Pondering One's Convictions

Hi everyone, we are starting up a new project on AbundantHope and here. Its about your convictions and how you come by them. I will be covering a variety of topics and the first one today will cover convictions over Gaddafi and Libya.

I will explain how this will work shortly. Lets start with the meaning of the word "convictions." In the several online dictionaries I looked at, it was all the same.

A firm belief, held as proven. Or a fixed or firmly held belief or opinion.

Now before I go further, I have often posted here that beliefs are NOT KNOWING, they are postulations and so also are convictions until truth is found and felt within. The word conviction implies that beliefs have been studied until they become convictions. But they are not necessarily KNOWING either.

But once you have a real conviction, you must then walk your path in it, as given by the use of "the courage of one's convictions." Or the opposite statement, "one does not have the courage of one's convictions."

So, now since this is an AH project in conception, some telepaths on my team have been guided to help set the stage. I am going to thus post one thru Hazel, from SOURCE, which we also sometimes call PAPA Source, or the Father of the Creation. First PERSON TRINITY. The process by which man acquires KNOWING is long. You are not made instantly into a God, for it takes a lot of time. GODS are rulers and teachers. They have as their Source of Being, THE FATHER. But enough on that, for that is another topic yet to be explored here but not in this thread. I will start new threads as I am motivated to do so.

Any, here is the Piece thru Hazel. I will make it in blue so its separate from the rest of this long post.

Knowledge is the beginning of Wisdom- Creator of ALL that is- The Source thru Hazel.

I AM the Source of all knowledge. I AM the repository of the golden chalice, the keeper of the knowledge needed for mankind to sustain on their evolutionary journey back to the Source.

The lessons learnt through the experiences in mortal incarnation provide the conduit to acquire this knowledge; for each experience is rendered that man becomes re acquainted with his Source by seeking illumination for the imponderables of the experience and a higher understanding of its creation. Man needs to appreciate why the experience was created so that he can overcome the liability and understand himself more. I AM poised in the midst of the experience as the goal of the lesson.

Yet many are unable as of yet to see as far ahead as the goal when their eyes are cast on the immediate consequences of the experience. That which is immediate always captures man's attention. He seeks understanding through analysis and supposition. He remains perplexed and confused in his inability to truly comprehend. Each experience bears a lesson upon which knowledge is hinged; and if man can come into that knowledge he will be taking baby steps towards his ultimate graduation. I AM the ONE WHO can anoint man with that knowledge.

All knowledge is sacred. It is distant yet near, capitalised in your presence. The acquisition of knowledge is a choice. Always must you deliberately and by design seek it. From each cycle of life's experiences, you must ask of the lessons- what knowledge can I gain that will take me to a place of higher understanding and enable me to graduate from this experience richer than before. Beloveds, knowledge is equated to higher understanding.

What man refers to as knowledge is seldom more than information garnered from various sources. When you have knowledge of something you know it and it is indisputable. Knowledge is not something that is subjective in the sense that it is peculiar to one or some persons. Knowledge is universal and distinct in its feature. Knowledge conveys certainty in understanding and beggars belief. It is not opinion based but provable. Knowledge cannot be held but known.

Yet the proof may not always lie in the explanation but in the discovery through an inherent knowing that is certain, when you can tap into the ultimate Source of the resource. Information can become knowledge if validated by the Source as truth.

Where knowledge resides, doubt is absent. Those who are in the knowing are not excited by fear but remain steadfast in the Cause. Inimitable faith is that which will continuously open the doors to higher knowledge. This is because faith is open to truth and truth is founded on the assurance of knowledge.

Divine knowledge is cosmic and all of creation is cosmic in origin and therefore all knowledge has a cosmic base. If you seek to know a thing you are seeking a cosmic understanding. Man has assigned a limited understanding to the word knowledge. I AM teaching you that you are cosmic in origin and you must therefore in the interest of your graduation to higher frequency endorse a higher understanding to the word.

Higher knowledge is a necessity for any civilisation to mature and evolve in alignment with Divine Will. Man must direct his efforts to achieving this knowledge. He must chart his course to the discovery of what is needed for a fulfilling life. I can dispense that knowledge to him. I can bestow upon him the knowledge of God in a most intimate way if only he would seek ME. It is through seeking that he will find his truth, the wisdom that comes with knowing ME. I will be the fountain from which he can drink tirelessly that he may come into the knowledge to generate and regenerate an understanding of himself and his journey.

I AM the Source of all knowledge.

I do not offer you experiments or broken puzzles that you must piece together before you come into understanding. I offer you truth, whole hearted, pure and pertinent that your purpose on earth may be clear.

When you taste of Divine knowledge you will forever dwell in the plane of inspiration which allows you to hear the voice of wisdom through your higher mind. The voice of God can be heard within you if you ask and render your mind attune to a frequency un-besmirched by lower frequency. Perseverance is the key.

Remember that the opposite of knowledge is ignorance. Knowledge is light and ignorance is darkness. Yet ignorance has nothing to do with being uneducated in contemporaneous earthly understanding. Ignorance is lack of knowing of the truth by choice or design.

A knowing man can be uneducated in worldly terms but knowledgeable of himself and his Source, wise in his demeanour and conduct and aligned with higher truth.

A knowing man may be impecunious in material wealth but inordinately wealthy spiritually.

A knowing man may be poorly travelled and experienced in the places of your world but is well travelled and coursed in the inner terrain of his god mind.

A knowing man is not curtailed by beliefs but expanded in his search for higher truth.

A knowing man is humble in his knowledge, sharing always what he knows with his fellow men and showing them the way and path to true knowledge.

A knowing man is a wise man; for his knowledge is the beginning of his wisdom. His wisdom becomes his radiance which captures the attention of others who become drawn to that which they search for themselves.

What does it profit a man to derive worldly benefits from intellectual and material pursuits if it fails to bestow upon him inner peace, enduring joy and most importantly knowledge of his true purpose which lies in self discovery? Self discovery is an inner journey that outer experiences prompt.

The knowledge that I offer to you will bring certainty in understanding and provide you with the foundation from which you can grow. I AM not concerned with the physical but with the spiritual for you are first and foremost a spiritual being. Knowledge is your inheritance; your superlative power. Knowledge leads to enlightenment and illumination of your inner self.

Knowledge is the soul's privilege of being birthed by ME. It is the recipe for wisdom which is the charm of your immortal soul. Wisdom is your cushion that enables you to remain in comfort amidst the exigencies of your outer world; for wisdom is the interpreter of the outer experience in keeping with higher understanding. Wisdom is a Divine attribute available to all who seek or possess it and must be used to fashion an existence that is founded on moral fortitude and Divine character.

Your journeys through time and space may be an adventure but there is a specific purpose behind it. You require knowledge to glean what that purpose is. You require knowledge to understand the poetry or your origin and the mechanics of creation. You cannot know why, when or how without knowledge. Only I can give you that knowledge or validate the truth or untruth of what you may believe.

Knowledge is its own comfort. It is serene and restful. It is not blatant or arrogant. It is not condescending of beliefs and cannot be attacked, only questioned. It is rare and original; full of beauty and truth. It cannot be moulded to fit into one's understanding but must be known through Divine encounter as your mind merges with MINE.

Ok please read and study the above and you are free to save it to your computers if desired. The topic of this first thread is not to discuss the above, merely to read it.

This is a world for developing Wisdom and Knowledge. In fact, all worlds including the worlds of "heaven" have that purpose, but these lower worlds have a particular role in that process. Your soul IS your mind beloveds. There are several parts to the soul, but without your mind, you cannot exist. Enough said on that too.

So a major purpose for the entirety of your LIFE ETERNAL will always be to grow your mind. Nobody knows it all, except the Father of the Creation.

This project is thus about spiritual growth. Life IS in the Spirit and your task is growth, always, forever more. This is a wondrous planet to gain a big chunk of growth, especially at this end of this age and as we move into the next age.

The next age, this 4d we are barely in now, is the dimension of dissension. It will lead to the 5th dimensional experience of God Consciousness. 4d is the get off the fence dimension. The internet with connection to home computers is always installed to prepare for it, and I don't think I need to detail why. You all love it and for good reason.

So, now some pointers and rule and regs for this and my future threads. I want you to post those ideas that are your convictions around the particular topic I select and I will open to ideas on what topics you would enjoy.

This is a spiritual growth project, to engage your conscious thinking. I want you to post convictions related to the topics chosen for the thread and write WHY you have come to these conclusions. You may place links,, book titles and the like as part of the process. I will be the moderator. I will mostly ask questions to move the process forward. How I will be will depend on how it goes. I will not tolerate slam dunking rudeness not attacks on others for their convictions. I want all of you to read yours and others convictions and the reasons and do some self pondering.

Now this first topic, since it is fully in your minds and a world changing event, is what are your convictions around the topic of Gaddafi and Libya? I am not giving mine, as I do not want to steer the process in any way, nor do I want you to copy mine. I have some. And perhaps as the thread flows they may or may not come out, but you might get an idea from perhaps questions I might ask. I have no problem if you ones ask each other questions in this thread as long as there is respect.

You may choose not to post and just do this privately but I would love some open postings because such will affect the others and you will all learn from it.

Suggested commentary for this thread: What do you think of Gaddafi and why? Was he murdered, or is this some kind of cover? Did the United states and Nato have a right to enter Libya? Did you understand the goals stated in the media for doing so? How do you feel about the open display of his body on global media? And so on and so forth. Do you See Libya as part of the arab spring/occupy the globe project? And so on and so forth.

I will delete posts that are not relevant to the topic of the thread. Stay on TOPIC. The purpose is NOT judgement here, but a sharing and spiritual process of discovery. Judgmental posts may be removed or confronted by me, if I feel it can serve in some way. The idea is the shared thinking and exchange that can lead to a better understanding, and thus knowledge and wisdom.

Please understand I must also eat and sleep, since I am using a meat body myself, as a tabernacle for my soul and it must be refreshed in order to serve. So I will not be here obviously 24/7 so please respect the purpose when I am not here to moderate. Thankyou, Candace.

It is NOT Rude of me to ask that on this very confused world, that it's citizens stop to think about what they carry around as "truth" that is indeed BLING. It is the time of the blind leading the blind and the internet makes that easy for everyone to get on their soapbox. This is not a bad time, but you must take responsibility for what YOU create, and be careful not to pass on the BLING as "truth." INSPECT everything, thus you can consciously grow your MIND/SOUL.

Immanuel said 2000 years ago: "Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

To Consciously GROW yourself, to have desire for knowledge, is of GOD. It is what makes you in fact, a SON of God. You are to develop your GOD MIND. THAT IS YOUR PURPOSE for YOUR LIFE ETERNAL. ALWAYS the continual Development of FIERY INTELLIGENCE, centered in heart. There is no other way to God KNOWING in fact. BELIEFS are POSTULATIONS, NOT KNOWING.

Remember always the FATHER is WITHIN YOUR MIND and always available thusly to YOU without any intercession from another.

