUR REALM BE INCARNATE IN ME. MAY YOUR POWER REVEAL ITSELF WITHIN ME, ON EARTH AND IN THE HEAVEN. GIVE ME TODAY MY DAILY BREAD, AND THUS, LET ME RECOGNIZE MY TRANSGRESSIONS AND ERRORS, AND I SHALL RECOGNIZE THE TRUTH. AND DO NOT LEAD ME INTO TEMPTATION AND CONFUSION, BUT DELIVER ME FROM ERROR. FOR YOURS IS THE REALM WITHIN ME AND THE POWER AND THE KNOWLEDGE FOREVER, AMEN.

Re: Only two reason for an Abortion. Find your humility.

If men had a uterus, there would be drive through abortions. And they would have it written into law that each person gets at least 1 day off per month when they are menstruating.

Unless you have a uterus, you have absolutely no say in the matter. If you don't believe in abortion, don't have one.

Sounds like the same BS the demoncrat party has been spouting for hundreds of years.

We can't let the black free, they can't take care of themselves. Unless you have a Southern Plantation, you should have no say.

Every human being should have a say when another human being is being murdered by being pulled limb from limb. Yes, this is one of the late term abortion techniques. The baby is able to fell everything, is given no pain medicine, and is pulled apart while alive.

You pro murder people are sick. And yes, I do have all the female parts. I just choose to use them for things other then murder. 😊

The religious right is all about control. They want to save all the aborted babies, but have no problem sending them off to war to be killed once they are grown. Or worse yet, bombing the hell out of them. How is that prolife?

Its not faith in God that makes them act this way.

Jesus said to feed the poor, and take care of the sick, the religious right wants none of this. They would rather millions of children be born into poverty in order to feed their war machines.

They can not see with closed eyes.

If you are pro life for yourself, but choose not to teach others, you have a bit missing still in the pro life, it is not complete, or you could not make such a statement. Abortion is murder. Many pro lifers support war which is not in self defense and murder of the planet. Where is your position in these things?

It will not be all decided, until all men and women abhor abortion and learn to take responsibility for their sexual life.

Doesn't matter if you have a religious belief of any sort. There is simple difference here between right and wrong.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

Please take an honest look at your life and the lives around you. Please ask yourselves what is a TRUE right and a TRUE wrong. Stop making excuses for YOURSELF and blaming everything and everybody else. You sit where you sit only because of the decisions you made on your own.

Once you realize this, you will become humbled. It's a big step but once you take it, your life will improve beyond any expectation....

I haven't chimed in for awhile. For me once again, it's all about morals.

As a woman you have three choices.

1. Take responsibility for your choices and actions and raise your child.
2. Take responsibility for your choices and actions and put your child up for adoption to one of the THOUSANDS of families who cannot have children or can no longer have children.

Or,

3. Have complete disregard for life and your own body. Do not hold yourself responsible for the decision you made to put yourself in the situation. And lastly, destroy life.

I love the people who drag war and other topics to the table. It's like if, if, if and but, but, but.

How about this, what's right about abortion? Blah, blah, blah bringing a child into poverty. See answer #2. Blah, blah, blah, it's my body. See answer #1.

It doesn't matter though, morals have gone to the gutter regardless of any religion.

LOL, in a perfect world where everyone were honest, I'd agree with you OP.

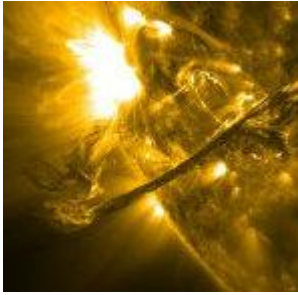

Victims of rape very rarely point out their attacker to authorities, and wouldn't be able to prove they were raped... and stupid shitheads that get pregnant every few months will just claim they were raped to get an abortion. How would abortion clinics enforce these rules?

What about the two 14 year-old's who aren't being supervised, that get pregnant the first time they have sex? They shouldn't be allowed to destroy two cells after the test results come back, because you say so?

Late term abortions are pretty scummy and should be outlawed, period. But your argument is a bit hard to swallow. It's a slippery slope.

I think a big thing to consider when talking about this is that right and wrong, good and bad, are not real things. They are ideas invented by man. What's bad and wrong to one culture is the norm to another. These ideas vary person to person and culture to culture. These ideas don't actually exist. Things are are, they don't come prewrapped with these type of labels. We, as humans, attach these labels to behaviors, situations and people and then experience them through sunglasses tinted with whatever label we have chosen to apply.

