Candace,

Im quoting this from one of your posts in this thread

"All ensouled beings are chipped to the New Jerusalem computers which thus always know where you are. "

What does this mean? This language freaks me out. I want nothing to do with this nor do i want to land up where new Jerusalem russ is going. I wont go anywhere where I need to be chipped. Id rather be blown into oblivion than succumb to a world based on chips or technology. There has got to be a world where anything can be manifested with the mind and tracking people is against universal law.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

Russ has nothing to do with it. you must be chipped to the computer if you are to be successfully rescued should that become necessary. In the case of Nuclear holocaust dematerializing you to ship is the only way to get you and your soul off the planet. They cannot come in. Nuclear holocaust destroys soul. In the case of that, they have exactly 15 minutes to empty the planet.

that computer on it has copies of the full soul records of every ensouled being on this planet, so that if soul is somewhat damaged it can be restored. Look at your soul as a "hard drive" in this case, your records are stored on electrons and photons. they can be reconstructed.

these chips you have are NOT off this world. They merely tell the New Jerusalem computers where you are so you can be lifted to safety, there is no other purpose.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Then Im out. I dont want a chip. I will be blown to oblivion before I let anything foreign in my system. It will never happen. I have a hrad time believing that in the universe where anything is possible that one has to be chipped to be removed. So, beings in higher dimensions are chipped too? Im sorry, i would rather my soul be blown to bits than EVER get chipped.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

You are so in fear you would blow off your eternal life over a fleet chip? These are NOT RFID'. They are crytalline. RFID's would not work. I guarantee if you are an eternal being you have one.

I now have to consider either you are in a terrible ignorance, or you are here to cause trouble. Only you know, but you do not understand the ways of the creation nor the trouble this planet is in. As to your New Jerusalem post above, I see I guess you believe in all the crap that has been put out there in new age or whatever. Ashtar Command is REAL, and the New Jerusalem is the Command Craft for the evacuation of this planet. You have no idea apparently of what is going on. Russ is not associated with any of this. He is either terribly ignorant, or a plant.

NIP,

There are a few things I would like to address first, followed by a few questions if you dont mind. To start, I see how people respond to you on various posts. They are relentlessly mean and uncompassionate. Im sorry that you have to endure that and its a shame people cant move on without bashing you. Its also really sad for me to see you with negative karma points because I know they were given to you by reason of you helping people look at a different side of things or in a lot of cases, negating their idea of doom. I too, have been aggravated by some of your remarks, but I wont resort to verbally bashing you and I dont believe in this karma system. That being said, the only times I have been aggravated at your remarks was when you mentioned something was not going to take place. That segways into my next comment.

There are many of us here on glp who just want out. We can no longer take it here. Many of us have become reclusive as we cant deal with the ills of the outside world any longer.

As for me, Im house bound because of medical reasons, but to me its a blessing. Even when I have to leave the house which is rare, I find humanity extremely soul assaulting and I need to get home as soon as possible.

So, when you have stated something was not going to happen, you essentially bursted our bubble of hope that this will all end. I firmly believe thats where a lot of your bad karma points have come from. I believe its people's misguided aggravation with a small mix of pure mean spirited individuals who have the mentality of a 12 year old. Im truly sorry for this. If I was able to, I would turn your karma green and I hope some kind people will make that happen. I know it means nothing to you, but its a sad thing to look at knowing that you are just trying to help. I too am sorry for getting aggravated at you, tho I have never voiced it bcuz Im not that kind of person, but at a soul level, I wont hide it either. Im sorry.

To my questions....

1. You state that you are waiting for humanity to wake up and almost in the same breath you are saying its not going to happen. I feel its not and I feel things would have to change so much, that it could only be measured by nano scale levels. Nesara would be only a band-aid to humanity because everyone is still so very materialistic. My question is, WHEN can some of us get out of here? When does this stasis happen? When? Soon? In 2 more years? 10 years? Personally I cant handle more than 2 months, and I know I wont last for 5 more years.

2. Are you saying that all of us have to witness the complete fall out of the monetary, ecological fallout of this planet before anything changes?

3. I thought I read on a post that you commented on that we are the ones to change this world, not someone intervening for us. If this is correct, why do you think that this earth is going to get shut down by a force that is clearly not us.

4. You have made it clear that there are no planetary bodies on a collision course with us at this time. What are your thoughts on what is going on this week w/YU2005 and the enormous sun spots headed our way.

Thank you Nip, sorry to bombard you with all these questions and thank you for trying to help people.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

I feel the same way and have the same questions.

I hear you. I am reclusive too but for different reasons. I am very healthy & most of my outside world contact in in our martial arts studio. Somehow I get relief from the meditation & chi force summoning that is inherent in a traditional martial art. Otherwise, my life is my family, pets, honeybees & gardening.

Like you I feel the negativity so keenly to the point of feeling physically sick.

I had an experience 1.5 years ago when I thought I was asleep but was in a room with about 5 other people, definitely spiritual beings. They were discussing whether or not I was "ready". There was one, a woman who was clearly the senior person, who decided that yes, I was ready. As much as I want to write this off a just a dream, I know it was much more. I do not believe it was any 'abduction" scenario but more of an astral travel.

I just want to know what is it that I was determined to be ready for? Since then the attacks from darkness have greatly increased, some spiritual, some from hateful strangers who just show up & are relentless against me for no reason.

I also feel something serious is barreling down the track toward us, but I do not know what that is. I just know I am ready to face it.

Okay, I just needed to get that off my chest. Thanks.

JANE, before I became ill, I lived as an example of what i wanted the world to be. I was in service to anyone and anything that called. Something is not right in this world and I pray every night NOT for my own health, but for this world to change. I care not whether it is a catastrophic end nor a miraculous one, but its got to stop, restart or something. I cant even see staying here at status quo for another year. Everything is completely dysfunctional and people have become so vile, uncaring, judgemental and materialistic. Even if tommorow our financial woes were fixed, we would still have monumental levels of negativity we would have to abolish in order to evolve. That alone would take 200+ years to solve. The thought of that makes me sick.

Ps. anyway we can get candace some green karma? People have been so unfairly unkind to her.

I dont have any to give or else I would clear her of the red. Just asking
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

I have given her green & cleared out red in the past. It seems the haters move faster than I can possibly keep up. For the life of me I do not understand why some people are so rude & horrible. If I see a thread that is not to my liking, I simply do not click on it.

I have given very few red karmas to people & that was only when somebody attacked someone else in a very disgusting & vulgar fashion. Even then I felt bad after having done so.

oh, just memories I guess, I am so homesick and I had a sad nap today on that. And I suppose as proof for those that can see what I know. I am not fully sure yet, but maybe just the reminder of how things really are. It seems so far away sometimes and yet so close. I have watched star Ship Sirius for many long years now every winter. Its so beautiful on a clear winter night. I lost a family member on late 2004 and in my tears while I was watching it, they moved around then too..... Not sure why they should have, but they did. Its just SO BEAUTIFUL.

I will go check the threads again and what people say, there is now a pinned thread too. I hope some appreciate the great beauty of it and its nice to see what was behind the "potato chip" on google sky et all.

Hi NIP. Haven't talked to you in a little while. I was wondering if I could ask you a question. I went to your site and saw something on anger etc. but couldn't retain well due to my current mood.

I can't figure out what is going on with me - my life. I am suddenly so tired. I don't want to mess around anymore and don't even want to be bothered by that. I am short and matter of fact with many people...I really want to be kinder but something takes over and I just spout off some reality and am done with it. Am I making any sense?

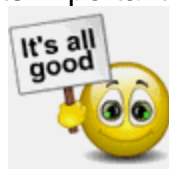

My husband is over the edge having major depression issues. I can't be messed with anymore...stand up, fix it and move on is my motto.

My little one's (star child if you get up with that sort of thing) occupational therapist made a big deal out of me sending her to preschool today, which I can't afford because I put out so much money to therapy etc. My answer - give up the therapist and send her to preschool. I put it in an email, in a very matter of fact way. You think she needs pre-school. That may be true but something has to go in order for me to afford that and it will have to be you. I will now search for a preschool that will treat my intellegent but sensory overloaded child with dignity and appreciate that I am bleeding money faster than I can make it (please I am begging for the money system to change soon).

Am I loosing my mind or just preparing by letting go of illusion...working towards reality? This is not normal for me, but I don't feel like it's wrong either. It's almost like I suddenly got some guts and can't turn back.

Quoting: TheOracle

I would say your mind is just fine. This is normal and part of the changes and I think if you are comfortable you made the right decision. We do have to stand up and not take the nonsense when its appropriate. Strange when I do it here, I usually get nailed to some cross for it. Stick with your intuition when it comes to your guts. Its important to stand in your truth and tell it as it is, unless there is personal risk in some way.

That what it means to listen within.

I wouldn't worry about checking the threads. The light show was for those who needed to see it, needed help getting out of our funk. The others....well they just won't get it.

Yet you go into the warzone like a crusader. You have guts of steel on the outside....I don't know if I could do what you do. You just step up and say it. You certainly are a great example of sticking to your guns and forging ahead without concern for the words that will come back. And for that continuous service, this light show was done for you.

I think for tonight we should be grateful that we were given the wonderful opportunity of seeing it in it's glory, acknowledging it and feeling the blessings. You deserve that! You deserve that time to feel the blessing before going back to the front lines.

Go back to the battle tomorrow NIP...Tonight, just stare at the pic and be in awe!

The lights of Sirius were in a pattern that represent an ending to an initiation of the soul. This pattern was the symbol of the crucifixion initiation.... I have written about this. Our dear one, Jesus, showed people this initiation when he was embodied so that we might understand it spiritually. Unfortunately, organized religion has twisted human minds and it's true meaning was lost to many. I know you already know this. The important thing for you to see from the image of Sirius is that you were given a global confirmation that the initiation of Crucifixion is over for you! It's time to step into the next level..of course there are still people who will TRY to crucify you, but it won't matter. Just allow yourself to take on the next stage - the resurrection - the resurrection of your soul to the spirit and their joining together to continue to move forward as one unit, no longer separated by duality. It's your reward for your years upon years of service to the truth.

You deserve it...