My personal teaching and commentary on GLP may be used freely anywhere. NIP (Candace)

Suggested commentary for this thread:

What do you think of Gaddafi and why?

I can't say I "know" anything for sure. That said, from what I have read, he was well liked by his people. There seems to be many (good) things he did for his people that are NOT covered by our MSM.

Was he murdered, or is this some kind of cover?

Again, don't know for sure. It seems that he is indeed dead. It hit me in the pit of my stomach when I read the news on Drudge.

Did the United states and Nato have a right to enter Libya?

NO EFFFFIN WAY!!!!!!!

Did you understand the goals stated in the media for doing so?

I hear what they say, but don't believe a word of it.

How do you feel about the open display of his body on global media?

Disgusting and barbaric. I have no other words I can use here.

Do you See Libya as part of the arab spring/occupy the globe project?

It seems to be.

How do I feel about putting his body on public display?

I will have to give the majority of the questions much more thought before replying to most, but this one I can unequivocally state. When I read that his body had been transported thru the city on the hood of a car, possibly tortured along the way, and now stored in a meat locker in the city for display...it almost made me physically ill. It exhibited to me the depravity of man. I have a HUGE conviction that cruelty, no matter the circumstances, is a HUGE no no! Being rough is one thing, out and out CRUEL another. "Do unto others the way you would have men do unto you " makes this type of behavior appear as the top, or bottom depending on how you look at it, of the dung heap!

I think he tried to do some good for Libyans, as much as he could given TPTB control of the planet. Perhaps he had some help from off-planet sources!

I cannot watch video's, dial up here, and really have stopped watching propaganda anyway, conscious decision of no tv, so I have not seen the whole propaganda of any current events, only what I read on glp. (2 smiles from me!!)

If he is dead, it is murder, period. TPTB like to make sure to get the "shock & awe factor" going in all the folks they can.

US and NATO had no right at all, either with the "old PTB" laws but especially with all UNIVERSAL laws, they committed Universal crimes.

I think some other leaders in the Middle East/ foreign countries are put on ice and shown to the public, so not a shock to me. The fact that Global media showed it....was it on MSM or Link tv or FSTV? If it was on MSM, I think they did it for the shock value, like on 911. LINK or FSTV would be to report the truth, free speech.

I do not know what you mean by arab/spring occupy project for certain, but I can surmise that TPTB orchestrated it all and will try to use anything they can to their advantage. Just like 911, Iraq, Afghanistan, Japan, Palestine, Lebanon, Pakistan any country they want to control the people of and exploit and steal from.
Divide and conquer.

Gday from down under folks!

Very interesting thread idea NIP and very welcomed for my expression as it has been a difficult time for me to do so, being so isolated!

Right, on the question of the death should be justified and linked to the actions of America and the wings of Nato....

In a world where peace is so tangible as to the right of question, dialogue and discourse, this murder should never have happened.

I have read many words on Mr Gaddafi over the years, long beofre this murderous and social destruction of a soveriegn individual, ranging from Nostramdamean prophecy to the late rambling of the paranoia machine that is the MSM.

KNowing now, on the subject of Soveriegn Nations and those who oppose such freedom and growth, it is a high crime to invade any country, there was no justification really for this at all, once again only a fear campaign.

It saddens me greatly that this world has yet to value dialogue and due course, and that murder and destruction have made so many desensitised to the value of human life.

On the topic of parading the body through the streets, I have attended middle eastern funerals before and they are not pretty, the open casket is carried in my many men, the coffin is opened nefore the mother admist horrendous cries and agony, very disturbing indeed.

Was it this that happened? I do not even watch TV these days, because of all the mixed messages and mind control which forms public opinion. it is sad that so much information is there, but no real knowledge or wisdom at all and the repercussions of attitudes pervades right through the collective, which highlights my point or my conviction that the further desensidising of the masses, allows and fascilitates this kind of thing to happen. In a world about to embrace cosmic life and order, would it be too much to ask for the little changes to commence? I mean the equality for all, the breaking down of misconceptions and misperceptions of the mainly the western world in its attitudes towards our families in the east?

As far as I can ascertain and am obviously convicted on is that the west sees itself as the beacon and could really give a shit about the east. The decade long murder campaigns and the rising algorithms of violence and bloodlust seem only to curtail the desolation of spirit here, and if the west believes they are safe from the very same treatment as the east, it has alot to learn.

Sad day for Libya and the world, when another decent human is killed and defiled for the world to see, an example of extreme disregard for the sanctimony of life.

Brendan.

Hello, and lots of Love to all of you

My Conviction:

Is Muammar Gaddafi dead? No

his body is dead yes, but not him as a Consius beeing.

His Idea is alive and spreading more than ever before. I noticed that a lot more people started to read the "Green Book".

By my standards, the entire Szenarion from the start was/is a ruthless brutal illegal act of war.(to me every war is illegal)

His death was first degree murder, everything else I have no words for.

What i know about Libya is by talking to Libyan people and some fiends of mine who went there, plus i have read the Green Book quite some time ago, plus listening to his speeches. All this happend way before the War started.

What the BBB&G trying to do, is wipe out everyone and every country that is not playing along with their Agenda.

What did it teach me?

No need to be afraid. Beeing in the knowledge that the vehicle is not to be equated with the driver, i can stay calm and continu spreading GOD's Truth.

So therefor i state: No, Muammar Gaddafi is not dead.

GOD BLESS 🍷🌸

I would like to know why you consider all of them dictators? We are a dictatorship in this country. We do not choose who becomes president, or even who runs for president in the first place. What is the difference?

And why is it the Khazar responsibility to remove the leaders of other countries, no matter how they go there? These things need discussing to come at the truth of the matter and to chart the future, which must come from knowing man.

Is it possible there are benevolent dictators who come into power because they see the terrible plight of the people? all things for discussion as we look back.

Have the powers that be, removed any leaders from Brazil, I cannot remember.

a.) What do you think of Gaddafi and why? I think Qaddafi a reverent man of light, and bless his passing over into it. He is the epitome, of that which stood against, the Caliphate, as well as the Khazar's, in these times. his quote Africa is for Africans. touched me so deeply I'm in tears. the Green book is a work of pure genius, for running a society, of (HUmans) The under ground river project, housing for his people, free medical, and free education at university levels, (that better than here in the USA) he did these things, and without the vampires money. I should hope to accomplish as much, and I thank ATON for this one. b.) Was he murdered, or is this some kind of cover. Idk. I guess I had hoped the Angels would keep him safe from harm,or upgrade him dimension-ally, but idk, is death even real period? c.) Did the United states and Nato have a right to enter Libya? Of course not, this is a pillage strategy (is it not the Wolves, claiming too Save the sheep from the Shepherd) d.) Did you understand the goals stated in the media for doing so?

(something like) To protect the people from the tyrannical actions of an insane dictator! I heard what they said, but even after research I couldn't validate, the claims, by zato. e.) How do you feel about the open display of his body on global media? Does the Geneva convention mean anything? An obvious move to deter the spirit of the locals, as well as an overt display of a demented psychology by the aggressors. Remembering the crusades: Sala'hadin's, treatment of the temple rs, was in knowing, of light, even though he was a warrior. f.) Do you See Libya as part of the arab spring/occupy the globe project? idk. I thought the Arab spring was the fall of the Caliphate, i don't know what occupy the globe is about. there are some strange minions within the USA factions. Personally i think the group should stand behind there one common denominater, that being God and the freedoms he gave us to expound on!

I think that showing his body and the parading around with it in celebration is a bit drastic. I understand some people might be happy about it, or whatever.. so just be happy or something. But it almost makes them just no different than he apparently was at that point.

To be honest I don't know much about him besides a number of bad things I've heard here and there. Anyway, I never know what to trust that I hear. Whether or not the United states and Nato have a right to enter Libya seems kind of complicated.. yes and no or no and yes. It's probably not always easy to make those calls..

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1141024

how do you truly know anyone suffered because of him? I ask this question because of contacts I have that say a different story about him. I am asking all to look closely at what was put on the web and TV about him as part of this. There are libyan websites that tell a different story but I don't read the language.

I might be able to get some links perhaps, or if any of you can to blogs or websites that support him, would perhaps be helpful in coming to understand the man and what was played out there.

there are ALWAYS 2 sides to every story. It is important in coming to convictions to get the other side where possible. Often there are many sides and it takes effort to get a fuller version.

It is important in the use of convictions or beliefs that lead to them to be as informed as possible, because if one accepts the status quo off the TV set, say, then one passes around the conviction which is false which then causes those who listen to often carry the same conviction and a huge lie becomes as truth to a large number of people.

something to consider on this thread today when you study your convictions. this is pretty well known stuff. Thread: The Real Reason Why Gaddafi Was Killed & Why We're In Libya \(Page 4\)

I would ask that ones that believe all dictatorships are "bad", look at this as part of building their paradigm about dictatorships.

16 FACTS THAT CANT BE DENIED

1. There is no electricity bill in Libya; electricity is free for all its citizens.
2. There is no interest on loans, banks in Libya are state-owned and loans given to all its citizens at 0% interest by law.
3. Home considered a human right in Libya – Gaddafi vowed that his parents would not get a house until everyone in Libya had a home. Gaddafi's father has died while him, his wife and his mother are still living in a tent.

4. All newlyweds in Libya receive $60,000 Dinar (US$ 50,000) by the government to buy their first apartment so to help start up the family.

5. Education and medical treatments are free in Libya. Before Gaddafi only 25% of Libyans are literate. Today the figure is 83%.

6. Should Libyans want to take up farming career, they would receive farming land, a farming house, equipments, seeds and livestock to kick- start their farms – all for free.

7. If Libyans cannot find the education or medical facilities they need in Libya, the government funds them to go abroad for it – not only free but they get US $2, 300/mth accommodation and car allowance.

8. In Libyan, if a Libyan buys a car, the government subsidized 50% of the price.

9. The price of petrol in Libya is $0. 14 per liter.

10. Libya has no external debt and its reserves amount to $150 billion – now frozen globally.

11. If a Libyan is unable to get employment after graduation the state would pay the average salary of the profession as if he or she is employed until employment is found.

12. A portion of Libyan oil sale is, credited directly to the bank accounts of all Libyan citizens.

13. A mother who gave birth to a child receive US $5 ,000

14. 40 loaves of bread in Libya costs $ 0.15

15. 25% of Libyans have a university degree

16. Gaddafi carried out the world's largest irrigation project, known as the Great Man-Made River project, to make water readily available throughout the desert country.

I mean.. it's gotta be a lot different for the people that have actually directly suffered or something because of him. So maybe a celebration doesn't seem so bad..

how do you truly know anyone suffered because of him?

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I don't know for sure, but people that live there do.. I can't really say besides it can't be all good things coming from him.. that wouldn't make any sense. And lots of things probably go on that I wouldn't even want to know about. Not saying that it did for sure or anything.