I'm not saying abortion is right or good. I'm saying right/wrong, good and bad, don't actually exist.

If men carried children like freaking sea horses and some one told men that they could no longer have sex unless they were willing to take the chance of having to carry an unwanted child, even because of a birth control failure, there would be riots.

Men, forced to carry a child you don't want to term; some thing that would change their body and biology forever, take away nearly a year of their life and then either keep the unwanted child or serve as a brood mare for some one with more resources than they had. All because they were "evil" enough to have sex for anything except procreation. How may man you think would go for something like that?

Controlling woman's reproductive fuctions is all about controlling woman. Look at your history, see what Decree 770 did for Romania.

It also easy to be against it and say you don't want one when you aren't in those shoes.

You don't understand it.

Obviously NOBODY REALLY WANTS TO GET AN ABORTION. It's a painful decision and process. You all act like pro-choices are jumping out of their shoes to get as many abortions as they possibly can. Most girls cry the entire way to the clinic, get called a whore walking in through the door by religious nuts, and cry the entire way back home.

It's not like people enjoy abortions. It's easy for you to judge because you've never been in those shoes before. I guarantee if you were, you'd consider an abortion also. If you got raped and pregnant by some random strange, I bet abortion would flash across your mind when trying to decide what to do.

I am a male and can never have an abortion so who am I to take it away from anyone else? I'll never understand what it's like to be in the shoes of possibly needing one. How could I judge something I'd never understand? Huh? How can you?

Title changed to accurately reflect my OPINION.

This is the last time I say it.

Moral - Concerned with the principles of right and wrong behavior and the goodness or badness of human character.

Is abortion moral? Is abortion a good thing or a bad thing?

You know where I stand and I do not judge anyone, I leave that for someone else. FYI, I have friends that have had abortions. They are still my friends. Unfortunately one of them cannot have any kids due to an abortion.

The reason for this thread was a debate against my opinion and I wanted to see where people on GLP stood morally on this issue.

Personally, I find it sad that many people find abortion reasonable and in good morals, but that is just my opinion.

Peace.

I made the choice on abortion for ME.

I have been pregnant twice and I have two kids. I have had the choice since I got pregnant the first time.

I chose to keep my son when his father and I split when I found out he was coming. I chose to have my daughter, even though there is 13 years between my children and I am getting old.

I chose. I am not going to make that choice for someone else. My personal opinions on it resemble yours, but I don't have to live with anyone else's choices, just my own.

All the women I know who had an abortion had one because it wasn't convenient for them to have a baby at that time. Some went on to have children later. None of them had been raped or were in life/death situation.

So I do cast judgement on those that decide to kill these babies because it wasn't 'convenient' for them to deal with the consequences of their actions at the time. We all are judgemental on many topics no matter how much people deny they're not, otherwise you wouldn't have a concept of right or wrong and be reading and posting on this thread in the first place.

I made the choice on abortion for ME.

I have been pregnant twice and I have two kids. I have had the choice since I got pregnant the first time.

I chose to keep my son when his father and I split when I found out he was coming. I chose to have my daughter, even though there is 13 years between my children and I am getting old.

I chose. I am not going to make that choice for someone else. My personal opinions on it resemble yours, but I don't have to live with anyone else's choices, just my own.

beloved, do not double talk we are talking maturity and responsibility here, which man must come to acquire. You have unplanned children. god had nothing to do with it, and if i understood above you had an abortion after those, so you kept 2 unplanned children and aborted one unplanned child, correct? I am looking for honesty here.

I had an unplanned pregnancy too, young and stupid and spread my own legs . I miscarried two weeks after marriage. The next two were planned and then I got my tubes tied during the c section birth of the 2nd one.

and what do you do to stop the unplanned children. I stopped as I said with my planned ones with a tubal ligation. So I would not have any unplanned children and it didn't seem my husband was going to stop wanting sex. Sex is a duty to me, always was. Its not "fun and games" just who I am . It is first and foremost for making a baby.

At the time, I was weak minded, being from a very abusive home and simply could not tell my boyfriend NO NO NO NO and More NO NO NO. Ok. what was your reason, lets be honest here. and in my age I didn't even fully know what birthcontrol was, I had not heard of rubbers but my boyfriend had and did not get some. I was semi aware of the rubber for women, which My mother had but nothing about how to get it. I went to a doctor for birthcontol since I had this NO problem and he would not give me birth control pills or other birthcontrol information because I was not married.