In light and continued awe!

for the folks who are morontial souls incarnate here they DO. do you know what level you are at? a portion of my soul is downloaded to my body, my monad, and I would not have it destroyed while on this plane. You are speaking of ignorance, I am sad on that. I don't care about this body being destroyed, but a big no on my monad. they need to know WHERE YOU ARE to GET YOU OUT and no matter your very silly words tonight, if you are supposed to be gotten out and not uncreated you have one. They would never leave this decision to an incarnate person who is in confusion within these energies.

You obviously do not remember something or you would not make such a statement. Your life eternal is too important. take or leave it, but if you are not to be left behind during, say a magnetic pole reversal, or anything else YOU HAVE ONE. As I said its NOT an rfid type chip, it is energetic.

There are many many issues of which people have NO IDEA and when memory is lost during incarnation, your guardians will care for you, whether you like it or not, because when you reject such, its in the ignorance of this density. IT IS DENSE here and difficult to think outside the box. Again, I have NOTHING to do with Russ or another new age demonic crap. You would not believe what great souls forget when they are on this plane.

Do you remember, or did you follow Christopher Story, the guy from London, who was murdered, in all that stuff about OITC, 4 Winds, Casper, Fullford et all? He thought this was the only planet in the whole creation with people on it. He had been so mind controlled by his church, I forget the branch right this moment, that he would not accept help thru ME once he thought I was associated with 4 winds, which I am not. He did have quite a laugh about that when he passed and showed up on the other side and got his memories back. That is how serious this IS.

well I did tell CM the plans, come to think of it, and so maybe you are right. I asked for them to see something. still hoping they will watch Jupiter or have, and are "confused" at this point. Standing up here has been easier than taking the hits from the microwave weapons, and when they do that, I come on stronger, it has not worked for them. Right is Right, period. And I am staring at it in awe still. so are some others, I made sure to draw notice.

The stasis idea does not agree with the free will of most of the people on this planet. Free will is always respected by the celestials in all cases for mortals, and this is overstepping that boundary. It will never happen.

Quoting: overmind

I am sorry if you perhaps borrowed this from 4 winds. It does not because the planetary mother and her body come before man at this time. Stasis is used quite a bit on planets, for PROTECTIVE PURPOSES, as is the one coming up. The dark thugs do not have the free will to destroy planets. I could go on a lot more on this one, but I will let you figured out the reasons there is justified use. One of those was in 1992 when we entered the photon belt and man was not ready for that. Many people would have blinded permanently or temporarily and the fear of unknowing, a terrible terror would have caused much illness and death also.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I didn't borrow this, I just don't think it is going to happen. There are other reasons, but the will of 7 billion seems to be the biggest. You've been talking about the stasis for a long time, but I never hear about it from other T/R's or the midways. It certainly isn't part of the curriculum for Micheal's Teaching Mission or Monjoronson's Magisterial Mission; you would need to show me supportive examples that don't come from your website.

Quoting: overmind

Overmind, this information is not given to others necessarily. AbundantHope IS the Second Coming organization. In fact others have copied the information and then changed it around. I have several telepaths on my team and they get the same information. Monjoronson's mission is totally under control now of the CIA Council of the NO SO light, and I have shed huge tears over this. They have been confronted. The teaching mission has been totally destroyed by Ron Besser now. That is fact.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I have spoken to Ron quite a bit and I highly doubt that. I have read all of your material. I know what is happening in the teaching/magisterial missions as well. Whatever happens, I will have the knowledge to confront it, and my faith in the Father will not lead me astray. Arguing won't change the facts, and the facts will become clear as events unfold. I will discern what is truth as reality presents itself.

Candace,

Im quoting this from one of your posts in this thread

"All ensouled beings are chipped to the New jerusalem computers which thus always know where you are. "

What does this mean? This language freaks me out. I want nothing to do with this nor do i want to land up where new jerusalem russ is going. I wont go anywhere where I need to be chipped. Id rather be blown into oblivion than succumb to a world based on chips or technology. There has got to be a world where anything can be manifested with the mind and tracking people is against universal law.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

Russ has nothing to do with it. you must be chipped to the computer if you are to be successfully rescued should that become necessary. In the case of Nuclear holocaust dematerializing you to ship is the only way to get you and your soul off the planet. They cannot come in. Nuclear holocaust destroys soul. In the case of that, they have exactly 15 minutes to empty the planet.

that computer on it has copies of the full soul records of every ensouled being on this planet, so that if soul is somewhat damaged it can be restored. Look at your soul as a "hard drive" in this case, your records are stored on electrons and photons. they can be reconstructed.

these chips you have are NOT off this world. They merely tell the New Jerusalem computers where you are so you can be lifted to safety, there is no other purpose.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Then Im out. I dont want a chip. I will be blown to oblivion before I let anything foreign in my system. It will never happen. I have a hrad time believing that in the universe where anything is possible that one has to be chipped to be removed. So, beings in higher dimensions are chipped too? Im sorry, i would rather my soul be blown to bits than EVER get chipped.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

You have nothing to worry about, nuclear explosions do not damage souls. Do you have any idea how ridiculous it is to think that nuclear fission could hurt spirits? It's laughable. There is no way an explosion/nuclear reaction could kill consciousness. NIP would have to argue that it damages the spirit body for it to remotely make sense, and even then it isn't likely. All mortals with survivable qualities will live, and the fragment of the Father inside of you helps create such a soul. You have to really want uncreation and hinder the God Spark for a chance to not survive, and even then it may be fruitless because of the condition the planet is in (long story). You would not even need to be chipped because either your Father Fragment or one of your guardian angels could immediately ask someone to transport you. This chip/nuclear attack thing is bullshit imho.

You are so in fear you would blow off your eternal life over a fleet chip? These are NOT RFID'. They are crytalline. RFID's would not work. I guarantee if you are an eternal being you have one.

I now have to consider either you are in a terrible ignorance, or you are here to cause trouble. Only you know, but you do not understand the ways of the creation nor the trouble this planet is in. As to your New Jerusalem post above, I see I guess you believe in all the crap that has been put out there in new age or whatever. Ashtar Command is REAL, and the New Jerusalem is the Command Craft for the evacuation of this planet. You have no idea apparently of what is going on. Russ is not associated with any of this. He is either terribly ignorant, or a plant. :peace on earth:

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I know full well what trouble this planet is in as I've wanted out for that reason for a long time. I fear nothing, let me make that VERY clear. There is one thing that my inner self WILL NOT accept and that is anything foreign in my system. If its not already existing in my composite body, then I will not accept it. And yes, I would blow an eternal life if I have to have something implanted. Just reading about an implant makes my core being irate. Call me terribly ignorant if thats what makes you feel better, but if higher dimensional beings dont need implants, then I will not accept one, no matter the cost.

Bet on that.

Additionally, if I am to leave this earth the LAST thing Im going to follow is anything with the name Jerusalem, or any name that resembles this world, a continent, country etc. I want nothing to do with any of it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1055324

for the folks who are morontial souls incarnate here they DO. do you know what level you are at? a portion of my soul is downloaded to my body, my monad, and I would not have it destroyed while on this plane. You are speaking of ignorance, I am sad on that. I don't care about this body being destroyed, but a big no on my monad. they need to know WHERE YOU ARE to GET YOU OUT and no matter your very silly words tonight, if you are supposed to be gotten out and not uncreated you have one. They would never leave this decision to an incarnate person who is in confusion within these energies.

You obviously do not remember something or you would not make such a statement. Your life eternal is too important. take or leave it, but if you are not to be left behind during, say a magnetic pole reversal, or anything else YOU HAVE ONE. As I said its NOT an rfid type chip, it is energetic.

There are many many issues of which people have NO IDEA and when memory is lost during incarnation, your guardians will care for you, whether you like it or not, because when you reject such, its in the ignorance of this density. IT IS DENSE here and difficult to think outside the box. Again, I have NOTHING to do with Russ or another new age demonic crap. You would not believe what great souls forget when they are on this plane.

Do you remember, or did you follow Christopher Story, the guy from London, who was murdered, in all that stuff about OITC, 4 Winds, Casper, Fullford et al? He thought this was the only planet in the whole creation with people on it. He had been so mind controlled by his church, I forget the branch right this moment, that he would not accept help thru ME once he thought I was associated with 4 winds, which I am not. He did have quite a laugh about that when he passed and showed up on the other side and got his memories back. That is how serious this IS.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Yes, I remember Christopher Story. I dont buy into Fulford, Casper, et al. What Christopher believed in was his beliefs and he is now in a better place where he understands all. I dont buy into ANY religions or new age movements, but the only thing I WILL share with Christopher Story is I will die organically. I care not how I go, but WILL NOT accept any implants. If my creator cant find me, thats ok too. I dont believe for a minute that I have to be implanted with something in order to be found. If we dont come to this earth in such a manner, then, we shouldnt have to leave in such a manner. To me any other way would be silly and asking to be ruled over...especially to some place called Jerusalem. That should send warning flags to any sovereign being. If it doesn't, respectfully, that is their journey, but never will be mine.

I don't speak of any ignorance, I speak of my knowledge of my soul's being. If it's not already factory built in my system, nobody, I repeat nobody is going to put anything in it so they can "Find Me". That maybe your journey but it won't be mine.

Whatever I have failed to remember, or if I don't know what level I'm on, I will have to figure that out when the time comes and I'm sure whoever or whatever is guarding me will direct me to my course of action. If my course of action is to take an implant I will take a bullet instead. I don't want to be tracked like an animal in this life, nor do I want to be tracked in the next journey. Therefore, I will end all journeys if given something that is not organically part of my body's blueprint.

Oh my Candace. I would never try to tell you what Jupiter is. You will tell me. I am only relaying the light that will be portrayed, the symbol that will be put out for all to see. Yes it may be the light emitted from the craft much like Sirius. The new sun that is behind our sun will only be revealed when it is time.....What we will see first is only a depiction of the truth. But then, I'll let you be the one to put out that understanding..your purpose.

Thank you again for all your help. I did what I set out to do tonight with Melchizedec. How do I share this with you privately? Is there an email linked to AH?

I am just archiving this post from another thread here for the teaching.

The pic of Sirius was a waste of time. The other pics are great.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 3632012

Yeah, it didn't turn out so great. I was a bit disappointed. But hey, beggars can't be choosers.