Dear People of this world,
what is going on right now, we are in the 7 day of the 9. wave, great changes, all over,
I feel the vertigo of the quakes, my stomachs feels like ...? or is it the senseless murdering going on all over?
of all that it what?
We all live on the same star ship ... which travels around the sun within our universe within uncountable of universes endless
WHO in their right mind won't want to poison the food or water on your star ship, if you have no option all of this is so mad so ... without vision for tomorrow ... I do live in my heart, for me ... but, I do care, about all my brothers and sisters on this beautiful starship, name it terra, gaia, gaya, mother earth.
Dear People wake up, occupy your heart and open up for all there is, what mother has to offer you

I thank you all,
may you be blessed and trust in all that is, always was and will be,
be blessed and stay safe

I think the star Fleet is capable to protect this Light man, but Gaddafi may chose to die with a great purpose: to wake up the world. I assume he is currently working from the "above".

You know, this is not right, You don't know who I'm and where I have been and what I have gone through, to say I'm a new ager, that is your believe and I let it go by that :-) I Believe in CM and Star fleet, because I'm one of them, and to say I'm today and that is what I'm am, is not for you to judge I leave it up to Papa, I belong to no religion or church and all of it has to do with life on earth ... all of it of course I spend Time studying, and to say your words, I'm not a new ager, believe it or not, but I do read your side as well as I study the old maya's, I've been around, working on different continent, and living with different ethnic people, I know what I'm writing about, why do do always talk about the wave, when now you write about it as NEW AGE STUFF. You know, Candace, let people be of free will, and let them have their own time, you are not the only one who has contact to starfleet, I'm Starseed as well as so many, what in the name of this world is your problem??

Don't you see all the changes in this world?

Or do mainstream media don't get it all to the good Us A?

Living today, being in my center, in my heart, don't mean, I don't see a better tomorrow? I'm thankful for being here at this time, it was my own free will, so that all that will never happen again. Peace on Earth and free will to Hu-Man-Kind and may God bless you

I disagree

I think the main thrust of this thread is to inspire a self analysis of individual perceptions of what Gaddafi and Libya is all about.

Most people rely on mainstream media news... some believe this 'information' is trustworthy. I personally do not ever trust a word msm says or presents in its so called 'news' reports.

I have not yet read the 'green book' I will remedy that.

It is clear that Libya has seemingly been conquered by the West... something that speaks volumes to me on many levels, including Oil and Gold.

I have unfortunately never experienced Libya first hand but I have discovered facts as outlined by NIP plus the issue that there was? no Rothschild owned Libyan central bank influencing the currency of this most independent state.

I am very aware that all our msm presentations are fabricated especially those involving middle eastern countries so it is very possible that the majority of the people of Libya did not hate their 'dictator'

It is this perceived hatred on our msm that I wish to clear up, if any one can enlighten me with a link?... thank you

Finally the way in which this man was murdered and his beaten body displayed throughout the worlds press has been sickening and despicable.

Far too convenient for him to be assassinated (just as with Osama Bin laden) than to bring the man to trial so we can all see what he was responsible for...

So many clues indicating a very smelly brood of rats.

Hello, and lots of Love to all of you

My Conviction:

Is Muammar Gaddafi dead? No

his body is dead yes, but not him as a Consius beeing.

His Idea is alive and spreading more than ever before. I noticed that a lot more people started to read the "Green Book".

By my standards, the entire Szenarion from the start was/is a ruthless brutal illegal act of war.(to me every war is illegal)

His death was first degree murder, everything else I have no words for.

What i know about Libya is by talking to Libyan people and some fiends of mine who went there, plus i have read the Green Book quite some time ago, plus listening to his speeches. All this happend way before the War started.

What the BBB&G trying to do, is wipe out everyone and every country that is not playing along with their Agenda.

What did it teach me?

No need to be afraid. Beeing in the knowledge that the vehicle is not to be equated with the driver, i can stay calm and continu spreading GOD's Truth.

So therefor i state: No, Muammar Gaddafi is not dead.

GOD BLESS

How much has the life style of the libyan people changed? It seems to have been reduced greatly. Where is the benefit for them?

Hello NIP, hello everybody,

I was called away all of a sudden and so i did not have time for the explanation of my statement made above.

I would like to do that now.

Underneath are just a few Websites where one can read about Libya.

Just to show that good sources can be found.

I also like to go on "Extreme-Traveling" Blogs. I've been doing this for some years. Extreme Travelers have a much better point of view than normal Tourists. Another good source are University-Blogs. (we had quite a few Students from Libya at Heidelberg University, Germany)

[\[link to www.greencharter.com\]](http://www.greencharter.com) about the Green Book and more

Muammars Testamentary writings from April, please use Translator

[\[link to www.fettgusche.net\]](http://www.fettgusche.net)

Aisha Gaddafi's Interview with English Newspaper in 2010 about Life in Libya (Article is in German, need translator)

www.wuestenschiff.de/phpbb/viewtopic.php

In 2010 UN gave Libya the A-HRC-16-15 for having such high standards, living up to the Human Rights Charta.

Explanation for my above statement.

I must admit when the News went wild about Muammar's death, i did not want to believe it. I should have known better, but i simply did not want for this to be true.

I was meditating when it happened, although i had no knowledge about it at that time, i was wondering why my heart started hurting, it felt like i am having a stroke and a very deep and never before felt sadness, just swept me away.

After checking with my Family and Friends, to make sure everyone was OK i went on the Internet, because i thought there must have been some Mayor Event happened somewhere.

News all over the place....

When it was confirmed by Nip through Esu the next day, I was really in shock and it took me till Sunday to get back to my senses.

Why was i hurt so badly?

Being a long time Fan of Muammar, knowing that he was one of the few living up to his word,(i always felt that he was God send) i thought this cruel happening could mean even a bigger downfall for humanity.

Because everybody can see how wrong this was/is.
I am still angry!!

Getting a hold onto myself and meditating i started to look at it differently.
What if this "ending" was his own decision?
What if this is meant to be a big "WAKE UP" call?
What does it mean to be "alive"?
Are we the vehicle or the driver?
Where is ones trust towards ones Self, the inner "God-being"?
How come i got so easily swept away by grief and sadness?
Who am i?
Would i stand in my shoes when "push comes to shove"?

Pondering: "What is it that i need to know", made me write down the last part of my statement.

"No need to be afraid. Being in the knowledge that the vehicle is not to be equated with the driver, i can stay calm and continue spreading GOD's Truth.
So therefor i state: No, Muammar Gaddafi is not dead."

This is a great opportunity to change for the better.
If we, all of us, continue to spread the truth and let the world know what really happened in Libya and why, if we keep spreading truth, then awakened Souls like Muammar and their good and righteous doings, will not be forgotten. It is up to us the People, whether he is "alive" or "dead".
Whether we all come to Life or silently disappear into complete ignorance.

Lots of Love to all of you

Quoting: jolo 3838368

Hello jolo,

no, Muammar was not hated by his people.
It is true that he came a long way, but it should be also clear that when he found his path, he did everything possible to bring sovereignty, freedom, knowledge and peace to Libya.
He was catching fire for wanting to change how the Kuran was interpreted. He believed that God is Love and we are all Godly Beeings. That is one reason why he changed "sharia-law" to be less brutal, to be almost absent...sadly he was not able to finish this.
Of course there were young people who wanted changes to happen faster, but Muammar believed that changes have to come slowly so people can get used to and understand why and what for, some things has to be changed. He never forced anything on his People, but his way of thinking and introducing ideas were always highly respected by the Libyan Nation. You could call him a "Free-Thinker".

Again it is always how one looks at something.

Take Freedom for instance. Does it mean naked woman/man have to stear you in the eye from the Cover of a Magazin while walking your kids to Kindergarten or Shool?

Or does it give you the right to throw your trash on the street?

Or is it rather living a souveraighn and selfresponsible Life?

Hi Nip,

the tent is the original housing of nomads, Libyans used to be nomads. Some tribes still are.

Also a way of saying: All the possession one needs to have in order to live a good and joyfull life, can fit in a tent.

Muammar was not the "possession type" his "Palace" was used for official gathering with foreign Diplomates and the monthly gathering with the Libyans.

He always prevered living in his tent, which he actually did.

Gday all!

And it is great to see this thread growing rapidly!

I see now that it is safe to use Candance NIP, I waited along while until it was used by yourself to see that it ia ok and your not a threat or some I hope dear beloved.

Today I would like to comment briefly on the goodness of leadership that does not need expensive homes, castles or to rule by might in order to function as said leadership.

Few years back I was working for an Arabic family, and had a small bit of prior knowledge of the leadership there. The governing body gave its service free to the country, and STRANGELY enough, this man was blown up in a car bombing incident. I wonder sacrastically whom this could have been? Now this country is run by this mans son, also free of charge.

Anyone see the pattern here? Gaddafhi lived well below his means, in a country where he could have ruled as king such was his might and influence. However he chose to remain humble and true to his ideals which made the great nation of Libya strong.

I am forming new convictions regarding the new civilisation here to come, and now know what is truly needed here. The humbleness of character, virtue, honour and respect should be pre requisites for this age. I submit myself, my will to CM and all in service only, for I have all of eternity to do so.

I have written/channelled some laws which I need to type up for others to read and discuss, not at all being some kind of superbeing or overlord as I am aware of how this sounds, but I would like to at least see what you all think and feel of these, as alot pertains to the things that will never be allowed have happen here again.

I couldnt stop writing for hours last night and felt very good after doing so!

So its off to bed for me folks, but I will say lastly for now, courage is not throwing yourself aimlessly into a fight, without the knowledge of the foe or what upper hand they may seem to have. Knowledge will teach you the approach and the effectiveness of ones actions, before you even put it into practice.

That is what we are achieving here now, nes't par?

something to consider on this thread today when you study your convictions. this is pretty well known stuff. Thread: The Real Reason Why Gaddafi Was Killed & Why We're In Libya \(Page 4\)

I would ask that ones that believe all dictatorships are "bad", look at this as part of building their paradigm about dictatorships.

16 FACTS THAT CANT BE DENIED

1. There is no electricity bill in Libya; electricity is free for all its citizens.
2. There is no interest on loans, banks in Libya are state-owned and loans given to all its citizens at 0% interest by law.
3. Home considered a human right in Libya – Gaddafi vowed that his parents would not get a house until everyone in Libya had a home. Gaddafi's father has died while him, his wife and his mother are still living in a tent.
4. All newlyweds in Libya receive $60,000 Dinar (US$ 50,000) by the government to buy their first apartment so to help start up the family.
5. Education and medical treatments are free in Libya. Before Gaddafi only 25% of Libyans are literate. Today the figure is 83%.
6. Should Libyans want to take up farming career, they would receive farming land, a farming house, equipments, seeds and livestock to kick- start their farms – all for free.