There you have my reproduction story.

now I am 65. I raised my kids with the education I did not have about babies. My daughter had a boyfriend who was 14 and she was 15 and I even took them to planned parenthood to no avail. there was a pregancy that was miscarried after that time.

My son admitted that he should have kids out there, but nobody ever approached him, so he did not heed the teaching either. There is something with this society and its on purpose that does not say to premarital sex in kids far to young to parent a child. I don't have an answer but we must change.

babies are for married people who will commit to children. Other worlds solve these problems by teaching and also by rather stern measures ones of earth would assess anyway. These worlds demand respect for all life. they do not tolerate babies out of wedlock. If unmarried people make a child, they are sterilized and the child given to those who can properly raise it.

Look at all the slums in this world which is so overpopulated and the walking pregnant in them. we have far more pregnant teenagers and unmarried women with children and divorced people etc than in the 1960s when I was in high school. We have major societal problems not even around this and this world is headed to death again for all the various reasons.

At some point every life will count and also people with dna problems will not reproduce and those without normal minds will not reproduce and the number of children will be restricted so as to no overpopulate the ability of the planet and society to provide WELL for all. Ponder these things.

I don't drink, and I'm with you on the whole sex as entertainment thing.

However, what I am NOT for is legislating individual liberty and telling people what they can and can't do with their bodies.

That is between them and God.

If there were more of us than them, (the Hedonists) then simple peer pressure and community shaming would be adequate means of control.

The Morning After pill simply prevents a fertilized egg from attaching to the wall of the uterus. This may or may not happen anyway.

It's not an "ABortion Pill" because there is no cellular Mitosis, you cannot feasibly call a fertilized egg a zygote or embryo.

It's nothing but potential.

If you eat these things like M&Ms yes, you should re-evaluate your life and choices...

But most people are too stupid to put that much thought into what they do.

So for the benefit of society we need these measures to keep unwanted children unborn.

Things will be perfect in Heaven...not here.

tomorrow when I have rested perhaps I will go further, because people have to realize they bring their own problems on them, and that is what these lower worlds are for, training, but 5 previous times the whole planet has taken itself into the sea because the civilizations totally failed.

This is time 6. And its important to look at the problems. And this is but one of them. Children belong into two parent homes and while it is difficult to legislate that, until people UNDERSTAND WHY this is important. We live in a world on MONEY, and that must go also. Societies that are mature and use not money are rich and they have no poor children. But they must still not overpopulate, any world can only supply so much.

The task ahead will be to make it so this world never goes under the sea again, we must become loving and sustainable within our cultures without destroying our home.

This go off to heaven shit has caused a lot of this issue, people don't care about the planet, but they must care about the planet, its their home. We have to make a way for every child..... to have the best and the best is not just money. or clothes, it is quality true education that match individual needs. Children are shoved into totally inappropriate schools on this world.

We must so value our childrens lives because they succeed us and must keep the world going. Man is so bad off this time, without intervention he is facing extinction of his species.

Beloved, the FAther, the one God never did any such thing, those "gods" were either make believe or the anunnaki etc. No loving Father directs such activities. That people are stuck to that OT MESS is appalling.

The bible, under moses, given by the people of the planet Jehovah, states that Thou Shalt not murder another human being. That is the sum total of that law and embryos are human beings, there is a soul there.

God the FAther is the creative MIND of the whole creation. YOU are part of that mind. THUGS not God did the above stories in the bible. Jesus came to those people because they were so fucked up it was incredible. That is why Moses came to them earlier. And Melchizedek. Those people were terrible and running around killing each other in the name of fake gods.

And since people are going to have sex, why is spilling semen wrong? Its a good method of birth control if people have no others. If you want to see some really horrid stuff. read the Talmud. Many of the rules are not rules of God at all, they are mistranslated or believed by people who no concept of god and are superstitious still, just like many today remain.

Spilling semen is no different than wearing a condom, that is what it does, catches it.

I cannot pass judgement about what other people do to themselves, though abortion crosses the line, where what a woman does to her own body she also does to another life. I cant decide whether I should be outraged and disgusted by these women, or feel sad and pity them. I know there are a lot of them, they walk among us and unless they tell us we would never know who they are. They arent exactlyevil people. They are just normal people that for reasons of fear or selfishness or guilt or shame have allowed themselves to decide that an embryo is not human. It saddens me to think that they can be the kind of person that would not think of what kind of person that embryo would be..not wonder what that unborn person could bring to them, the world. Who knows, Jesus may have tried to be born again a few times and kept getting aborted. lol not funny i know, no offense. But really, billions of aborted fetuses - at least a few of them statistically were bound to be world changers, but the world has lost them.