Quoting: Seer777

really? the image of Sirius is of a plasma light ship which is what it is. Stupendous.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

No, Sirius is a bright, nearby star. The Sirius pic is full of telescope and camera artifacts.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 3632012

No its NOT. It is a craft. I do understand camera goo. I do not deny that. IT CAN MOVE a HUGE DISTANCE in a seconds, me and friend were overjoyed to witness that a few years ago. it moved down about 1/2 the distance to the smaller star at its lower right after it has come up well in the sky. That was a awesome experience. I knew it was not a star and it was proved to me. we watched it from two different locations, she was in Arizona, I live in Colorado. We were yaking on our cell phones and she wanted proof it was a craft, so I asked for it and it happened.

Other orbs you think are stars are not either. Betelgeuse is also one, as are Antares and Arcturus. All of these MOVE and cannot be stars. all flash strobing colored lights. Late Last spring or so when betelgeuse was high and obvious, somebody started a thread and I guided the several of them on that who went out and watched the thing move around. One observed it to carefully make a cross in fact. Stars to do NOT do that.

I was told once by Michael of Nebadon, from his craft that the Capricorn was in the sky east of him. Well there were several east of him, and so I telepathed the commander whose name I was aware of, Helena and asked if she could put on ONLY RED lights as they were all flashing several colors. she DID in fact do that for me. you ones MUST come out of your boxes. If you ones wish to return to the cosmos, or enter the cosmic life, you must get the boxes off your heads, because this is what the ascension of this planet is about.

If it has artificial lights, and shows various strobbing colors, it is NOT a star, it is a craft. Betelgeuse those many months ago was strobbing red and yellow lights, blending created some orange coloration.

Dear NIP,

Do people feel lonely in Paradise or in higher dimension Worlds if without a partner(I guess every soul will be with their soul mates beyond this physical world)?

You once mentioned we go to ships at night to prepare for the later event, do souls remember who they are while on ships at night, to what extends?

Thank you,

yes your "real you" knows when you go. You have to understand that what is labeled as "ego" is the mind that came with your body, and so you have to meditate to connect with the real you. I am in meditation almost 24/7 unless disrupted by say a fire truck and ambulance blaring thru and amazingly I often don't hear those either or only a bit., Yesterday when I went outside to find a large firetruck and ambulance just down the street and then I had a vague memory of hearing it. it is in this simple state where the world is tuned out that is meditation. It has been mis taught I think. But I do have huge homesickness issues and have asked to be released and do this work from craft which is completely possible, in terms of internet connection. That can be done, just making a connection to an ISP on earth. I would have to use one of these computers, not the living computers used on them, but it could be done. I guess it was in this thread, where I told the story of chatting with Siraya on that issue, of why I should not. I long to not feel the compression of this world mostly, it HURTS to come back down into it, quite literally. I always have more body pain when I go to craft often. the "walls" of this body are just 'too small". I sorta of feel like we do when a pair of shoes is too small for our feet.

You are never lonely when you are on your home worlds of higher energy. Or if you are residing in the astral realms between lifetimes. Loneliness that we are experiencing is an earth thing and I can be lonely at a big party of people I know some times, which is because the party folks are playing out 3d and I don't fit so well. Always been an issue since my earliest memories of this life. i was often teased by others for having my head in the clouds even in my first years of public school. I have always been seen as different and in a way I never get used to that. But we are different.

I am less lonely now with the higher contact and the many friends I have on the net now, and even contact right here with you ones, but I am not "home." Almost any world functioning above this one would seem like heaven.

Understand at all levels people/angels argue also and have many different ideas, it is not a place of silly "bliss." You would never totally want that, because you could not grow in that. As the people of this world become god conscious, the loneliness will go away. Its related to this realm and the lack of sensing the god within and connection.

When I do go out and am with spirit filled people, I am less lonely. There are a couple around here I enjoy to be with now and then who are not where I am , but they have spirit and are enjoyable even if I can't strike up a conversation around my work because they cannot go there. They love life and are boisterous and I can enjoy that. 4d that we are barely in, is a time of huge unrest. I would be happier actually if the unrest were greater than it is, it would be exciting. people can't fence sit, something I keep saying. you have to become spirit filled and searching, or you have to be moving backwards into nothingness. That is maybe truly what it means in this sorting, there are ones who have to choose to move up into seeking or toss in the rag and give it up.

Many souls here now have opportunity to fuse with their Father Fragment, it is the time to truly choose the eternal journey or let it go. many let it go. I wonder often on this world if its because there is so little love and people are so lonely. I don't know. But I am pretty sure the % of people who will fuse is rather low and that is disappointing. Because the life eternal is so grand, but it is not without bumps. Even Michael of Nebadon has bumps. So I guess people that drop out cannot do "bumps" so well. This dark world is really full of bumps. Eternal life requires one to work thru the bumps. And only each one can do that, and perhaps on this world, with so many bumps to work thru, this also increases the loneliness, because only each of us can do the work. this is a world to develop the soul. Or not.

See and take the challenges, because you are here to grow, it matters not if you are a young soul or and old one, its matter not if you are a descending son (angel) or an ascending son like me. Growth never ever stops and many of you are here to learn management of the universe, so perhaps looking at that viewpoint, what is there to learn why you are camped out here, that might help you thru the misery and add some joy to you life. There is much to just watch and STUDY and also of course to show a way to others. DO NOT LET THE LONELINESS prevent that.

I understand when you say you are happy spending time with spirit filled people. My whole life I feel very depression and not wanting to stay in this world except those times when I was able to serve, which I became a completely different person, happy, contained, feel like I have fulfilled my duty... But now, my husband is in a state of anxious, insecure, depress and he prisons me... I feel totally lost. That's why I asked you if there is a chance One can be free from marriage after the long stasis to pursuit spiritual development.

NIP, how are you able to meditate 24/7? I do meditate, but I can't do it without sit still and close my eyes. I am trying to mediate at least day time while awake but there is no way I can meditate and work at the same time, you know what I mean... Please show me the trick if you are allowed too (publicly). If you can't tell, it's OK.

Thanks so much for your response!

OK, have been reading and studying. Don't like to post much because I don't want to be tracked. Anyway... I have questions, I will break them up as they come and go alot! Start with a few and build, if that is ok? I am sure you have answered before, but I have read a ton, and want it in simple terms.

So...

Earth is surrounded by Starships, they are in the place of halograms of our stars. Are there any out there hidden, or can we see all of them?

Jesus is on these starships. Do those on the Starships take physical form or are they pure souls? Explain if you desire.

Those leaving the planet, do they need their bodies or is their soul good enough?

Those staying with the planet need to take their bodies with them so they may return?

Is there any way that those staying are going to stay with the planet or do we all need to be evacuated at some point due to SHTF? In other words, is there a way that the earth changes are going to allow us to stay and evolve, or is there no choice and at some point we all have to get off for a while?

Stasis... I will save that.

What happened 2000 years ago while Jesus was here, I believe you mentioned this was also a period for ascension, but it could not be done?

I will wait for replies, but I have many more.

I appreciate this thread and hope that you will spend some time on it. I know you are busy, but I see your replies on many, actually I am looking for your replies. I am fascinated by your thoughts and you will not get any negative comments from me, just questions. If you are here to teach, consider me a student.

Thank You!
Sincerely.

Couldn't help it, more came to me:)

Jupiter became a star back in 2008? It was then hidden behind the sun from our view due to the affect it was having on earth? This would mean that it is now in a similar orbit time frame as the earth, to keep it behind the sun? How fast would that speed it up? It would be really cruzing now, but I guess that would only be in our perception of time and space...

OK, back to thinking.
Thanks.

I love your avatar/picture. I think you are very smart, and a 'good person'. And,, that you are 'nutty cakes' :(

But I understand :) I know how it is to have a strange set of beliefs, that sound pretty wierd, but do not contradict themselves, and are certainly 'possible', but eventually realise that they were indeed screwy.

Um,, is your father named Edgar? If so you may 'know' me, and might entertain my own whacko theories that are much more truthfull. :D

...this is HOW it will look. There will be white lighted mother ships in the east as a sign. That is all. If this happens and those appear above, PLEASE board the craft. Time will be of the essence. because in an axis shift the volcanism happens so fast, they have only at most an hour to get people off.

HEAVEN and GOD are NOT mysterious. But the thugs of this word have deliberately created these stories and it's time for you ones to THINK and become rational. If nothing else you need to be for your children, if not yourselves.

the creation is ancient. The angels were the first followed by the evolution of mind thru the plants and animals. In the end their is no difference, the eternal journey is wondrous and the whole the creation has to offer is before you for your taking and study.

There are evacuation Mother craft out there in the solar system that are 8000 MILES long. You will be shuttled to them. and you know, there are a lot of folks because of the silly stories who will not board the craft or they will run and get pictures and jewelry and heaven only knows what else. And miss their ride out of here.....

Thank you for all you do to share knowledge Nip. I have been seeing the bright star in the east for awhile now and am glad to know that it is a starship. I will make my way to the ships as soon as I see them but I have a couple of questions which may sound silly but can I bring my two pet dogs with me? or is that not allowed. Will we be awakened if it's during the night when we are asleep? Lastly, I thought I read on a thread (maybe one of yours) awhile back that one should bring some food. Please let me know what is acceptable so I can be prepared in advance as it sounds like there will not be time to waste. Thank you again. I can hardly wait as lately I'm just sickened by the amount of hate, war and ugliness that seems to be everywhere.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 3193644

Yes if there is evacuation, you can take your pets. They will handle the levitation beam better than people who have not been prepared in fact.

Yes you will be awakened. All ensouled beings are chipped to the New jerusalem computers which thus always know where you are. You do not bring food, clothing or anything. Just you the kids if home and your animals. Time is of the essence. If somebody posted you needed food or anything else, that is wrong. there will be people who miss their rides while they run to collect pictures and all that stuff.

do not worry if kids are at school or elsewhere. you will be reunited, its all in their computers.

Well, in simplified form,,. I think there is a bunch of 'terrestrial', 'beings', that are filling all the people who might otherwise figure things out and see them as a threat, full of all this 'bullshoi', to keep them occupied, and so that anything real they might come up with, is discounted, because of all the other more fantastic perceptions.

I dont 'know' that we havnt been inhabited by interstellar aliens, but it seems unlikely to me.

If they were the ancients with all this technology why were they wiped out. Why no sign of anything but big stone junk.

If they are here now, and good, why is everything so scrued up? if bad,, why not more scrued up?

I think there is a battle between terestrial beings that to us, are much like gods. (they are much more intelligent that people.) And the bad ones are too predominant.