7. If Libyans cannot find the education or medical facilities they need in Libya, the government funds them to go abroad for it – not only free but they get US $2, 300/mth accommodation and car allowance.
8. In Libyan, if a Libyan buys a car, the government subsidized 50% of the price.
9. The price of petrol in Libya is $0. 14 per liter.
10. Libya has no external debt and its reserves amount to $150 billion – now frozen globally.
11. If a Libyan is unable to get employment after graduation the state would pay the average salary of the profession as if he or she is employed until employment is found.
12. A portion of Libyan oil sale is, credited directly to the bank accounts of all Libyan citizens.
13. A mother who gave birth to a child receive US $5 ,000
14. 40 loaves of bread in Libya costs $ 0.15
15. 25% of Libyans have a university degree
16. Gaddafi carried out the world's largest irrigation project, known as the Great Man-Made River project, to make water readily available throughout the desert country.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

If a man can do these for his citizen I don't think he is dictator, regardless of how long he is on the throne. Look how often we change the President and what can they do for the country. If he was a real dictator I don't think he died that easy.

Still wonder why God didn't save him; It's a waste to die, he is a good tool to fight the Dark. Wonder if it's because he didn't call God for help?

Gday all!

And it is great to see this thread growing rapidly!

I see now that it is safe to use Candance NIP, I waited along while until it was used by yourself to see that it ia ok and your not a threat or some I hope dear beloved.

Today I would like to comment briefly on the goodness of leadership that does not need expensive homes, castles or to rule by might in order to function as said leadership.

Few years back I was working for an Arabic family, and had a small bit of prior knowledge of the leadership there. The governing body gave its service free to the country, and STRANGELY enough, this man was blown up in a car bombing incident. I wonder sacrastrically whom this could have been? Now this country is run by this mans son, also free of charge.

Anyone see the pattern here? Gaddafi lived well below his means, in a country where he could have ruled as king such was his might and influence. However he chose to remain humble and true to his ideals which made the great nation of Libya strong.

was Gaddafi hated so much by his people? if so then why?

Quoting: jolo 3838368

Hello jolo,

no, Muammar was not hated by his people.

It is true that he came a long way, but it should be also clear that when he found his path, he did everything possible to bring sovereignty, freedom, knowledge and peace to Libya.

He was catching fire for wanting to change how the Kuran was interpreted. He believed that God is Love and we are all Godly Beeings. That is one reason why he changed "sharia-law" to be less brutal, to be almost absent...sadly he was not able to finish this.

Of course there were young people who wanted changes to happen faster, but Muammar believed that changes have to come slowly so people can get used to and understand why and what for, some things has to be changed. He never forced anything on his People, but his way of thinking and introducing ideas were always highly respected by the Libyan Nation. You could call him a "Free-Thinker".

Again it is always how one looks at something.

Take Freedom for instance. Does it mean naked woman/man have to stear you in the eye from the Cover of a Magazin while walking your kids to Kindergarten or Shool?

Or does it give you the right to throw your trash on the street?

Or is it rather living a souveraighn and selfresponsible Life?

GOD BLESS

Quoting: firmament

Thanks Firmament,

having spent some time today actually researching the alternative view of Gaddafi I am not that surprised, as I well know how we are all lied to by our daily dose of propaganda.

I suspected the West had a vendetta against Gaddafi when Lockerbie happened.. I wasn't quite as savvy on global tyranny then but my instincts told me there was something wrong with the story. I remember seeing footage of a Lockerbie victims father stating that it was still very doubtful that Libya were involved, no real proof.

Today I did come across the wikipedia clip that points out that although Gaddafi implemented a milder form of Sharia law he still left restrictions for women i.e. not able to vote or to take part in a criminal investigation which is always disappointing.

Our western society is debauched and most definitely lost within a mire of criminal activity and unethical behaviour, if Gaddafi was truly the humble and unique leader as portrayed in the alternative media i.e everyone else apart for corporate media, I am saddened deeply but also this tragedy has brought our attention to the man and the country that has now been invaded by the west using nato... many will take the time to find the truth... the powers that were have set themselves up again, for exposure.

The above is (almost>true, but you have to understand what it means to change Muslim tradition. I am sure he was about to change that also, because he made sure that women could take their husbands to court if they been abused or abused by them.

If you read the Green Book, you will understand a lot better.

Another great help is studying Muslim Tradition, that way you understand how much inspired he must have been to go change traditions over a thousand years old, that have never been changed before.

I would like to comment here that it takes a LONG time for people to grow enough wisdom to allow change in their belief systems and cultural customs. That is why I have my signature file below, because only each one can take a journey to knowledge for themselves and there is always huge cultural pressure against change.

If you have convictions around Libya and Gaddafi, now is the time to look at the convictions if even only a few minutes. Once you are satisfied with those convictions then for YOU its time to move on. That is the purpose of this though, because if people who have followed the Libyan issues and have convictions about them, this is a world changing event, which is WHY I chose it for this first thread on the topic, and they MUST look at those convictions and the source of them, or its going to come back to them in some way.

Those whose conviction are that muslims are to be eliminated from the earth and that their leader is a creep and dark person, and have not made a proper inspection but merely brought the TV story, or are "Christians" and who are still under the belief system they have that muslims are ignorant of god and evil, these ones are going to yet pay a rather huge price.

It becomes always important to examine where convictions come from and this is hugely a muslim issue here, confronting christians and also in my country people who have bought the story on TV and carry fear and hatred of the muslim and fear and hatred of this leader who had NOTHING to do with with Lockerbie and was framed, are going to have further confrontations in their soul growth and will likely not be candidates for continuing with this planet, for that that continue are learning and MUST learn discernment, the actual act of seeking truth and looking at all sides of an issue. those not ready to do that are not candidates to remain on this planet. For the will not choose to look in all areas. That is the purpose in fact of fleet "allowing" the free will of man, because the soul must be challenged to grow.

If you had an interest in the story and have processed it satisfactorily you can drop it for yourself but if you are dropping it simply because it's old news, and no longer valid you could yourself have something else coming to you. That is why all who had an interest must look at the whole thing as best as can be found of material to look at. That is the value of a forum such as this, in which many ideas around a topic are expressed. And perhaps a different story will emerge on the internet.

Libya is going to remain a pressing problem because a country was destroyed, it was allowed by the people who had Nato troops there.

This man was a star seed and likely a christ. And the world has allowed yet another christ to be killed and a country to be destroyed which had grown so much under this man. Now that this is a global world and most have internet and TV access, it cannot be said that people did not know what was going on.

I remember back in the 60's and 70's that it was much harder to know what was going on in the world. Even with TV which most had. Before tv there was radio and the radio was not so bad, because people had to listen up. There were no pictures.

I discovered a couple years or more ago, when I was reviewing some history of Israel since ww2 that I was the ripe old age of 8 when one of those major skirmishes was going on there. And I listened to that on the radio. I did not have my own, and my parents had no interest really in any of the stuff and I had to listen while sitting behind my fathers chair where the large radio was, it had the record player in it too, to it very quietly if my parents were home, they did not want to be disturbed, but listen I did. I turned 8 in 1955, and right now I can't recall if this war that happened was in 1955 or 1956, 1956 sounds more likely and we had no tv yet in my small town. and even if we did, not sure when it came to us, my early teens when my family got one, but I know the coverage was not what the radio carried. we also had new reel films at the movies which brought some news, but I am quite sure it was corrupted. I can't guarantee what came across the radio was not corrupted either, its has been so long.

There are world changing events and nationally changing events. and local changing event to the paradigms people hold. Libya will be a western countris changing event. It already is, as has been all the desposed folks iin the middle east.

Saddam was loved by most of his people. He was still alive in 2007, I don't know if he currently still walks the planet, as a committee of 300 member or not. The past however must be studied for growth and learning.

It is not always right to just drop a topic as finished because of more pressing things. The more pressing things could very well be removals of supposed dictators.

God does not care if a country has a dictator or not. What is important is what the leadership has done for the country. Some so called dictators have been very visionary people and have taken reign from the thugs and done was is right.

People think they are free in my country and I have never felt one "free day" in my life in the United states. I am not going to detail that, but maybe that will be a topic as part of this project. world and local major events must be accessed by the people. Libya is not over, maybe for you, but it's not over.

I need to be choosing today my next topic today.

Hello NIP. I agree with you. Those living in countries that contributed to Gaddafi's death and destruction of Lybia need to examine their convictions, including myself. I am still mourning the death of Gaddafi, the destruction of Lybia and not sure where to go with that. So, thank you for the opportunity to share some of my experience. My initial reaction to this life changing/Earth changing event was shock. I had been routing for Gaddafi and his peoples ever since I became aware of the lies and disinformaiton intentionally put out by the controlling elite and their Mainstream Media, last couple of years or so. And that was introduced to me by way of the Abundant Hope webiste and links to other alternative websites that wish to share the Truth or at least offer different perspectives from the MM.

Oh, and while it is still fresh, NIP, when I read your statement about never feeling free in your life, my heart opened. Literally. I felt the Truth of that. I thought there were some times in my life when I felt free. And, perhaps at that time, it did come close to my perception of freedom. Today, after processing the writings on this subject on GLP, reading some of AH's posts and ALLOWING myself to feel deeply about the issue of Gaddafi and, well, I must admit, I have never felt TRUE freedom. Ever. And, as i write, I am deeply saddened by that truth. For even my perception of Freedom has been a lie. I DO HAVE A LOT OF INNER WORK TO DO!

I write as I weep. And as I weep, I become angry because I am reminded of a death of who I perceive to be a Great Man. A man whom I have never met, in the physical, yet upon hearing the news of his death, I pause in shock and imediately begin to sob, DEEPLY. From my heart, I feel this huge release of pressure in waves move throughout my body, and I tremble. I recongnize I need to allow it. I am not only shocked by the news; I am shocked by MY reaction. Where is this coming from? It is so deep and raw. I have experienced that before with those few very close to me including humans, animals, trees, nature, Mother Earth, feeling Spirit deeply. But, a man. A man I don't know. And only know thru the news! WOW. WOW. WOW.

And that's all I could say while I was emoting. And the longer I allowed myself to emote, and breath, [I wouldn't of been able to process the emotions unless I did some deep and rythmic breathing with each strong wave of emotion], the more I became receptive to some interesting ideas. And, naturally, I questined them as they began to move through my conscious and my body. It seemed that with each strong emotion there was a corresponding wave or flow of experience of each idea. When I questioned where this deep emotional response came from I got that some of it was mine and some of it was of others who knew the truth or at least enough of the Truth about this man and his mission. When I questioned the overwhelming sadness coming from my heart, I heard that my Soul and those of others who are Divinely aligned with the Truth, ARE KNOWN to each other, consciously. Gaddafi is my brother. He is family. The family of Light. We are all connected. Yea, a few more WOWs! And then I got that I not only was feeling the sadness of the others who knew the Truth, I also felt the Truth of WHAT WILL COME, at anytime, to any of us not only here in the United States, but anywhere on this planet if we continue to allow the controlling elite to follow through with there NWO mission. It became very clear to me that Gaddafi became the symbol and the act of a force that is willing to kill, mame, starve anything or anyone on all levels to get what they want. And that includes me. Yea, some bigger WOWS.