I am glad my own birth mother did not abort me - would have made her life easier. I am glad to be here. I may not be a world changer personally, though I hope that my children may be.

You cannot judge anothers soul, you ARE allowed to teach to them, listen to them, and so on and so forth. you are allowed to judge BEHAVIORS, but not the soul, for you don't know the purpose of that soul with God. People we have so many problems in our world because some of you misunderstand the teachings.

To judge behaviors without judging the soul is where you go. Because many will not make statements about behaviors is one reason this world is so screwed up as to God knowledge and the learning of the ways of the Father. YOU must set example if you know what the ways of the Father ARE in the first place, that is how it works. That is how you bring light into the world, those of you who are star seeds or those of you who are old enough souls to know better as to behaviors.

every human on this planet, at least once a day should go over their own behaviors and review them, growth happens no other way. Every one that has gone against the laws of God should be going back and reviewing what made you make such a decision.

As I reported I was none to strong in saying NO NO NO NO back when I was not married. I wasn't screwing around per se, but the act of spreading my legs because I could not say no to my boyfriend, out of insecurity in myself, led to a marriage in which we really should have WAITED, we really should not have been engaged in sex in that first year of college at all. And it was after my rape by a guy I dated over the weekend, early in that year, of 1965. I did say no, it was rape, to no avail, but then when I was mistreated by mother when I came home late after that, I lost all ability to say no after that incident. my boyfriend was nice. but we were forced into a marriage by the pregnancy, that happened a happened about a year and 1/2 later. We married in May of 1967. We were not ready truly yet. And as I said, I naturally miscarried the pregnancy 2 weeks later after we married, but we were married.

On the night of my marriage and over the next days I truly regretted what I had done. I was not ready to marry. Neither of us was, it upset our college careers, will it upset mine more than his, for he was put first. We did ok. But as I looked back year after year, I continued to face my karma of those times. Eventually the marriage broke but for entirely different reasons which I won't go to in here.

We make errors and we need to study those errors, and the doing so of it daily leads to wisdom and a better life.

Your churches don't teach daily wisdom much, do they? I do this after almost everything I do now, its a good habit to form, all day long.

hey even Jesus and Mary M had their moment and a child created not long before the crucifixion which separated them. Jesus survived and it was agreed with the celestial advice be the crucifixion for him to go east. She and others of the apostles and family were deported to the Mediterranean sea in hopes they would perish. They did not, they landed on the mediterranean shore of Southern France, she carrying the baby born on that boat ashore. SaRa was her name and from thence forward came all the legends of Europe. Joseph of A was always the guardian of Mary M.

Jesus married in Kasmir and he and that wife bore 5 more children into the world. There are godly reasons for doing things actually, but little SaRa was the unplanned situation but she did bring forth the holy DNA in Europe in her adult years. Even the highest of star seeds incarnate in this world err....or so it seems at times.

I have to agree that abortion is wrong.... BUT in ALL CASES. it's about looking outside yourself. In rape cases, the resulting child had no say whatsoever. GIVE THE CHILD A CHANCE TO EXPERIENCE LIFE. it's that simple. People that say that the child is just going to grow up with a bad life or whatever are missing the point. We all have our story. We all don't have the perfect life. But don't you appreciate that u at least have the chance to live? Give it up for adoption if you don't want the child. And in cases of life or death: LET GOD DECIDE THE FATE. Murder is murder. Plain and simple. Taking of life isn't justified in any case, that is in God's hands, not in man's.

You must accept the TRUTH of our Creator in order to have this outlook. Each human life is valuable.

There is a separate life than just the woman's inside of her. People use the excuse that it's just a clump of cells.

Well, those "clump of cells" will grow to be as unique and diverse as you or me. We all started that way, no matter what point in growth it is in, it is still early human

You all seem very certain that a soul is assigned to a body at conception.

Why is that?

Can you give any rational argument for why you are so certain regarding this point?

Why isn't God/Jesus/Angels/Nature/Whatever smart enough to pick the right moment to ensoul a human being?

Perhaps The Angels responsible for churning out souls into new bodies are aware that certain "Potentials" are slated for Abortion and therefore no spirit is assigned to that zygote?

Perhaps the soul itself decides when and if to enter a particular body?

Maybe it only happens at Birth, at the first gasp of air?

HOW DO YOU PEOPLE KNOW????

You have no rational argument(s), only your overly emotional guesswork.