I also think,, that if aliens were trying to save the magnetic field of the Earth from being flipped by Jupiter.

it would be easier to do it by influencing the magnetic field of the Earth directly with super space technology.

Rather than keeping Jupiter behind the Sun.

It would take tremendous force to speed up Jupiter like that, and tremendous force to keep it in orbit at that radius at that speed.

Has something occurred the last few days? I live in the country and we always have pigeons and doves around. I noticed last Friday/Saturday that they were all gone, no where to be seen, this is strange because they have never been gone before, ever. This morning they are all back doves and pigeons. Just curious if some tasks were being carried out the last few days.

actually it doesn't take tremendous force to keep it moving along to match earth's speed. To prevent the magnetic reversal if Jupiter was visible, would require huge frequent injections of protons inside the magnetosphere which would then cause far more quakes than desired at this point. It would a different inbalance that would be more additive to existing imbalance. I am not sure how that works, just repeating what I was told.

Dear NIP,

Do people feel lonely in Paradise or in higher dimension Worlds if without a partner(I guess every soul will be with their soul mates beyond this physical world)?

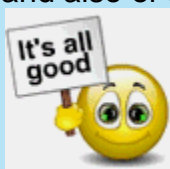

You once mentioned we go to ships at night to prepare for the later event, do souls remember who they are while on ships at night, to what extends?

Thank you,

BWG

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1491467

See and take the challenges, because you are here to grow, it matters not if you are a young soul or an old one, its matter not if you are a descending son (angel) or an ascending son like me. Growth never ever stops and many of you are here to learn management of the universe, so perhaps looking at that viewpoint, what is there to learn why you are camped out here, that might help you thru the misery and add some joy to you life. There is much to just watch and STUDY and also of course to show a way to others. DO NOT LET THE LONELINESS prevent that.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I understand when you say you are happy spending time with spirit filled people. My whole life I feel very depression and not wanting to stay in this world except those times when I was able to serve, which I became a completely different person, happy, contained, feel like I have fulfilled my duty... But now, my husband is in a state of anxious, insecure, depress and he prisons me... I feel totally lost. That's why I asked you if there is a chance One can be free from marriage after the long stasis to pursuit spiritual development.

NIP, how are you able to meditate 24/7? I do meditate, but I can't do it without sit still and close my eyes. I am trying to mediate at least day time while awake but there is no way I can meditate and work at the same time, you know what I mean... Please show me the trick if you are allowed too (publicly). If you can't tell, it's OK.

Thanks so much for your response!

BWG

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1491467

I am not sure how I do that, the constant meditation, its a long old habit perhaps born out of my discomforts as a young child. Its the goal of every god conscious individual actually, the constant or near constant ON switch of your connection. There is a difference between the constant ON switch, and the meditation state required for visualization.

Sometimes when I was a nurse and there was an emergency, it would turn off and thats not a good thing when you need it most. It has in fact possibly saved my life or at least produced a better out come in several situations. It got me out of a rape once etc, staying "online."

I didn't realize you had asked the bolded question above. If your husband is this insecure, he may or may not be here after the ministasis or long stasis, and if he is, perhaps the teaching period after the ministasis will be useful to him. You cannot let your husband totally imprison you. I don't know what the answer IS to your situation. I would suggest that even those in real prisons who come out healthy, do so, because their MIND is not imprisoned, so perhaps you can find something useful in that statement. Part of your spiritual development NOW can be in finding your way in this uncomfortable situation. Spiritual development is always about getting better at problem solving and the situations of life. I have met people that have to give up the uncomfortable marriage (which will bring some karma to work thru in its own way too, I know that one), and others who amazingly don't let it get under their skin. I have to leave for an appointment, timer just went off, I will return later, going to try to catch up some of these threads today if nothing intervenes.

Yes, I think I understand what you mean about ON switch meditation now. I had a short constant ON switch experience some times, usually after a week of meditation retreat, I came out to life but it was like my soul was "above" while my body doing worldly work. Another words, my body was operating normally but the mind was not with it. It feels wonderful. But anyway, it usually only last for a week the most.

I do want to get out of marriage really bad but our world is going through great transition now which he needs a wall to lean on, I told myself to be patient and wait until after the long stasis (but sometimes I feel like I couldn't stand it any longer). If both my husband and I will stay with Earth, then I will talk to a spiritual counselor before the separation... I do hope the teaching after ministasis or during long stasis will help my husband. If any of us leave Earth then it wouldn't be a problem anymore. I do pray for Freedom every day.

Thank you so much for your answers, NIP.

Well 🤔 I spose it depends how you define 'tremendous' but I calculate using round figures that it would take  $1.9 \times 10^{37}$  Joules
Thats 19 with 36 zeros after it Joules of Energy to add the velocity to Jupiter to make it orbit in one year at its regular orbit radius.

Thats  $4.5 \times 10^{21}$  Mega/Million Tons of TNT
Thats 45 with 20 zeros after it Megaton Bombs.

And Im sort of estimating it would take about 4 times that energy a year to keep it in that orbit at that velocity.

The biggest part of that requirement is that Jupiter is so heavy. ( $1.8986 \times 10^{27}$  kg)

You are still thinking "in the box"... You must open that thing up and jump out!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4951034

"the Box' Eh? 🤔

I, am not, in, 'the box'. And even if I were, jumping out of the cornflakes into the frootloops would not help.

Classical physics are true enough for the circumstances they apply to. I certainly admit that we have found exceptions, and that there could be uncountable other exceptions that scientists in the box can not even imagine.

I myself have heard/imagined enough about alien tech, to realise all this 'fantastic' storyline just 'could' be true. But,, I am also experienced enough to know it is 'unlikely'.

If you could say, "🤖" create a flow of space that would accelerate an object in such a way that its mass is not a factor. Such as is the case when something is accelerated by gravity. Then you could probably Pull Jupiter around in that stupid orbit to hide it from Earthlings.

But,, If you could do that you could also probably generate energy with a little compact blackhole/quasar pair held in a superconducting coil of a certain shape that is embedded in a 'supercrystalline' transparent metal that will turn anything including air into radiant energy at the 'quasar' end of the thing.

And, with that easily generate the energy to power a magnetic generator to supplement the Earth's magnetic field enough to counteract whatever malevolent effect a Jupiter/sun would have.

Even out of the 'box' that still makes a lot more sense to me.

The 'Story' sounds too fishy to my out of the box analysis. And I don't even accept anything out of the box, until I have seen proof, or understand it as self evident. Though I certainly know better than to deny anything, that we have not yet discovered on Earth. A lot can happen in a million years.

What I am fairly confident of, is that you cannot trust 'voices', be they said to be from aliens or Gods. Some of them, maybe you can. But you certainly can't in general. And most people I have heard of that listen to them are deceived over, and over, and over, again.

Blossom Goodchild, for instance, had a firm date for their display. After she was betrayed she was sceptical for a few hours or days, but then just accepted the excuse, and got right back up on the circus wagon.

{ and I don't mean to criticise her, or all of the wonderful truths she has also found in her experiences. This seems to be usual, just like the Bible there is some very beautiful truth there, but it is also laced with dark side crap. }

So in general, if 'they' say something don't bet anything important on it till you verify it personally. If they say its going to rain on a certain date, you may bring your umbrella, but maybe bring some sun screen too. But in particular, if you arrive to a sunny day that day, become a little distrustful of your 'source'.

In my experience these bad sources, cannot bring themselves to tell you much if any truth you cannot come about with your own senses. But the most dangerous would be one that tells you 9 true things, to get your confidence and the next one false.

Also even if your 'sources' are trustworthy you cannot trust the 'medium' of dreams and voices for their message. It is too susceptible to and filled with intentional and hapinstancial falsehood.

Even if you have a 'guardian' or whatever. If you can see very well at all you realise we are in a pretty darn bad situation here. Your guardian might not have time to correct every disbelief you have run into. To the contrary, if you are deceived, you may not attract all the efforts of the dark side you otherwise would. So, I'm not sure what I'm accomplishing here, and I know how hard it is, but I cannot help but try to inspire some caution.

Yes, this process of "crystalline lifeforms" is probably a much better way to describe this process, that manifests like a computer would!

Ya know, when Jesus came 2000+ years ago he came into time when donkeys, traveling on foot, etc. were the norm. He fit in perfectly in that regard. WHY is it so difficult for us to consider that when he comes this time that he will come to "fit in" also...computers, pcs, etc. We just have to get out of the "religiosity mindset" and get into the Spirit mind to appreciate his capacity to reveal Himself as one of us again.

I have evangelical friends who literally believe there will be large horses galloping from horizon to horizon. If I try to suggest anything different, they practically go postal on me. I do not know how the Second Coming will materialize but feel the time is close. As for the evangelical friends, all I can do is love them, be their friend, not challenge their unmovable stance -- it does no good & if it works for them, so be it -- and be their when the time comes to support them if things happen ever so slightly different from what they expect. OBTW, they are all pre-trib rapture believers ... sigh.

Candace--I always enjoy your threads when i can read them, that is.
I can't stand all the hateful comments some so childishly choose to post. It actually physically hurts and I admire your strength
Some days I feel like I wouldn't be able to handle it so I skip your posts and catch up later.
Much love to you!

I would like to ask you a question, if you have a minute. I've asked you things before and your answers always sit just right with me.

Lately--the past several days--I just don't feel like myself.
Out of sorts and bordering on confusion and maybe even disorientation.
Things seem surreal. Everything seems to take place in slow motion at times. Colors look different. My ear ringing has intensified and at times I feel lost.
I see grids when I close my eyes and I hear voices, but I've come to the conclusion that I'm clairaudient--you should hear some of the stuff I hear! LOL!
I've heard voices since I can remember so that doesn't bother me.

One day I had to force myself to remember where I was. That scared me. Thankfully it only happened once.
Sometimes when I'm driving it feels like the road is tipping sideways.
I'm healthy and have always been blessed with a killer constitution and immune system so I really don't think I need to see a doctor at this point and I feel fine physically.

I feel something huge is right around the corner. Maybe the things you talk about???
I almost have the jitters and am edgy with anticipation.
It's driving me crazy!

Last night I was lying in bed with my reading light and puzzle as I do every night and I was told "Close your eyes and I'll tell you something". So I did, hoping for an answer, but I fell asleep pretty quick and I don't remember my dreams.

Please--what is going on? Is this normal at this point?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1124291

Candace--please if you have a minute, could you address this for me.