Through this multi level experience as I continue to process, daily, and sometimes several times a day, I weep for the loss of my brother, a man whom I've not met, yet know intimately from the heart; I weep for the trauma inflicted on to a whole nation of peoples; I weep for the peoples from other nations and countries in the past who have suffered same. I weep for Mother Earth. I weep for all life on this still beautiful planet.

And then, I remember to pray. And when I remember to pray, and to center and ground myself in Light, Love and Truth, I remember who I am. I AM Light. I AM Truth. I AM Love. I am One with All that is. And then I remember what it FEELS like to be One with the All that is. My heart opens. My mind opens and together I feel thankful and grateful to be who I am. And, yes, when I am thankful and grateful I know and feel the Light, Love, Truth streaming from my heart, mind and soul experienced with every aspect of my being. Embracing every aspect of my being with the Truth of what that is and FEELS like. And I become, strong and clear and grounded with the Light, and know I am ready for anything. And, when I am ready for anything is when I become clear about what my spritual convictions are.

When I remembered to consciously align in this way, takes about an hour in the morning, I am ready to follow through with my convictions. Most recetly, with this global event, I have agreed on a much deeper level to follow through with my Mission Statement, on the AH forum. I have progressed quite nicely and now more clearly inspired and motivated to continue mission by this very personal and enlightening global experience. Discovering the Truth within. Yep, that's the way to go.

Thank you again for allowing me to utilize this space for what I consider a work in progress. Perhaps others will be inspired in their own way to seek their Truth. Sorry for the rambling and redundancy and typos. Be well.

Just think about it...African countries and the Arabic world at War with each other...we can not let this happen.

I always thought that the Internet was a great chance, for people from all around the world to unite. A great chance to overcome our misinformed selves, when it comes to subjects like racism, believe-systems, politics etc. or simply how one views the world.

A place were relevant Problems could be discussed and solutions found, realizing we are all sitting in the same boat.

Sad but it often seems like only "loners" roaming the world wide web.

Here, on threads like this one, we have the opportunity to find true and righteous information....which could be put to use in our daily living, by action taken to unite what was divided.

One may call me naive, but i still think it can be done. All we need is God in our hearts and a little courage helping us, to keep our "Backbone" straight.

I do not fear to stand up for what is right, i fear what may show its face if i don't.

Dear NIP:

As I am not a citizen of an English speaking country, I sometimes have some difficulty in understanding what you say, pardon me, it must be my fault.

If you're asking about the repercussion of Muammar Gaddafi's death in Brazil, the only thing I can say to you is that the news sources we have here are the same as yours: CNN, Reuters, BBC, NYT, UPI, AFP and so on.

I am an attentive news follower since my youth and only recently I have been reading "alternative" news sources.

As a common man, I have no privileged sources of information so what I know about ancient and modern history is what the common man has access to.

I personally have nothing pro or against Muammar Gaddafi and became amazed to see the attention he is receiving in your forum.

So I ask you: why?

Quoting: Tiago63

I don't have the power no, but I know how it works and rules around an ascending planetary mother and thus can make that statement as teaching. All of the creation is governed and there are those that do make that decision. People have guardian angels once they reach a certain soul growth level, who do make those decisions for them until they are "free souls." It is also a law of nature, because energies cannot exist at certain points of development. These peoples MINDS are not ready for what this planet is going to experience and for the expanded dimensional consciousness that is rising 4d and the coming of 5d.

People that still need to murder the christed ones and their bloodlines on this planet are not candidates to continue here. Such is what happened to Gaddafi which is one reason I chose this as the first topic.

Those that love war, enjoy greed and materialism will be moving. As to the souls of earth, they must have resolved at least 51% of their karma to continue here. There will be about 1 billion of those. And that has been granted at that low a level because as a special grace.

Good Morning Tiago63, may I give you my point of view?

How can anyone continue here on earth, without a physical body? Not being seen, or heard by the people?

To be invisible was not even Christ's choice. He had to have a body too, in order to operate. This world is dense, therefor we see only density, very few can see the lighter beings.

That brings us to the question, what is it that needs to be done?

Are we going to sit down and wait, for whatever? Or are we going to keep on letting people know about what is going on, so they can see and learn not to be mislead so easily again?

In order for anyone to make a decision, one has to be in the knowing first.

Don't you think so?

GOD BLESS 🍷🌸

Hi firmament!

Your opinions are welcome.

In my understanding there are millions of Celestial Beings working with our planet full-time, non-stop, 24/7, even though they have no physical bodies. These Beings incarnate in a physical body when they see the need to do so.

As to what we need to do, in times of great unrest like the ones we are living in, the best thing to do in my opinion is to hear our Inner Voice that is always present and will never let us down.

God be with you.

Hi Tiago63,

i am very happy about your responds. By the way, did you noticed?; you just answered your own question.

Incarnation...thats the point. Until then, in my opinion,we are being asked to carry on with what incarnated Starseed or Celestials started, for the benefit of all. Until i guess, we realize that we can do it too, by being who and what we really are.

I remember CM saying once, that he will provide us with all the backup & knowledge we need, but that we are the ones which have to do the clean up of our mess.

Hi guys,

Hi Tiago63 welcome to the thread.

There are inded works going on 24/7, and many wonderous things indeed are in manifestation.

Perhaps I could invite you to have a squiz at the Urantia Book, and more specifically the understanding of Morontia appearences and etheric forms. I myself am still getting my head around it so to speak, but it does explain the use of bodies in different densities.

Also another way of putting it is this.

Matter is merely energy condensed to a slow form or a slower vibration, Earth is on its way up in vibrations and has been in one of the densest dimensions for some time.

As we rise in vibration our forms or bodies become less dense, still having form to some respect, depending of course on ones choices and evolution. For example, the ones of Anromeda are purely etherial or wispy like which is of my recollection, however soon, we will have a third and fourth dimensional aspect to this area as it is colonised, and I do believe we will have teams going there in our current form?!

I hope this helps and hope all are well at this time.

Still recovering from from hayfever,

Be back writing soon, the advantage of these internet forums is you can make your statements without the censor of people at work and in your other social situations with people. It still takes some courage to post on forums too, and something for some of you to work on.

A forum is a place perhaps to Practice speaking your convictions, free of dirty looks around you and a way to explore how you might show the way of your convictions in your other social situations. you can learn to ask questions in a gentle way, or hit them straight on, as different situation require different actions. There are social situations where you must listen within and shut up too for there might be danger involved or you have to eat and can't lose a job over it. Its quite a dance on this planet.

I went to google images to research for younger pics of gaddafi as many people have made their convictions based on the looks of the man. Here in an article with an image of him from 1971. He certainly didn't age "gracefully". his face seems to reflect a difficult life. He at sometime got quite a scare on the left side of his mouth, which as he aged, and it being close to the "smile" lines did not help him. [link to news.bbc.co.uk] I did not read this article, I posted simply for the image. He seems a much better looking fellow 40 years ago.

For those that saw him as evil because of his face, this is a good lesson not to judge by looks. Life has been difficult for him I am sure. I would think especially since he was framed for lockerbie.

Hello NIP. I agree with you. Those living in countries that contributed to Gaddafi's death and destruction of Lybia need to examine their convictions, including myself. I am still mourning the death of Gaddafi, the destruction of Lybia and not sure where to go with that. So, thank you for the opportunity to share some of my experience. My initial reaction to this life changing/Earth changing event was shock. I had been routing for Gaddafi and his peoples ever since I became aware of the lies and disinformaiton intentionally put out by the controlling elite and their Mainstream Media, last couple of years or so. And that was introduced to me by way of the Abundant Hope webiste and links to other alternative websites that wish to share the Truth or at least offer different perspectives from the MM.

Oh, and while it is still fresh, NIP, when I read your statement about never feeling free in your life, my heart opened. Literally. I felt the Truth of that. I thought there were some times in my life when I felt free. And, perhaps at that time, it did come close to my perception of freedom. Today, after processing the writings on this subject on GLP, reading some of AH's posts and ALLOWING myself to feel deeply about the issue of Gaddafi and, well, I must admit, I have never felt TRUE freedom. Ever. And, as i write, I am deeply saddened by that truth. For even my perception of Freedom has been a lie. I DO HAVE A LOT OF INNER WORK TO DO!

I write as I weep. And as I weep, I become angry because I am reminded of a death of who I perceive to be a Great Man. A man whom I have never met, in the physical, yet upon hearing the news of his death, I pause in shock and imediately begin to sob, DEEPLY. From my heart, I feel this huge release of pressure in waves move throughout my body, and I tremble. I recongnize I need to allow it. I am not only shocked by the news; I am shocked by MY reaction. Where is this coming from? It is so deep and raw. I have experienced that before with those few very close to me including humans, animals, trees, nature, Mother Earth, feeling Spirit deeply. But, a man. A man I don't know. And only know thru the news! WOW. WOW. WOW.

And that's all I could say while I was emoting. And the longer I allowed myself to emote, and breath, [I wouldn't of been able to process the emotions unless I did some deep and rythmic breathing with each strong wave of emotion], the more I became receptive to some interesting ideas. And, naturally, I questined them as they began to move through my conscious and my body. It seemed that with each strong emotion there was a corresponding wave or flow of experience of each idea. When I questioned where this deep emotional response came from I got that some of it was mine and some of it was of others who knew the truth or at least enough of the Truth about this man and his mission. When I questioned the overwhelming sadness coming from my heart, I heard that my Soul and those of others who are Divinely aligned with the Truth, ARE KNOWN to each other, consciously. Gaddafi is my brother. He is family. The family of Light. We are all connected. Yea, afew more WOWs! And then I got that I not only was feeling the saddness of the others who knew the Truth, I also felt the Truth of WHAT WILL COME, at anytime, to any of us not only here in the United States, but anywhere on this planet if we continue to allow the controlling elite to follow through with there NWO mission. It became very clear to me that Gaddafi became the symbol and the act of a force that is willing to kill, mame, starve anything or anyone on all levels to get what they want. And that includes me. Yea, some bigger WOWS.

Through this multi level experience as I continue to process, daily, and sometimes several times a day, I weep for the loss of my brother, a man whom I've not met, yet know intimately from the heart; I weep for the trauma inflicted on to a whole nation of peoples; I weep for the peoples from other nations and countries in the past who have suffered same. I weep for Mother Earth. I weep for all life on this still beautiful planet.