It's the womans decision whether or not to carry a child. Always has been/ always will be regardless of whether it's "Legal" or not. As for the sex, THAT is none of your G-D business, so kindly get your mind out of other people's bedrooms.

Now, if you want to band together and shame women who choose to have an abortion, feel free. Start with your own mothers and sisters, aunts and cousins first if you've got the stones.

Meanwhile, nobody needs to have an abortion at all with The Morning After pill and ru486.

So the whole argument is moot anyway, just dumb women who aren't aware of their options keeps the clinics afloat.

can you give any argument, there is no soul then? Its not a question of assigning a soul except in the case of reincarnation. That the zygote will grow at indicates something dear one. It is not going to grow without something to motivate it and that is something is LIFE/SPirit. A reincarnating soul can enter at any time and sometimes waits until after birth, but even if you "knew" that, you cannot destroy the body the incarnating soul is creating within you.

You have posted some interesting questions and I will answer, because of life planning, sometimes "life" starts before conception. Ponder that one. this is a GREAT discussion, keep it going.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

I removed the part I didn't want to response to above, its not the full quote. Sex is the business of the GROWING SOUL as to how to use the energy, and it fails tests if sexual energy is used wrongly and it is used wrongly when it is just entertainment and also if entertainment, one best be using effective birthcontrol during the part of the cycle ovulation occurs. It may be personal business but if these stupid ignorant ministers of churches were not so ignorant they would be teaching about soul growth and not this bs about you get one life on earth.....

the more you abuse the energies of life the longer you will be clearing your karma, but it stays there until you have learned the lesson. Ponder that. How many extra lifetimes do you want to clear what ought to be Discussed and taught. Your astral body writes it all, on electrons, all the BS and if you want to clear the bs you have to clear it, and when you KNOW the lesson, that karma written on electrons is changed into Photons which build the "light body".

You have eternity to grow up. Until you resolve the most basic issues you have your eternity on worlds like this one and don't move up. Ponder that one. How many earth type lives do you wish for not learning your lessons.

the MIND is your soul and its powerful and you must learn to control of it, which means not spreading your legs every time you get a desire of any sort and that includes you men, just because you got horny and a hard on, is not an excuse to go fuck somebody and you to have your lessons to learn.

People on low class worlds like this one will err all over the place and many times on purpose, which is sin, doing it on purpose when you know better. You will respect life or you will go to trial and be asked if you wish to continue your eternal life or not, and suffer the consequences of being placed on void worlds until you can become responsible again, or being uncreated.

If you religious centers taught these things, perhaps you would consider not wasting life after life after life..... you will in fact not even need a court system, because once all light is gone (there are no photons of truth), your Father fragment leaves and without the Father Fragment, at the end of the physical life, you just disappear into oblivion.

As for what we are teaching people, I invite you to peruse a little work called "Mein Kampf"

Essentially, it is one special interest group that continually infiltrates cultures and introduces arts and ideas that produce lots and lots of carnal Karma of every atrocity and filth known to man.

It is waaaaaaaaaaaaayyyyyyyyyyy to late to even initiate a purge of our decadent mind poisoning and those who spoon feed it to us. They've already subverted those who might care.

well will engage in this one, properly under the laws of God and not by abortion. We will in time, as we "ascend" test all marrying couples for DNA defecs, in fact all people of reproductive age, and we will sterilize them. Period. We will also sterilize the mental defectives. We will either sterilize or isolate criminals by sex . well I guess we do that already for the most part.

We will be advised by the Life Carriers themselves plus others in how to go about this in a godly way. Man is going to self improve himself, that is the next step in moving into new dimensional learning. When we hit light and life, there will be an order put out for the appropriated people to being purging the race of people not suitable. This does NOT mean killing them, it means preventing reproduction in all who carry genetic dificiencies.

Doesn't matter if you have a religious belief of any sort. There is simple difference here between right and wrong.

There are only two exceptions, rape and a matter of life and death.

It is wrong to kill babies because of YOUR lack of responsibility. There is absolutely zero "right" in choosing free will abortion. YOU chose to have intercourse. Regardless of birth control, this was your choice and you understand what is at risk when you make this decision. OWN IT!

This is just one example of how MORALS in our great country have gone to shit.

When did you decide you have all the authority?

Some of us believe that the soul doesn't enter the body until close to birth.

Unborn fetuses do not have rights greater than the mother.

It does matter what you BELIEVE buster, it is FALSE and not truth. There is life force present whether a recycling soul enters or not. If no recycling soul enters, or has reserver the embryo, it is then a NEW SOUL and its MURDER and that is FACT.