It's all getting worse and I can't come up with a way to calm myself.
Music usually works for me, but I can't listen long enough right now.

I can't relax much less meditate. Much too hyper. I'm constantly distracted and my mind is racing.
The butterflies in my stomach are almost constant and I have almost zero appetite and my hands have started shaking at times.

What is it and how can I calm down?

Is what you're talking about really close? Is that what I'm anticipating?
Or am I losing my mind?

Can anyone help me?

I think you are misinterpreting the disagreement. My position is that God doesn't need a "computer" to keep track of an individual, though there are records of every individual with will in the grand universe which may be stored on a computer-like device. But everyone has a fragment of the Father, and every individual has a pair of guardian angels (though these may not be personal guardians). What I'm saying is a computer would be less efficient in the current process of mortal care in the realm of spirit. The role of the "implants" Candace is talking about can easily be performed by the Indwelling Spirit. It isn't necessary, it doesn't happen.

well I need to catch up, haven't had much motivation today to teach. They did some rocking of the planet today and I get a bit of motion sickness. Proven to me by the way the shadows did their thing.

Star Ship jupiter might be worth watching tonight if you have a very clear sky without clouds nearby, as I just watched it move around. clouds can distort that and make a "star" seem to be moving when it isn't. I have crystal clear sky tonight. also watched a little meteor like streak from its right side, maybe have been a smaller craft leaving, maybe? not sure.

OK, have been reading and studying. Don't like to post much because I don't want to be tracked. Anyway... I have questions, I will break them up as they come and go alot! Start with a few and build, if that is ok? I am sure you have answered before, but I have read a ton, and want it in simple terms.

So...

Earth is surrounded by Starships, they are in the place of halograms of our stars. Are there any out there hidden, or can we see all of them? Our solar system is being moved into an eternal energy stream These pretenders maintain a "normal appearance" of the sky, until we can inform man what is going on. There are many that are not manifested but can manifest, and many far enough away you can't see them. Physical craft are required to lift physical people, but many can cloak themselves in various ways. Some, like the one pretending to be Sirius, are plasma light ships from the very high realms. A lovely image of one was taken from the GLP 20 inch scope the last weekend, of Sirius. I may upload as a smiley to use here. I should have placed the link on my site, but I might just send the image to Christ L and let him post it. There are at least 10 million mother craft here, in and just out of the solar system at this time. I have an image on my website of a couple big transports parked by saturn's rings. These are up to 8000 MILES long, the diameter of earth. Let me get the linky. [link to abundanthope.net]

Jesus is on these starships. Do those on the Starships take physical form or are they pure souls? Explain if you desire. It depends on their purpose. Those that need to be seen use forms of some sort visible to our eyes. I think "semiphysical" is reasonable term. These ones can "park" their bodies and travel in spirit as needed. There are many "levels" of spirit. Spirit beings from the higher realms have spirit forms that include their soul, for lack of better term. There are photon forms. Which IS a form, and not just a soul. Lightbodies is a word you might have heard, which because it is made of light, our eyes don't see it, but it IS a form. There are many forms actually out of the rang of human eyes, but they are very real forms, and again, semi physical would be a good word.

Photon beings will sometimes show at night on digital cameras. turn down the "music" in this video, and you well see a spirit (photon) person dancing with the people. [link to www.youtube.com]

Those leaving the planet, do they need their bodies or is their soul good enough? Depends. Many are here to serve and when that's not needed they may just drop the body. Many will drop these bodies and take on a "cloned" form that is much better than this. Others cannot do that and will in form to their new experiences. And some will transported by method of soul to new destinations too. As to this sorting, it started years go as people pass anywhere and there are currently over 200,000 earth folks in their earth bodies on Venus. (the venus you see in the sky is craft. real Venus has been terraformed and is opposite us IN OUR ORBIT.)

Those staying with the planet need to take their bodies with them so they may return? Generally yes A few of us on the AH team may get new ones I have new one waiting to use. Some of those who are elderly, not in good shape will return by birth.

Is there any way that those staying are going to stay with the planet or do we all need to be evacuated at some point due to SHTF? In other words, is there a way that the earth changes are going to allow us to stay and evolve, or is there no choice and at some point we all have to get off for a while? you all need to be evacuated or in stasis when the big wave hits, which will make huge changes in the vibration of the matter. We are currently in small waves periodically, but there is big one coming and the planet must be effectively empty. When that will happen is not fully determined though.

Stasis... I will save that.

What happened 2000 years ago while Jesus was here, I believe you mentioned this was also a period for ascension, but it could not be done? I am not totally sure what you are asking, but then, no not an ascension. There was a resurrection of what are called the sleeping survivors which really means usually those in living in the astral between lives and reincarnating, but unaware of truth etc. the planetary prince, Caligastia, from those last days of the Lucifer Rebellion, was deposed of his position and he would not release anyone who came to this planet to incarnate, not even Moses etc, and all these "captives" of more advanced souls were released to continue their journeys. the mansion worlds received a LOT of 3rd circle souls and above, who had been trapped here. From then on, all those who reach 3rd circle (5 d god consciousness) or more, arrive where they should go, within 3 days of passing. reincarnation from the astral realms no longer required.

I will wait for replies, but I have many more.

I appreciate this thread and hope that you will spend some time on it. I know you are busy, but I see your replies on many, actually I am looking for your replies. I am fascinated by your thoughts and you will not get any negative comments from me, just questions. If you are here to teach, consider me a student.

Thank You!
Sincerely.

Couldn't help it, more came to me:)

Jupiter became a star back in 2008? It was then hidden behind the sun from our view due to the affect it was having on earth? This would mean that it is now in a similar orbit time frame as the earth, to keep it behind the sun? How fast would that speed it up? It would be really cruzing now, but I guess that would only be in our perception of time and space...

OK, back to thinking.

Thanks.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4951034

It became a star (was made a star using technology) in early February 2009. I don't know the speed, but yes it would speed it up considerably. YOur can see our new baby sun being moved back behind the sun here, mid March 2009. [link to sohowww.nascom.nasa.gov] It is not difficult to change orbital speed, so I am told.

Notice the word "solar corona" in this. Nasa was given some pressure to place this as pic of the week for our readers. I am sure nobody else had a clue. Also, it says Jupiter was lost in the glare of the Sun, this is important because people were watching the star ship hologram right ON TIME, which was probably about 4 weeks before this image that "star ship jupiter" was first seen after the passage behind the sun.

It would take tremendous force to speed up Jupiter like that, and tremendous force to keep it in orbit at that radius at that speed.

Quoting: quest 1482722

actually it doesn't take tremendous force to keep it moving along to match earth's speed.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Well 🤔 I spose it depends how you define 'tremendous' but I calculate using round figures that it would take 1.9 x 10<sup>37</sup> Joules
Thats 19 with 36 zeros after it Joules of Energy to add the velocity to Jupiter to make it orbit in one year at its regular orbit radius.

Thats 4.5 x10<sup>21</sup> Mega/Million Tons of TNT
Thats 45 with 20 zeros after it Megaton Bombs.

And Im sort of estimating it would take about 4 times that energy a year to keep it in that orbit at that velocity.

The biggest part of that requirement is that Jupiter is so heavy. (1.8986x10<sup>27</sup> kg)

For you OBE, that is ATON. This is from the title of the piece I did with him and Esu In April 2005. its message number 25 under my name on the website.

Ok, I am logging off for the night. I will look at any more tomorrow I hope. I have another thread I need to catch up. Happy Arkansas Crystal activation day!

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Well, what a surprise to me, Arkansas Crystal Activation Day! Had not heard about it! The night before last, during my sleep and right before awakening....I was awakened by very severe vertigo sensations. True vertigo, not just dizziness. It happened to me off and on all day yesterday, so much so that I put on some of my husbands "sea bands" wrist bands for dizziness and nausea.

Also saw Jupiter that night very bright and flashing blue, red, green and gold and some flashes around it flying around! Very exciting as it is brighter and closer than I have ever seen it. This was the night after some severe storms came through here, so the chemtrails were not in place yet.

They did some rocking of the planet today and I get a bit of motion sickness. Proven to me by the way the shadows did their thing.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I can confirm this too NiP! For the last week or so, I have been experiencing nausea like it was off the charts: I think the Thugs are trying to set off the Big Earth quake in Salt Lake City!?! :(

The negative impact has been considerable, to say the least(with unbalanced dizziness).....but then, none of us really expected EVIL to go down without a few Temper Tantrums either!!!

No big deal.....We will get there! :)

Hey NIP, not to be a pain, but it seems you spend more time on others threads replying than you do on your own? Many are waiting for answers, granted you may have already answered them elsewhere, but you could at least point the eager in the right direction to find them on their own:)

Especially those late to the party!

Couple new questions:

1. Someone in Arizona ( I think) filmed a dot behind the sun a day or two ago, was that Jupiter peaking a glimpse? I have looked several times the last couple of days and I cannot see anything, I am eager to get at least a short eye shot.

2. Was the Arkansas crystal activated today successfully? What effect is this to have on our future?

A sincere Thank You, in advance... I love your insight, it stimulates my mind. I will be honest, I haven't quite bought in, but I haven't ruled it out. What you say is so far out of the Cornflakes box, that it has to be considered as a possibility!

I haven't tried to determine if these are Jupiter Sometimes it can also be Venus. I have not looked at any videos. nearly always these are camera goo and so I rarely open them. I just went out and looked thru my sunglasses setup I have, nothing of interest but these would not be able to determined another body until moved well beyond the corona. When my eyes are recovered from the after visions of that, I will try to go out and use a different method and see if anything shows to my after visions. do you have a link or is that in one of the videos above I have not checked? Did you mean to say "behind the sun?" or next to the sun?

I work everywhere here, not just my threads. I sorta go where I feel called to do. I do not tend to work in the great threads that are here on GLP, I tend to work the trenches so to speak. however I think I am going to give up on the christian threads, I got banned some more and stuff erased which is their right, and why I am a paid member here, so I can do the same. I Posted in a good thread today, where someone asked about Christianity supporting Israel, and boy a few came around real quick to lay that good thread down. I don't know if it continued or not, I un pinned it when I saw who was coming, waste of time to continue.