And then, I remember to pray. And when I remember to pray, and to center and ground myself in Light, Love and Truth, I remember who I am. I AM Light. I AM Truth. I AM Love. I am One with All that is. And then I remember what it FEELS like to be One with the All that is. My heart opens. My mind opens and together I feel thankful and grateful to be who I am. And, yes, when I am thankful and grateful I know and feel the Light, Love, Truth streaming from my heart, mind and soul experienced with every aspect of my being. Embracing every aspect of my being wth the Truth of what that is and FEELS like. And I become, strong and clear and grounded with the Light, and know I am ready for anything. And, when I am ready for anything is when I become clear about what my spritual convictions are.

When I remembered to consciously align in this way, takes about an hour in the morning, I am ready to follow through with my convictions. Most recetly, with this global event, I have agreed on a much deeper level to follow through with my Mission Statement, on the AH forum. I have progressed quite nicely and now more clearly inspired and motivated to continue mission by this very personal and enlightening global experience. Discovering the Truth within. Yep, that's the way to go.

Thank you again for allowing me to utilize this space for what I consider a work in progress. Perhaps others will be inspired in their own way to seek their Truth. Sorry for the rambling and redundancy and typos. Be well.

I read portions of it yesterday, and from what I read I can see why those who want to control everyone and everything did not like this man. He wanted each family to have a home for themselves only (no renting out of private homes), loans made without interest, monies from oil revenue paid to citizens of the country, and various other ways of "new thinking". This could have not made him popular with the "controllers". Admittedly there is more to read, and probably his ideas are not perfect, but he had a head start on being a blessing to his people.

Wrote this the other night and have been editing it for this thread.....

CONVICTIONS:

Current Topic: Mummar Gaddafi and Libya and the occupation by the true terrorists.

When I think of Libya , I envision a country of Soveriegn nature. A developing land of happy, mirthful people which had a strong leader and also a visionary bold enough to dream. Mummar was and always will remembered for the right reasons to me. A man who took courage to lead and listen to his people, who delivered a promise of integrity and honour, as he dutifully and dilligently undertook the management and affairs of the great nation of Libya.

Bereft on all sides, from a beastlike, bloodlusting force of doom, the truly evil of this world, he kept himself strong till the last, as the missiles rained down and the forces unlawfully invaded, to keep his vision alive.

A thriving country, where taxes are not charged of the farmers who produce the food, where education is strong and equal rights are in a stage of perfection, a happy populace forged quite a nation, not a small feat tipped upon the African continent with its arid conditions and limitations of a hostile outside world, governed not by the true leadership of the world, but by godless, moralless harbringers of death.

It seems to me the cost of such freedoms in this time, only ends in death and destruction, as saying no to the forces of darkness means execution at some point. With that much military muscle and crushing brutality, who wouldnt succumb over the longvetivty of the occupation? To have lasted this long amazed me, obviously they were a bit more prepared to fight than other unfortunate countries of the Mid-East were.

A terrifying message to all other countries at this time, including now and more than ever a threat of further invasions, into Iran, another affluent and spiritually minded country not preapred to sell its people into slavery, death and genocide.

Will the world continue just to whatch from the nosebleeds? Obviously of late there has been raising of voices in the dark, with the protests against the machine, but what did this achieve? There has been more brutality and hate being bandied about, when peace could achieve more, with a legal challenge and the presentation of the facts. All I can remember now in the darkness, is that the pen is mightier than the sword, and that deliverence is stronger when done by the book.

I ask myself when will this end? Not too sure of that myself personally, however at some point the killing machine has to be unplugged.

When we are young, we are told of the honour, nobility and intregity of war. Of the thrill of battle, and how there are good guys are there are bad guys. We are led to believe in the institution, the bogeyman out to get us so to speak, but as we grow, we begin to see another picture starting to present itself.

Today, that image, once held and understood as a necessary one, has morphed into the grotesqueness of sheer insanity. Now all I feel is a horrible sense of loss and disalusionment as the once much loved military protector, has been revealed to be nothing more that a well organised killing machine, a mass cancerous growth strangling the freedom of the world, especially now another casualty in this being Libya.

When I was young I thought that the military were there to protect our country. I was too young then to understand the Balkans war, but when Iraq came in the nineties, I had front row seats to shere and utter evil. To see kinfolk, may they be across the sea but no different to me in the way that they are much beloved by our heavenly father as much as I am, to be bombarded into the very dessert dust they are acustomed to dealing with daily, told me that there was something seriously wrong and amiss in this world. I wached documentaries back then that warned of the NWO, even as early in their dastardly plans as they were. And now today I can seriously cry to myself, that they carried out such evil plans on us all that to describe it in any other way just escapes me.

Our armies are no longer there for anything more than occupying and destroying countries, and rebuilding them at cost to the country. Countless lives have been snuffed out, cut short and the death that lingers over these lands even to those who have survived the hails of bombs and bullets, most are now succumbing to the stain of war, the depleted uranium shells that litter the middle east, as well as taxpayer funded goons who keep the spectre of fear prevailing to keep the need going for the war machine, to interfere with the recovery of what is left standing after the dust, smoke and bodyparts settle.

I no longer believe that war is ever justifiable. Movies that depict the glory of it all are shallow propaganda essays, that promote the insane notion, that peace is only attainable after the war machine has been activated and annihilation has met its quota.

There is no glory in war, only death, is an old adage I heard years ago, and it is sad but true. It seems that only the insane powers who commit war, truly understand this sick gratification of what war supports and is.

Now, its global. War is here to stay so it seems and the fat cats couldnt be happier. In an insane world where millions of dollars by the second is funnelled into war aand killing, the masses just seem numbed by it, Maybe its out of sight out of mind to these ones. But the hope that oneday I might begin to understand how a world that calls itself a race can just watch, wait and celebrate the goal of utter destruction and desolation of a counrty albeit a whole section of the world. myabe oneday, and hopefully soon, we might begin to understand our roles here and what they are truly about, instead of the paralysis of truth, intergrity and true care which are surely missing.

I do not support anything close to resembling war at all. I knew that world war three got the go ahead when the towers were bombed from inside thier own supposed leadership of which was once called America.

The hatred and absolute disregard for anything sacred in the minds and hearts of anyone after the attacks is beyond me. America went to war, but was it really America?

The name means nothing to me anymore, sad enough to say it. Even my own country called Australia just doesnt seem to resonate to what it meant to me as a child. In the middle of the night so to speak, someone came in and trampled our dreams. Someone shat all over what we are supposed to be and replaced it with the worst kind of ride through hell you could ever imagine. I cant remember the exact number who were killed in the false flag attacks that year, but how could that justify the staggering statistics of deaths, destruction and desolation since? Without a pause for breath it would seem also. And now Libya. Now another true leader has been silenced with the ultimate punishment in thier eyes. Defilement I think they call it, the apparent killing of Bin Laden in recent times did not get such a media coverage of a body, and now Gaddafhi has been paraded through the streets as a further warning and example of what is to come. I pray for some kind of intervention , perhaps the blessed earth might kick at the headquarters of Nato, or wherever else these cowards mingle. I just keep telling myself, that what goes aroud comes around and hopefully in these times when things are speeding up, we might just get some justice for us all.

I can no longer relate to this last age of man. And I can only pray that we are close to the close of this slaughterhouse. To pray for the day when childeren will never have to live within the specter of war, when the world can live in harmony and within the true laws of god and creation.

Thats what keeps my candle burning so to speak, to know that they will live in harmony, there are good things in this world, like a leader who defied the dark even until his death, a man with courage enough to live his core principles, to act upon his convictions even after much character assassinating as well as the final blood curdling moments of his life.

A being who has earnt his place upon the mansion worlds, who gave of service to his people, oh

Libya be brave and strong and continue to live. Long after the hand of evil is swept from the world we shall live on, to prevail, to live as we envision, and what was taken shall be restored.

Brendan, thank you very much for taking the time and energy to write your feelings and knowings. Thanks for sharing. It is a comfort to read that other's feel deeply about Libya and the global murder's occurring.

I too pray that the end of the destruction will happen soon. What occurs now is so painful to my soul. It has been very difficult to reach non-attachment in order to rise above the grief I feel about the planetary conditions, but must be done for me to even begin to at least focus my energy as love to all and this beautiful planet. I cannot tell you how many times I have had to pick myself up (with unseen guidance, of course) and really have to "seek" my joy again. Fortunately, I am in a beautiful natural environment, on our farm, so the connection with nature is always there for me.

We have unplugged from the tv, radio propaganda to lessen the assaults on our psyche.... that helps! News by email and GLP, and can't do videos, on dial up, so the doom drama's are kept to a minimum, by choice.

I think that most of the ideas expressed here about the dramatic events which happened in Libya are naturally based on information gathered through the media, the internet, discussions, etc... They take shape in our mind through the normal processes of pondering upon the different information which our senses present to us.

This information is then compared with the available knowledge already stored in our data banks (memory) after passing through a series of filters, built-up during our life experience, and which color any new information according to our values, beliefs, fears, integrity etc., before we integrate them as opinions or convictions.

Those filters are continuously adapted by our daily life experiences which, themselves, are influenced by our growing mind and consciousness.

Before Libya became the next target for the destructive One World Order powers, I saw Gaddafi as a dictator similar to others in Africa and else, with similar agendas for power and glory.

It was not a belief nor a conviction, it was rather a non explored idea gathered from the "news" which stayed latent, awaiting for more details to become one day a focused image supported by supplementary credible (for me) input.

This supplementary input I got, it was not credible, but it triggered my attention to the many aspects and hidden agendas which controlled the dramatic events as we know them. Without going in details I now think that the horrors in Libya and the criminal assassination of Gaddafi proof to the world how powerful the dark ones became on their way to the NWO = world slavery.

Once we develop an interest for spiritual values, and they become the basis of our everyday behavior, discernment will lead our conclusions and temper our emotional response.

We will be able to see the rules of the game played and the goal to be reached, and we will be able to see the similarities in the many games played by the same game players to reach the same goals, always manufactured around the same egocentric obsessions of power, greed and ever increasing sense, mental and emotional satisfactions. And this regardless the means.

As an eternal student/teacher, I consider all life experiences as learning tools and training sessions in order to become more receptive for the omnipresence of spiritual worlds and values which are our destiny.

The concepts and truths we learn at child age are reconsidered, modified, amended or even completely discarded and replaced when being adult.

I prefer the word "belief", even "firm belief" to express my degree of relative sureness, than the word "conviction" which sounds to me as a rather fossilized opinion, very difficult to adapt or to integrate new elements in it. I prefer to express my beliefs as "working hypothesis" meaning that they are open for discussion and, if justified, for amendments.

Only Knowledge is real, unchangeable, and of the dimensionless realm of Cause.

Convictions can be useful for a limited time span but will certainly cause resistance when they must be changed. And one day, they will have to.