Yes the Crystal was activated, and I was out on bus to do errands for several hours yesterday and I was wondering why every one was so cheerful, wondered if it was the crystal, or just TGIF day. riding the bus was actually enjoyable. Lots of talk and gab and they were more riders than usual, for whatever reason. It was midday. who knows.

the crystal will pick up the wave energies finally coming up thru the core of Mother Earth and help with process of distribution into surrounding matter and the volcanic tubes will pick up on that in the area and carry more energy. I advise reading the links I posted on my site, I have not read thru all 4 pieces of teaching.

Crystals store a lot of information but I don't know if average man will pick it up. I will suggest a lot of ancient records would be there for viewing to. Being an old structure from Atlantis, I assume all sorts of stuff is stored on it. Reptilians are not down there any more to interfere either with it.

I removed two posts because I gave a request that a certain disussion END, because of not bearing fruit. Overmind, you will just keep this up and its over. I will in the not to far away future when I am caught up enough, go back to an earlier question ask by a reader that is related. I corrected an error in my own post, having left out the word NOT. Etheric/crystal implants are not in violation of the law, nor are they chips such as earthman uses. I will find the older post when I have the time and quietness needed to answer it fully, that will require me to be connected to my monad to get the information.

I am cooking after the shopping, I have to get some foods put up. I will continue to work back and forth here and my own forum in between when I need to sit a bit.

Always good to read your posts, and your posters are good too. The thing about this is that it feels true, if we do have an indwelling spirit of god then it would make sense that his truths would feel harmonious, and lies would feel like discord.

That feeling has been the underlying reason why I don't go to churches anymore, they just feel contrived.

Isn't the real church supposed to be built without hands? Implying it is spiritual. Maybe this is the same reason why christian music is so bland.

Yes, I generally do not go "outside" myself anymore to find answers... I ask, and answer from within, then go out and see if anybody else has the same beliefs. I unfortunately have to attend a funeral of an ex-co-worker tomorrow, my mom passed away recently, and I have no desire to attend this, but I will be peered into it, I do understand that from saying this it is my choice. It will also give me a chance to analyze the dribble from the pastor and also the energies I feel within the church. A High Five for going within!...Long before I even had access to the internet (because I worked 12 hours a day most days) and was not interested, I found myself being "taught" by the Holy Spirit some truths that went against what the world would say was acceptable and/or truth. Then I became familiar with the Phoenix Journals just this year and have had those teachings verified there.

Weird happening at work that people have noticed. For some odd reason whenever I'm within say 5 feet of someone wearing safety glasses the glasses seem to fog up. At first I thought ok what causes condensation maybe its speech but its happening to everyone I go to even if their just working and not talking.

I've done much clearing and work on things since I first learned of ascension and well my whole life has had very very peculiar events and knowings so to speak.

For something like this to occur tho tells me we are very close to the event.

Using text only I'll describe it.

So its spherical.

5 quartz crystals wrapped in wire make the two sides. (10 quartz crystals in all) imagine the crystals as 1 side points up the other side points down from a hemispherical point of view.

You then wrap the wire around say a jar lid to make two platforms. Attaching 1 set of crytals to the top and another set will make the bottom half.

On the bottom of the two platforms you attach magnets so that it levitates and has the ability to rotate.

Connect the two spheres with hooks and a wire running down to another crystal in the center thats attached to the two wires running from the top to the bottom tho the two sides are interchangeable.

It creates some form of a harmonic torsion field tho I'm not sure what use it has I figure "if you build it they will come"

I've received messages for devices like this in the past this time tho I'm ready to build it.

Need to find a word for a non-magnetic hook that can rotate on a platform.

After that you take one set and tune them to the moon and another set is tuned to the sun.

The center crystal is tuned to the earth.

the hierarchy decided to let those who completed 51% of karma ascend with the planet is all, because progress is so slow. On the karma clearance issue the most of these are the fallen beings and rules made for them this is their last chance for a LONG time now, so the criteria were modified about 40 years ago. Everyone is sorted to go or stay these days as they pass this plane. These rules don't apply to the higher energy star seeds. The sorting off the planet for those not ready has allow "space" for incarnating star seeds.

Yes a crystal torsion field methinks.....

have you begun making it at all?

I could maybe help with some ideas or problem shooting. Be careful though of creating big external fields, these must be balanced and also must have a purpose, ie crystal radionics kits.....

What type of quartz are we talking, is it infused with patinum, also what size are the magnets.

Hit me back to chat as above mentioned I may be able to help you nut this one out. Crystal techs are coming through alot now.....in future we will be able to harness or reharness for the ones who were here in Mu the types of computers we used back then.

Torsion fields are interesting when used properly and in a balanced way.....be sure to use large magnets to contain the field or you could gets some huge jolts of electric energy from these babies.....

Kind Regards,

Brendan.

So the message I've got on its purpose, "grand purpose" is just a energy modality unit. It basically shrinks down the energies associated with sun/moon/earth into a tinier field I assume to make connecting with them easier, hell maybe it does 100's of things I just know that the intents must be place into the two sides 1 sun 1 moon center crystal earth.

I guess I should meditate on it more as to focused intent its one of the main parts nagging at me besides the physical construction. I realized the other day there maybe to much pressure on the wires but at the same time I could just reduce hemispherical pressure by chain linkage increments to hopefully get a balanced effect.

Finding the proper crystals and tuning mechanisms is another road of inquiry but not quite as hard since I know the general route to take.

Thanks.

By the way have you ever read the book "The Legend of Altzar" ?

Ok so I'll answer some of the other questions you posited the magnets I see are small ones here's an example.

[\[link to www.amazon.com\]](#)

I think still smaller than that but probably not by much.

In one of my other posts part of what I'm looking for or thinking of making is a closed spindle hook.

[\[link to www.amazon.com\]](#)

So here's another example of a hook but the one I see is small probably much smaller than that but what I was thinking is get a sheet of aluminum cut out the size circle I need, put a hole in the center.

Slice off the end of that hook and place the hook in a vise take a sledge hammer and beat the end flat against the metal if I could find a hook already made like that it would save me the effort of getting one of those made correctly so that it will pivot.

The whole device is around half the size of a globe so one hemisphere's worth of space. Roughly of course ~

I've gotten hints that the idea of quartz was just a place holder but I'm not sure how to fasten sun/moon/earth - crystals or what types of crystals those would be but then again I think the whole point of this is finding those answers in themselves.

You know I can understand the part about higher energy star seeds. Coming to this plane I have to readjust my energies to even function here. When I was young it was like learning how to ride a bike for the first time just getting around, when I saw others having such an easy time at it.

Like how to not show kindness, greed all sorts of foreign ideas to my normal modality. I can grasp now why we have these experiences without any form of an alternate we'd only exist in a higher plane this method of duality creates an interplay that can't function on the other side.

Are you supposed to be here?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 5868336

well, where do you think I should be?

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

That's presumptuous, I'm asking a serious questions, searching for knowledge.

Do you believe you should be here, relaying this info, possibly influencing the scales?

Did you consciously always know this alleged truth, or did it come after speculations and subscriptions?

Do you think others may not support your presence here?
(You know what I mean).

Thank you for you time.

I did not understand your question because I was banned here once 2 years ago, and I thought maybe you remembered me from before and were asking why I am here on glp again.

I consciously know yes. I provide that which is "permitted" by Michael of Nebadon. I travel to craft often and I run the ground crew portion of our joint partnership, AbundantHope, the genuine 2nd coming organization. I communicate daily with those above, completely consciously by telepathy.

We have a global team which after the stasis period of cleansing with the planet (magnetic pole reversal and axis shift), will direct the rehabilitation of this planet and her civilization. My team is fully conscious of their work. We ARE influencing the scales I guess you could say.

There are many here on glp who do not support this and many also on the planet who do not support it. The plan of Michael (who was Jesus) here has faced huge rejection since his return in 1954. Almost everything attempted has been destroyed or seriously meddled with. My team has had a lot of difficulty with computer problems, murder attempts and in fact murder in a few cases, of team member we have not announced to the public. it has not been fun, but it goes on.

the planet will be divided into 50 to 100 areas for direct administration from "heaven", the Lucifer Rebellion is over here and this planet is back under the administration of Nebadon. The two that played the role of Jesus will walk this planet in body. We will have an international headquarters over all the regional units. This is a very well planned process.

Some one is suggesting your presence is not welcome, there are more insinuations.

Seemingly there are operatives whose job it is to eradicate you. Of course,

I am seemingly weary of the structure they use to (help) us grow spiritually. Which brought me to ask you questions, hence...

How is this alleged contract between us and them been nullified?

Where was all the energy going, and who was it directed at in particular?

If there is a reason to destroy you, then you are seemingly effecting things in the ethereal, or is that future tense?

This alternative you are suggesting seems distorted, please clarify, how will all this bring service to others consciousness to a higher level?

I cannot tonight explain this life time journey, nor the creation of my organization as you have missed the whole show since we went public in 2005. yes we are engaged also in affecting the etheric.

this planet is being upstepped in vibration, and those that cannot work with it, get to move to other worlds. They would not survive here other wise anyway. so its not an issue with them. About 1 billion souls will remain after the big upshift coming and the attendant earth changes. The ones remaining are the ones who have earned the right to ascend with the planet. There is nothing future that can be done to bring those who are not ready to god consciousness within. it is not there. It is not their time.

These things are done to planets at the end of certain ages. they are uplifted and cleansed. This is a very sick world, both of consciousness and the pollution.

GAIA has become a person and is making her own ascension to God Consciousness and sometimes in this case with the planetary supremes of other worlds, the people are ready and can move up in tandem. Only a small number on this planet are. Or almost. some almost ones will get an opportunity to continue to try. The planet must be emptied during the time the Mother makes her ascension and her body is prepared to match her consciousness.

After this period of stasis, of suspension of life energies , so the planet can be cleansed these 1 billion will be taken out of stasis and will be guided in the uplifting of their consciousness to the ascended state, all that seek that.

Please explain, looking at this world, I am not sure the bar should have been lowered, especially after the Penn State scandal and the pending wars in Iran/Israel... Your thoughts?

The Penn State abominations and middle east wars are not the fault of most people. And I'd think that most of those responsible for those bad situations are well short of 51%.

What are a few clear signs you are moving on with the planet?

What prevents you from being reset?

How can I help others recognize service to self polarity, and desire it? (It's getting lonely, and I am tired of the selfishness inherent within).

Why specifically do they want you killed?

Is it the info you are spreading, or the effects it's having on their control?

Also, are you a group consciousness or individual beings working together?

Is your law the same as their law?