This article is very interesting below. read on site. I don't remember what I have posted in this thread, but "Nato" is broke, because the Chinese Dragons now OWN the Federal Reserve. the FEd is not just the central bank of the US, it is the central bank of the central banks of this world. I have seen adequate documents to KNOW that. The khazar zionist bankers tried to steal great wealth that was entrusted to Gaddafi, that belongs to the Foundation Divine, which is GOD's wealth for the people of this world. Those of you who followed the Whistleblower work on my site know what the foundation divine is. Nato was after the wealth AND hoped for weaponry to use against China. Always on this world have the Khazars and the Chinese fought for ownership. Nato did NOT get what they wanted and yet a country stands destroyed. This is an interesting article that might change some minds about Gaddafi.

[\[link to nsNBC.wordpress.com\]](#)

This article is also interesting and way out of date, because that sramble has been going on for a LONG TIME now in Africa. TPTB had also long pressured a resistant gaddafi to be the NWO rep in africa for the African Union. I believe Ron, on my site found evidence that Gaddafi gave into them, so they would not destroy libya.

I believe that the anglophile empire(secret soc.,religions esp. Catholicism, bankers, Militaries, etc.)is a control system that has ruled this world since at least this last age. It rules for the benefit of a few at the cost of the many. However, most in the U.S. are oblivious to its existence.

At this present moment it would appear there is a massive plundering of the worlds resources and a theft of any monetary instruments that are not tied down and this is being done at any cost. Gaddafi fell pray to this agenda.

I believe Gaddafi was a dictator but he seemed to deal with his people rather well since they had the highest living standard in Africa(some tribal problems existed) but from what I can gather the U.S. has supported and installed far worse dictators than Gaddafi. Take for instance, Chile, and the overthrow and murder of Salvador Allende(a democratically elected President) and the installation of General Pinochet in his place by the U.S. Gov. which resulted in the death and disappearance of 30,000 or more people in Chile.

For the most part what TPTB did not like about Gaddafi was that he was not easily controlled and was believed to be a risk for this reason. In other words, he bucked the system and TPTB have been trying to put him in his place for a long time now(to make him tow the Anglophile line). He would not do it and was a constant source of irritation for them.

As I look back on it he was most likely framed for the Lockerbee bombing(it was most likely MI5-6 or the CIA) and the Reagan Administration who were responsible. But Gaddafi has been demonized(by lies) by our MSM for decades, making him an easy target.

It is sometimes very difficult to discern the entire truth because there are so many different opinions and much disinfo. on the subject. But it is no different from what TPTB have done in Viet Nam, South America, Iraq, Afghanistan, and many other places. This is all done under the guise of bringing democracy to suffering people. What a joke, because when the Imperialists come all that happens is the country is raped and pillaged for its nat. res. sold of to the multi-nationals and the population is traumatized or murdered.

What happened to Libya and Gaddafi was immoral, dishonest, barbaric and disgusting and I do believe he is deceased. However, I am afraid that most people are not capable of the critical thinking to discern this. Most people don't have the time, nor do most care as long as it does not effect them, which is rather a sad thing for the human race.

I am waiting to see what happens when true hardship comes knocking on our door. I believe it will be quite interesting to observe.

Gaddafi was a Christ, you know what they do to these ones. God cares not actually whether one is a dictator or elected if he does right. Some of the worlds dictators are christs who know full well what they do. They cannot be "elected", and to serve this world they must come in very strong in other ways. Thus this mans great courage thruout it all. He did NONE of the stuff that was said he did. It took great character to stand as long as he did.

NIP, I started to read some of the posts and thought it would be better to post my own thoughts on this subject rather than bring the ideas of others to mind.

I have read alot of the posts and linked articles here concerning Gadaffi. I don't read mainstream media much, so only read these items. I tried to ponder and meditate and could not come to a conclusion, so will try now.

The articles I read showed one thing to me. Some people truly hated this man and others loved him. There was two sides of the fence and I met no person along the way that sat on this fence. There were videos and articles that sang his praise and there were others that called him a torturer and made claims that all was well as long as you didn't oppose him.

I saw that he ran his country entirely on its own sustanance. I saw that he was able to do something that most all countries refuse to do...be self sufficient. This causes a tendancy in me to believe he was a threat to certain people and governments of our world. Score 1 for Gadaffi.

I also saw that others saw him as a dictator and a ruler who would cut you to pieces rather than allow for a person to have anything but complete and total alliance to him and his thoughts. Score 1 for the those that brought him down.

HOWEVER, in the end I saw a savage people who publicly disrespected this man and his dead body by what they did after his death. He was captured alive and one would think that bringing him to trial for the crimes that he supposedly committed would have been a good idea. Instead he was coldly murdered and never given the chance to prove the truth himself. I don't think they could have let him live...the division between the people included a huge gap between the two thoughtforms pertaining to good and evil.

The people that murdered him and tortured a dead man were supported by many governments, mine as well. That says alot. It is these people or their new officials that will rule this country....That doesn't make me feel warm and fuzzy at all.

In the end, I don't think the questions can be answered as there is a spiritual answer. There are those that incarnate on our earth and assume both good and evil roles. I believe this is intentional as I believe this is given to us to see, watch and then try to make a connection to our own personal divine wisdom to see the truth. This death has now served to martyr Gadaffi. I don't want to say that was the plan, but it certainly helped the people to stay on opposite sides of the fence. They cannot come together on this subject and good and evil still survives and the game continues. I believe somehow the hierchy hoped it would end differently. The fact that it didn't is a testament to the extreme division of the people in this world.

So maybe Gadaffi decided on his own to end this way, because the lesson was not being learned that his life was meant to depict. His death did prove to highlight the division of the souls on this planet and maybe that is all he could offer.

If I am wrong and this man was pure evil that had to be removed....then I am asking to be shown the divine wisdom from my creator. At this time, however, I feel my creator is waiting for me to make a spiritual conscious decision on my own and then I will be shown the divine truth, so I can gauge the wisdom of my own soul.

In the end, I never had a conviction about this, as I was waiting for the divine wisdom to show me. I was stuck with not knowing which was good and which was evil. I know after writing this, the divine wisdom is still waiting for me to bring forth my own thoughts and wisdom, yet be open to the teaching afterwards. So, it's time for me to have a talk with my creator and spill my guts...and let the lesson begin.

Candace.

I am being reminded, now that I wrote my post, to think about the following true story. The story proves that we can never know the real truth about a soul's reason for incarnating as the person they did, until we open our hearts and minds to the possibilities. This information is quite personal but I feel I need to put this out there.

My husband was raised in a very large cult. His father was the cult leader. This I will swear to all and this is not a made up story. My husband's father was a very cruel man whom had 15 illegal wives. My husband's mother being one of them, of course.

This man drove my mother-in-law to insanity. She spent a large portion of her life in institutions due to her psychosis. That meant that as a child, my husband was a target for abuse as his mother was not there to run interference and protect him. This abuse went down the lineage to my husband's brothers. They too used him for a target to perpetuate their descent into their abusive world. These people are still working out their legacy of abuse.

My husband's father died when my husband was 16. He still feels concern over the feeling of relief that he had when his father died. At 16 he feared his father's retribution from the grave for those feelings.

My husband is a kind and gentle man trapped by his subconscious that tries to block entry to this abuse, which drives my him to mental illness now, like his mother. He fights the mental illness every step of the way, but cannot unlock the subconscious mind. While he recalls the abuse, he has no emotions/feeling related to these events.

Over time, I tried to help my husband with this process. His father started visiting me from the other side...wherever that may have been for him. At first he tried to convince me that my husband just needed to forgive and forget. When I didn't buy that he started coming to me and telling me I was a whore that did not deserve his son. He would come at any time and I was unable to block him. He interfered at every turn we tried to take to help my husband heal.

One day in meditation, it came to me. I called my closest and strongest spiritual friends and asked for their help. I included my husband. The message I got was that I had to make a request of Michael to intervene and take this man's soul to wherever he needed to go to heal this energy, more or less by force.

When we all gathered, I summoned my husband's father. We started off with trying to convince him it was time to move on. He wasn't buying that - no way. He went through each one of us, 6 total, and tried to tear us down. He told my husband he was a useless whiny idiot that deserved the abuse that he perpetuated on him. He told my friend that she was fiesty and wished he could have made her one of his wives so he could beat her down. He told me I was simply a worthless whore who brought his son down even lower and wasn't worth his breath to say anything further.

When I got tired of listening to this evil man's rediric, I called upon Michael to come and assist. My husband's father turned his back and refused to look upon Michael's face. At this time, Michael spoke to him and simply said his name. When he did so, my husband's father automatically let his will wither away. When he looked upon Michael's face, Michael said his name again and then said, "It's time to remember. You made a contract to come here to do these things and you knew the risks. You knew that the energy to control would be so strong, it would overtake you and you would forget me and your brothers. Remember the promise we made to you when you volunteered to come here and do this."

I could feel my father-in-law's energy begin to change at this point. Michael continued, "We made a promise to you that we would give you until a certain time in earthly years to return on your own. If you didn't do this, we promised to come and take you back. We promised we would help you to remember who you are. We promised to remind you that you are light who succumbed to the dark and we have come back to take you back to the light where you can heal and become whole once again."

At that time he gave my father-in-law a verbal list that seemed more of a reminder of a pact. He said, "When you come with us, you will have to leave everyone behind. You will have to release the energy of those you have ruled over and forced into submission through robbing them of this energy. You cannot return and take it with you. Over time, the energy you have taken will find its way back to their rightful owners and they will take it back to heal and bring light back into their lives. We will help them to understand how your contract to do a work for the hierarchy took you to the deepest recesses of darkness and how that darkness consumed your soul. They will someday know and understand and that understanding will be forgiveness."

My father-in-law then slumped into Michael's arms and he was led away. It felt like an army of spirits assisted him in his journey and this made me realize what a great soul he must have been at one time.

He has yet to come back to me or my husband. At one point he sent an emissary to let us know he was still working on reviewing all that transpired and would not try to bring emotional harm to us in any way again.

The big lesson for me was the assumption that he was an evil dark man. He was not, but he was doing a work that took him on a path of power and that was too easy to give in to...he knew that before taking on this life and did it for the sake of others.

The energy that Michael helped my father-in-law release is just now returning to my husband and it has sent him reeling. It is 20 years of energy (or more) that was taken from my husband and it is time for him to accept that energy back and allow it to heal. I know that he too will work through it eventually. He is supported by the best. For him it is sad because we were shown that the energy can be healed over a moment of time if he chooses...he still is choosing the hard way, but I feel that will change soon.

Candice, I appreciate being able to write this account here. I have never done that and your thread here on Gadaffi helped me to bring the two stories together.

Namaste! Light to all.

What it means to wear the Mantle of Christ- Christ Michael

What it means to wear the Mantle of Christ- Christ Michael

The term mantle has several meanings in your language. Yet the mantle I refer for your understanding is the piece of clothing or garment which is a covering worn over other clothing. One can attire oneself with a mantle for various reasons peculiar to the need at a particular time. A mantle can be placed on and removed at will.

The mantle I refer to is not strictly in accord with human understanding. I bring a higher understanding that you may appreciate the nature of this piece as to what it means to wear the Mantle of Christ. The Mantle of Christ is a symbol. In itself it represents a resurgence of divine energy to be manifested in physical form. A metaphor divinely inspired by the natural instinct of children to reflect the character of their Father.