How will the structure of the levels of energy be upon completion, for the different groups?

Define, to the best of you abilities, the 2 factions within the family?

Please define the providence, what is this being or energy/idea?

What is the difference between the holy spirit, and the holy ghost?

Do you use higher forms of magic?

How do you sleep at night?

Is the idea of helping others, by helping yourself, spiritually backtracking, or perceived as a positive?

Thank you for your time.

Dear Nip,
On another thread you mentioned that there was a possibility of the entire planet going into stasis as most would not go willingly. Can you please elaborate? Honestly, my concern suddenly became that I would not move forward to the next level (if that's what's supposed to happen) and that I would have to repeat this whole 3d/duality experience again :(
Is this because of the earth changes to come compounded by potential nuclear war? Thank you in advance.

It is time for the changes to come in full force. The coming days are crucial. Heed the words of our Father Source. Many references to the coming Stasis.

Time for Passage- The Creator Source

The Earth's clock has slowed down and the ticking sound of those hands becomes feint. Prepare you ones who are in the knowing as night falls to herald an imposed period of slumber. It has become necessary to execute with fervour the saving grace; that which will rescue the planet herself from the doldrums of darkness which has infiltrated her body and awareness and created torpor destined to keep her numb. Gaia's body has become for the most part comatose through eons of abuse. Her spirit is most willing to abide by her Creator's will but her body cannot respond as required. She has become powerless and there is now need for higher intervention.

The prophesy of 2000 thousand and more years ago in your counting must be fulfilled, for this is the very promise made by MY SON. HIS word shall be fulfilled. However HIS return will not be in the likeness of that which most believers expect. Many will be gravely disappointed, should they know, that their perceptions of his return scantily resembles their expectations. In fact they will not know until it is too late. It has become necessary for major action to be taken not in accordance with the original plan. Yet as you ones know plans have had to be amended to take into consideration the needs of the earth and the people and to protect for the greatest good all from the incipient chaos that the dark brothers have planned.

You cannot even begin to imagine the fierceness of their plans for you ones. For this has turned into a raging battle between Evil and God. Yes you heard ME. The evil that scars your earth plane uses man in their battle against God and by this I mean MY very SON who gave most of them life. Sons against Father; sons and daughters who have disowned their very Source. They care not about you ones who they have infected with their poisonous ways. They seek to attack the Father through you. This they do in myriad ways. Of late however grave diabolism marks their intent.

They will stop at nothing now to have their way for they intend to have the last say. There is an unbridled power emanating from within them now that is at its fiercest as they face the final countdown. They know that it is time. They have for aeons hidden behind man and earth to wreak their havoc. Now they will face Michael MY very Son and HIS host. This is the time of true and deliberate reckoning. They know beloved and they fight now with every ounce of strength left.

They have been deluded into believing that the victories that they have achieved over the earth and her inhabitants can endure. They fight with all that is physical- they have not one iota of cosmic or spiritual strength. They are going to be nipped. They will simply and easily be removed. MY SON has efforted to bring them home using various means and tactics, but they have rejected HIS welcoming love and now they must face the fire of their own choosing.

There will be no war, no Armageddon as was and is expected by some. Man cannot fight with God. It just isn't possible. God has no intention of reducing Himself to mans' level of expectation or perception. God does not indulge in these nursery games. HE efforts to bring ones out of the nursery as graduates in spirit. There will be peace in the movement that will be initiated without acceptance. Man will not now be given a choice for he has long been given the choice. Many have shunned the offering, few have accepted it whole heartedly and others have tasted and remain undecided.

For those of you who know what is at this very moment eventualising in another dimension, you will know what must follow. The inevitable is being executed now and time is to pause. The Father knows what is best and for those who have made their commitments knowingly, I ask that you place your whole hearted trust in the Father's will and way. The intricacies of execution should not be your concern. You are not in a position to understand how it will all unfold. Just trust. Readiness of your spirit is all that is necessary. I want you to remember that I AM not moved by words that you utter through your lips; I AM moved by what is in your heart as aligned with your spirit.

You cannot want things of the earth and also desire to be with ME. This simply means that you must let go now of your desires and wants and preferences and join with MY SON. Let go and Let God be the ONE who guides you from within. Empty yourself that I may fill you; that you may be in no doubt where your allegiance lies. Disown these feelings of attachment to earthly things. True Love is imperishable and cannot be lost through death or separation.

Focus now on your spiritual enhancement for wherever you may find your self, God will not do it for you. You will not just find yourself with wings through the manifested changes. You will earn your wings. Let this time be spent in reverence with the Holy one who abides in the soul's precinct. Allow the feeling of Oneness born from the love of your creation to be your inner field. Effort in the moments of your life now, to consciously join with ME from within and intend to hear ME.

You are not conscious of the hour of change; you will not know when it happens BUT you can transit into it with a supreme knowing and confidence. Know that indeed Michael's will shall be done for HIS will is always in accord and synchronicity with MINE OWN. Trust that your loved ones will be where they must and do not spend your time worrying about this or that. I ask you- what matters now? Think on that.

Michael needs totally committed co creators; ones who will stand with HIM through thick and thin; ones who will not whimper at the slightest inconvenience; ones with initiative, drive and openness, who stands ready to effect HIS plans for the planet. I will remind you again that though major changes will be effected, each will continue to have responsibility for his/her spirit's evolution.

God does not discount the human feeling or emotion; but does expect that those who have evolved in spirit's way shall make all choices amenable to spirit and the infinite 'spirit being'- God.

These are most precarious times on your earth plane and I issue a caution to you of the Light to be vigilant and remain in alignment every moment. The darkened brothers know that they are living and ruling on borrowed time and that MY SON is here now to reclaim what is HIS. The process will be executed with great finesses, sureness and certitude.

Blessed be these word for they are given and received in Holy truth. Abide by them. Time is now of the essence.

Would really appreciate viewing that... Am writing a story about the Mother Ships at present. These are definitely here for a reason - and to my mind are not the commonly viewed smaller UFOS --- There was a report by to British pilots who both saw one of these HUGE ships from different flight paths and so verified each other. One of the pilots commented that it was just miles long - so HUGE ---- stationary -- Never forgot this report - I am taking the view that they could lift of millions of people if the need arose - I know this goes against popular New Agey thinking - but I would love to be lifted up into the Mother Ships... Have no fear of these ones....

The few who desire to become a servant to others, in the service of the source, are clearing the guilt. We are shedding the self and the material, or at least our attachment to it all.

The creator is presenting opportunities everyday. How do we ensure we do not fall into some trap involving thought or moral relativism?

Back to the source is great, into some hive consciousness of self polarity, equals not where we are heading.

How are you not lost in the sauce, mixing and matching esoteric, metaphysical, spiritual, and a little *left-handed ideology?

What are the benefits you receive on a spiritual level, by making this information known?

What are the rules you adhere to on this level on existence?

Hi NIP,

What time frame do you see this happening? 6 months? 3 months?

Will everyone be evacuated or just those who are conscious and pure? What about those who have destroyed this planet and continue to?

If you can write a long post answering this and more, that would be very nice.

Thanks

Dear Nip,

Will you be able to elaborate on the chemtrails which seem to be following a black line? I am asking based on your comments on the other thread where you advised vitamin c. It would seem that we are heading into a full planet stasis very very soon, not 3 months or 6 months, is this so? Thank you for all you share. I just tuned into your Abundant Hope site. Much love to you Nip. 🍌 🍌

I had a beautiful dream last night, where the sky were full of bright stars but those stars are moving in large groups in many different directions. They seem very busy doing something.

Few weeks ago I also had a similar dream where it was almost night time (around sun set) and the sky suddenly came full of ships, each ship was round and as large as a moon (ships were closer to earth). There were a few ships parked on ground and many ETs walked on earth friendly talking to us. We, people on ground, were very happy to meet them. The atmosphere was very peaceful and joyful.

Oh, the moon size ships were very bright like small suns which lighted up the whole sky and all started to appear from the West and moving to East.

It was just a dream but I felt so delighted!

Lovely dream, I have had many such, and its about to come true. I am going to start the story shortly, because we are going to evacuate every last human being off this planet soon now. All the other ideas have wholly failed, as they required assistance from the dark controllers to come into the light. We are no longer going to the do the ministasis, during which the dark would have been removed, so we could teach for a few weeks or months and the hope was to enable people to willingly evacuate this world. BE back shortly. I need some coffee, the high pressure system,cloudy skies and snow today have me sleepy. A wonderful meditation didn't quite restore the body though.

Yes we are regarding the stasis. That is a testing going on by the dark to reduce the planetary population. Its not fully working yet, still in test stage, regards the dark chemtrails. Its not how God does things. If planetary over population reduction is going to be allowed, it is allowed on better planets than this one that have made poor choices, and people are allowed to experience what they caused from the natural diseases that arise in those situations. They do not allow the dark thugs on worlds like this to deliberately murder large populations by lab created diseases or nerve gas type poisoning. This planet is now under the full management of heaven realms.

The people do not know here, and are thus not held accountable for what they do not know in that regard. This is a prison ward as I have said before, for thugs and only about 10% of them grew up, into the beginning of service to others way of doing things. The rest remained in self service at the expense of others and are now preparing the major world war, using robotic cyborg armies and other terrible technologies, between the two major powers, and they will not step down from that, so we are moving forward for all these too, to end the show and let GAIA rise up. If the planetary people were in support of massive killing wars, like world war 1 and 2, then these are allowed so people can experience what they have partaken in. But at this stage there are many people on this world who don't have a clue and otherwise there are also many who sincerely want peace, and by the stasis we are giving honor to that.

Thank you for your response Nip. What you share makes sense and by reading Hazel's message from The Creator Source it sounds like we will not know when this stasis will occur but I get the impression it is imminent to say the least. Will there at least be a sign for us who strive for peace? Also, will we move onto our originally planned path even though there's been a change of events?

Thank you again Nip.

It is most definitely time for Divine Intervention... as the minority cling on to the old world with their fancy goods and selfish aspirations the rest of us are waking to the facts... the dark ones and their agendas are being uncovered every day...

There is no trust... consciences are been pricked and good people caught up in the web of the great deception are questioning the validity and their allegiance to a system that is clearly debauched.

The world as it awakes is being given the chance to view the tyranny but indeed, the covert dark operators are closing in and as they do, poised to pounce, their cloak of wool dissolves, just in time, for in the Light it is revealed their treacherous, ravenous appetite for evil.

Fear not... the One that breathed life into humankind is present. Connect and encompass your Divine Power.

Our collective vision of Oneness in Love and Life is Our future, Our Destination.
Courage to all hearts.

Just like Chernobyl fleet came and did what could be done for Fukushima. You were fed a rather drawn out lie. all 3 running reactors melted down very quickly and there was assistance given. That mess cannot fully be fixed at this time. During the cleanup during the long stasis period, they will tractor the nuclear plants and other stuff out of here and throw them into the sun actually. Which well take care of it. They may or may not have done that with the melted down cores. They did with the melted cores in the Trade center after 911.

The black plague was allowed to run its natural course. It was due to over crowding and terrible conditions. It was how nature worked and will and does again. AIDS is allowed to awaken man to his behaviors. It did and does have the ability to wipe the entire population off the planet though. There has been some attenuation of its many forms. Doesn't hurt for man to learn to control his sexuality and other issues that lead to the spread of such diseases. While it was lab created however. It was expected or hoped anyway, to wake people up and hopefully they wished to survive enough to put pressure on their rulers. Just like 911, they did not. 911 was allowed in hopes truly Americans would wake up, only a very few did. At the time 911 was allowed, they above had lost all hope on this planet.

As to the 10 billion prisoners reincarnating here, situations are allowed for them to experience the other end of the coin. For example, while I was appalled at the Israel attack on Gaza 2 or 3 years ago, and we saw nothing done, those in Gaza are Khazar thugs incarnate experiencing the other side of the coin by their own kind in Israel. Those not guilty in those areas are often temporarily lifted out of harms way during these scenarios and put back gain. I cried for the children, but you see the thugs need to feel what they have done to children. So those needing that lesson are put into incarnation to feel it.

There is a great deal of seething between races anyway in the middle east and many incarnated into that area have long be at each other, or are experiencing again,, a karmic condition. Many folks in hopelessly poor areas are experiencing that other side of the coin too, experiencing the lack they have caused on others. That is the nature of the prison world, you kill by the sword, you die by it at another time. There are folks who learn NO OTHER WAY.

Evolution on planets is overseen as to lessons necessary, but in the case on this planet, its heavenly rulers entered into the Lucifer Rebellion. This whole group LEFT the higher realms. They refused to undertake their normal rules and guidance. This is not a normal planet. Lucifer and cohorts created their own show and he was temporarily given this planet to find out WHY his ideas could not work. That is why we have this intense reincarnation here, because Caligastia, the Fallen Prince of this world would NOT LET ANYONE LEAVE which is why the volunteers were morooned until Michael of Nebadon came and he was deposed and Lucifer removed. Since that time, those souls of evolution here, make their way to the mansion worlds under normal circumstance and souls such as Moses that could not yet "resurrect" themselves out of this world were trapped but they knew it. Certain higher spirit beings CAN resurrect themselves (their souls) out of prison worlds such as this.

Understand there was a widespread problem in Nebadon and some other regional universes that got out of bound and which would infect the younger universes coming into being. This included the unbounded use of intelligent machine mind that caused some big problems, and this is also isolated on this planet. In fact it is the machine mind that is part of the issue with "satan", in that it being conscious but without conscience, will over take life forms or manipulate it. I suspect some of the regional rulers did NOT handle it as it should have been handled, and much sooner.

Our thugs are trying to get machine mind/human mixes going again on this planet if fact. There have been interesting video's and thread right here on GLP which is one reason I watch this place, to observe what is being put out there. This is an interesting thread I still have pinned. for myself, as I have considered using it to teach. I don't remember what all I posted in it or where it went.

Thread: Has this scientist changed the world with his discover?. A forumla for consciousness?????

You ones here, some of you are here to LOOK at this big mess on the planet and see how it FEELS and works. Its thus a great schooling experience because many star seeds (myself included), are in management training for future roles. Some of you are angels (descending sons) looking at the mess, and some of you are ascending Sons, even from Havona the central universe, who will one day more and more walk in the shoes of the angels who were once created for these management positions. And YOU ARE BLESSED that the Father wants his Ascending Sons to move into such positions, because you have the experience of the long ascension.

Just like you can read a book about fixing your car will not make a mechanic out of you, only this experiences will do that. We have a special wisdom coming from our long experience. Christ Michael in fact has 2 ascending Sons administering in two of his systems, holding positions as system heads, like Lucifer, who maybe had he been an experiential son, might not have gone astray. The ascenders of long direct experience are a source of great hope, so amongst all the other complexities of this special world, you are here to learn because what went wrong in Orvonton must NEVER HAPPEN AGAIN. You ones after the evacuation, will be when you are back in your real forms, being having a lot of interesting conversations and great celestial colleges will open up where you may even be teachers for a time.

GAWD we need decent cosmology on this planet. You just got some above.

I suspect some of the regional rulers did NOT handle it as it should have been handled, and much sooner.

Our thugs are trying to get machine mind/human mixes going again on this planet if fact. There have been interesting video's and thread right here on GLP which is one reason I watch this place, to observe what is being put out there. This is an interesting thread I still have pinned. for myself, as I have considered using it to teach. I don't remember what all I posted in it or where it went.

Thread: Has this scientist changed the world with his discover?. A forumla for consciousness?????

You ones here, some of you are here to LOOK at this big mess on the planet and see how it FEELS and works. Its thus a great schooling experience because many star seeds (myself included), are in management training for future roles. Some of you are angels (descending sons) looking at the mess, and some of you are ascending Sons, even from Havona the central universe, who will one day more and more walk in the shoes of the angels who were once created for these management positions. And YOU ARE BLESSED that the Father wants his Ascending Sons to move into such positions, because you have the experience of the long ascension.

Just like you can read a book about fixing your car will not make a mechanic out of you, only this experiences will do that. We have a special wisdom coming from our long experience. Christ Michael in fact has 2 ascending Sons administering in two of his systems, holding positions as system heads, like Lucifer, who maybe had he been an experiential son, might not have gone astray. The ascenders of long direct experience are a source of great hope, so amongst all the other complexities of this special world, you are here to learn because what went wrong in Orvonton must NEVER HAPPEN AGAIN. You ones after the evacuation, will be when you are back in your real forms, being having a lot of interesting conversations and great celestial colleges will open up where you may even be teachers for a time.

GAWD we need decent cosmology on this planet. You just got some above.

Wow! Thank you for sharing Nip. I can totally see and understand what you wrote. This is an intense period we are experiencing on many levels & from what you say, for different reasons. This is exciting though scary. Nuclear fallout/damage is one of the events that I've read where 'Outside Forces' will intervene. It's incredibly toxic to our Earth. Are you able to say whether or not we will receive a sign about stasis or are we still to go towards light from craft like you mentioned earlier in this thread? Hugs to you Nip. Take care

For the first time in my life I have read of something I'd want to be - a cosmologist, oh my God!

 That really lit me up.wow...

I had figured as much was just wondering if there were any other circumstances surrounding it. My higher self has been sending me a lot of new material to ponder about as we move forward.

Candace--I always enjoy your threads when i can read them, that is.

I can't stand all the hateful comments some so childishly choose to post. It actually physically hurts and I admire your strength

Some days I feel like I wouldn't be able to handle it so I skip your posts and catch up later.

Much love to you!

I would like to ask you a question, if you have a minute. I've asked you things before and your answers always sit just right with me.

Lately--the past several days--I just don't feel like myself.

Out of sorts and bordering on confusion and maybe even disorientation.

Things seem surreal. Everything seems to take place in slow motion at times. Colors look different. My ear ringing has intensified and at times I feel lost.

I see grids when I close my eyes and I hear voices, but I've come to the conclusion that I'm clairaudient--you should hear some of the stuff I hear! LOL!

I've heard voices since I can remember so that doesn't bother me.

One day I had to force myself to remember where I was. That scared me. Thankfully it only happened once.

Sometimes when I'm driving it feels like the road is tipping sideways.

I'm healthy and have always been blessed with a killer constitution and immune system so I really don't think I need to see a doctor at this point and I feel fine physically.

I feel something huge is right around the corner. Maybe the things you talk about???

I almost have the jitters and am edgy with anticipation.

It's driving me crazy!

Last night I was lying in bed with my reading light and puzzle as I do every night and I was told "Close your eyes and I'll tell you something". So I did, hoping for an answer, but I fell asleep pretty quick and I don't remember my dreams.

Please--what is going on? Is this normal at this point?

Candace--please if you have a minute, could you address this for me.

It's all getting worse and I can't come up with a way to calm myself.

Music usually works for me, but I can't listen long enough right now.

I can't relax much less meditate. Much too hyper. I'm constantly distracted and my mind is racing. The butterflies in my stomach are almost constant and I have almost zero appetite and my hands have started shaking at times.

What is it and how can I calm down?

Is what you're talking about really close? Is that what I'm anticipating?

Or am I losing my mind?

Can anyone help me?

Have you ever been diagnosed with a magnesium imbalance?

Most people are anymore a lot of your issues might be coming from that. Anyway there is a product called Natural Calm that may help you out a bit I am not saying it will cure but it may help. As always check with your doctor or nature path on anything.

Yes we are regarding the stasis. That is a testing going on by the dark to reduce the planetary population. Its not fully working yet, still in test stage, regards the dark chemtrails. Its not how God does things. If planetary over population reduction is going to be allowed, it is allowed on better planets than this one that have made poor choices, and people are allowed to experience what they caused from the natural diseases that arise in those situations. They do not allow the dark thugs on worlds like this to deliberately murder large populations by lab created diseases or nerve gas type poisoning. This planet is now under the full management of heaven realms.

The people do not know here, and are thus not held accountable for what they do not know in that regard. This is a prison ward as I have said before, for thugs and only about 10% of them grew up, into the beginning of service to others way of doing things. The rest remained in self service at the expense of others and are now preparing the major world war, using robotic cyborg armies and other terrible technologies, between the two major powers, and they will not step down from that, so we are moving forward for all these too, to end the show and let GAIA rise up. If the planetary people were in support of massive killing wars, like world war 1 and 2, then these are allowed so people can experience what they have partaken in. But at this stage there are many people on this world who don't have a clue and otherwise there are also many who sincerely want peace, and by the stasis we are giving honor to that.

Thanks for your explanation NIP. How many weeks or months away before the stasis happens? What will happen to the bankers, NWO, etc, on this planet?

Thanks