Before a choice can be made to wear the Mantle an understanding is required of what creates the symbolic mantle and its nature. Simply, the nature of Christ is imaged in the Mantle of Christ. I shall discourse on this shortly but first you must consider what qualifies you to wear this mantle. My little ones you do not require contemporary schooling to teach you this. You will be filled with the knowing required to graduate to that plane where you would wish to choose the mantle when you begin as a child would. Simply in humility and trust open your hands, heart and mind to the Father that He may fill you with righteous knowing. You have heard before that to enter the kingdom you must become like a child again. Well to achieve the disciplines of higher consciousness you must become like a child again and remain as a child would, totally open and believing that the Father knows best and will guide you always on the pathway to achieving spiritual success in your mortal incarnation. The Father does not wish HIS child to assume the Father's personality, merely HIS divine character. Before you can choose to wear the symbolic mantle you must redeem yourself in the light of the Father and attain HIS characteristics.

When you choose the mantle of Christ it must be worn with honour and solemnity. You do not lose yourself or your identity when you wear this mantle but you send out a message to the world that you are as HE IS. Yes indeed the same as I AM THAT I AM. You wear your identity fearlessly.

To further elaborate on the mantle, I clarify that it is not an actual piece of clothing which by now you ones will understand; but a seasoned light which embarks from the Paradise Father. Consider this mantle to be a vest of virtues, a mosaic of divine qualities and impersonal attributes purely centred in its essential Source. It bears an incomparable radiance, is simple in texture yet enriched by its own energetic display of balance; and empowered through the authentic certainty with which it is portrayed. Its beautiful tapestry weaves the fruits of the spirit as precious stones in the crown of the Father's eternalness.

The mantle is the Christ construct or a thought construct of the Christ consciousness which all men must eventually attain. The availability of this mantle is determined by the progress of one's spiritual growth. One will know when he/she is ready to assume the much coveted mantle. I say much coveted as those who are on a spiritual path will know that the goal is always oneness with God or return to the Source and the assumption of this mantle is a bold statement that one has freely chosen to serve the will of God and to be aligned with the highest divine order. Readiness to assume the mantle will hinge on preparedness and the ability to make oneself spiritually groomed for this honour.

Before man can think of the Mantle, there is called for, an understanding which bridges the gap between human perception and immortal knowing. Man is required to shed the old ways of thinking through his dominant ego mind and seek to relinquish to the light of his spirit that which does not serve his soul's evolution. He who chooses the mantle aspires to the greatness of his soul. He seeks the consciousness of Christ and this readies him to assume the mantle. The motivation of man to choose the mantle primarily rests on his intention to live within the Christ light and to effectuate the truth of God through service.

When one is ready to adorn the Mantle, he is holding himself out to the world as a spiritual gladiator who embarks on the battlefield of life to do God's work. He is armed with divine truth which has become enshrined through communion in his mortal heart. He wields the sword of wisdom and offers the hand of compassion, mercy, forgiveness and love to his enemies in battle as he intelligently recognises the light of God in all men. He has long left his prejudices and fear behind in the healing light of his spirit and he goes forward as a true representative of God.

The abstruse concept of Mantle is in itself decorative as it is embellished with the virtuous light of the divine. There is however no ceremony attached to the Mantle; albeit he who chooses to wear it carries the responsibility of a renowned state of being and must live in accordance with his assumed and expected responsibilities.

The Mantle of Christ must be worn effectively in alignment with the Christ within. It requires determination and deep spiritual insight, a predilection for perfection in service, complete dedication and uncompromising loyalty to the Father's will.

Some may say that it is a heavy burden. Man may be doubtful as to his ability to assume what appears to be a weighty construct. Yet all men will in time choose the divine mantle. For all men are sons of God and carry the Christ light within. The Christ light cannot forever be buried under the weight of the density of the flesh and the limitations of human understanding. It craves freedom. It is of course your individual choice as to when you set yourself free; for never will the Father interfere with your free will; simply proffer gentle encouragement. I will say however my children that the pain and suffering of awaiting your freedom lies with you as you must choose the hour of your freedom. I cannot free you; I can only give to you the tools being the lessons and I have bequeathed these to you from generations past to present in many ways through many ones.

Many have in the past taken on the mantle with great love and spiritual intent but an inability to understand the greater truth. Yet it is true that today the possibilities for illumination is greater and many are with courage choosing the Mantle and seeking the guidance of the Christ within as to the wearing of this mantle and discharging in the human world obligations assumed in the light of spirit.

There is a greater recognition asserting itself in the hearts and mind of men during these precipitous times; that perhaps the better way is the way of the light. A greater alignment is taking place within individuals which now motivates them to pursue their divine purpose.

Do you see my beloveds that Christ is not a title or a name but an ordination bestowed upon those who choose the will of the Paradise Father and who have attain a level of God consciousness or awareness which marks their incarnation. You will choose HIS will when you come to know HIM as the living spirit of divinity within you. For whom amongst you do not wish to know the truth of your origin and nature? You spend your life seeking truth and you explore myriad possibilities of discovering who you are and your purpose in life. Yet all you need to do is to look within and call upon the spirit of truth which I destined to you. An ardent seeker will always receive a response.

Cultivating an intimate relationship with the spirit of God within will be the most rewarding and fulfilling relationship you will ever experience in any lifetime. Discovery of the God within is the beginning of self discovery which will inevitably propel you toward your homeland Paradise.

Beloved children of the light, the Mantle of Christ is your true nature, the epitome of all God represents. Wearing the mantle affords you opportunities to assert your mastery. It is in essence the light of God. When you wear this Mantle, it covers nothing as a mantle of clothing will- it in fact reveals ALL- being the God in You.

Candace: This is a piece you need to send to everyone on your lists and your forums you participate on. Thru Hazel.

A Father's Plea- The Creator

I come in this solitary moment to introduce MYSELF to those who do not know ME; to those who know of ME; to those who view me in a religious context; and to reinforce MY presence within those who do know ME.

Times of great change loom auspiciously upon your earth plane and you of the human civilisation must come into the knowing of MY presence; hastily I might add.

I AM the ONE you call GOD, Creator, Source, Universal Deity, Foremost intelligence, Ultimate determiner, Final Judge and Adjudicator. It matters not the variation in title for I AM ONE and the same. I will simply refer to MYSELF as the Universal Father of ALL creation.

Titles and names create distinctions and causes separation in one's understanding as one seeks a God of his/her culture. Know that God is One and All is One and ONE is ALL. It is when you come to understand this simple truth that profound awareness will dawn.

I come to affirm your status as sons and daughters of the light; for it is imperative at this juncture that you perceive yourself in light. Light is the quintessential you. That which darkens your world does not define you. Your body does not define you. Your earthly status does not define you. It is I the Creator of All, that defines you.

I cannot be seen but that does not mean that I do not exist. I can be known and experienced from within; and that is more credible than seeing. Knowing is your proof; feeling is your rule of measure. The nature of ME is the nature of you and you must therefore call upon your understanding of ME to know yourself.

I have many times brought the same message in different ways through different ones and I shall continue to do this until your immortal soul, which you are is allowed entrance into your physical mind to minister truth. Why do I endeavour with constancy and consistency to bring you truth? Simply my beloveds because you are MINE and I desire you to return home to ME. The route your take is of course your choice but I desire to see you placed on the path of knowing.

Which father will leave his children unattended, without care or supreme love? I cannot see you continuously suffering and not endeavour to lead you out of turmoil. It is love which engenders MY effort. I can see what beholds your world presently. I know what is transpiring and what will fall upon thee. I come to assist the confused, to bring clarity that those who may doubt will accept ME once and for all; not blindly or because I say you should, but because you know you must.

I am the living essence of truth within you. You can only find your truth there. I issue an invitation to you at this twelfth hour that has come upon the earth plane. Turn to ME; even if you never have before; turn to ME, call upon ME; not in challenge, but in need and love. I shall respond.

What other choice do you have dear ones? This is my final bid to draw you into the fold using only truth and a promise of a brighter future. The purpose of your life at this very moment should be to discover ME with haste as the winds of change carry yet another cycle to completion; that the new and exciting tomorrow may be yielded for your earth.

Many are now walking a tightrope with little balance left; so what say you? Will you not join the bandwagon of lighted beings and begin the most wondrous exploration of a new plane filled with knowledge and excitement for grander and purposeful living?

The canopy of change has now descended. You need only look around your world to witness the great confusion and collapse materialising. Will you continue to deny what you face or what it portends for your world? Who is your likely salvation now? When all is crumbling around you, who will you call upon? Can you save yourselves? From my vantage point I will offer a negative response.

That which you face on your earth is beyond your control and that which is fortuitously taking place cosmically is also beyond your control. I wish to tell you MY plans for you but how many will hear and believe? How many of MY ones have you castigated and deemed mental? Well it is those very ones who are sane my beloved children. The 'mental' ones are the knowing ones; the ones who know MY truth and serve it. It would serve you well to rethink what you have heard from the voices of God. For these ones who bring truth are MY voice.

I will not come again to you in this way. I take the bolder approach that you may hear without fear. Can you not hear the appeal through these MY words. Do not say after the event that the Father has deserted you or cast you aside. For the Father comes here and now to woo you back home. Will you hear and answer?

For generations I have sent MY beloved sons to effort with you of earth plane. Now I come MYSELF. Will you still reject the ONE you say you love? Must I descend from the clouds for you to believe? I do not live up to false conceptions or beliefs; for I serve Truth, which I AM. I can only urge you to seek truth by listening to the voice within. You will not see ME my little ones, but you will know ME if you know truth for I am already here.

I come not to create fear or feed your doubts. I come in truth only to tell you that your time on the earth has all but ended. Night is upon you now and some will never awaken to a blooming tomorrow. Take MY hand now for this is the final offer before the curtain falls.

I AM THE CREATOR OF ALL THAT IS- MY SON WHO YOU KNOW AS THE CHRIST IS ONE WITH ME AND THERE IS NO DISTINCTION. YOU ARE ONE WITH ME FOR I CREATED YOU. I PROCLAIM THE VICTORY OF THE LIGHT. THE TIME FOR SEPARATION HAS COME.

News about Lybia

Screen-shots late December and early January showed that Gaddafi was leading the Amnesty International USA vote as "Human Rights Hero" of 2011, which had clearly been unexpected and an embarrassment to the organisation which had remained largely mute on the atrocities committed by NATO and its mercenary rebel forces. Within days of the outright lead, which was visible on the website which published a graphical representation of the most popular votes, the "human rights" organization altered the rules to close the poll retrospectively, one month early.

thank you, I posted it on my website, in case Ron had not. Things like this help demonstrate the truth. Its a shame so many people bought into the LIE on Libya and its leader. A country destroyed and some many did nothing.
