

Candace teachings on GLP

Abundant Hope

© Abundant Hope

Why cannot earth folks envision a world without MONEY! Part # 1

Nobody in Particular

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7000176

 United States

12/13/2011 01:04 AM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.

Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian life. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build you house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in. Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT ever go away.

Your angels work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

(and you

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/14/2011 12:47 AM

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 2988742
 United States
12/13/2011 01:13 AM

I hate money, I want to vomit thinking about what we have let it do to us. Good stuff op.

IS-BE
User ID: 6788562
 United States
12/13/2011 01:16 AM

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 6849048
 United States
12/13/2011 01:17 AM

money isnt bad its actually good lets say in old days i have a cow and u want my cow but all u have to offer is lets say corn but i dont want ur corn so u go without a cow :(

next scenerio lets say we give something value that we all want lets call this item "money" so i have a cow and you have corn u want my cow but all u have u corn :(so u give ur corn to someone with money and now i want money because i can use it to buy something else other than corn with it so i accept the deal to trade my cow for your money

the only world that can live without money is a perfect one and humans arnt perfect

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1646427
 United States
12/13/2011 03:36 AM

I honestly couldn't agree more with OP's concept. Although its not the money thats the problem its our enduring enslavement to the materialistic paradigm that we lovingly embrace as a society and civilization. We love our "things", our useless shit that won't accompany us in the next plane nor help us get there. We are slaves to our own belief systems and capitalistic, consumer based, thought processes/mind programs. The truth is that the money we so desperatley desire is also the figurative double deadbolt lock on our cages and the bars of the cell itself. Unbeknownst to the general slave population we are the slave drivers and masters pushing our minds and bodies to the brink of incapacitation and/or insanity, locking ourselves in our own prisons every night, with the locks on the INSIDE of the doors facing us, & the keys around our necks; literally hanging us with fear of the unknown and uncertainty in the result of necessary change.

Simply put money should only be a means of exchange.

The dollar bill does not say In God We Trust because we put our undying faith in God. No, it says In God We Trust as in In Money We Trust, i.e. money is your God. Just look at a dollar, read the print, and see how you feel. Do you feel as if you are proclaiming something about the money or your faith?

In a world where having stuff to show off so that you can attract a "mate"(woman) etc. isn't paramount and the physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual(not religious) state and status of the people IS(paramount), peace reigns. In a world based in this mindset, with the stasis of the people being of the utmost importance, peace reigns over all lands; for the friction caused by turmoil in the human psyche has been thwarted and all the basic needs of said human are met. This type of society works because there is no question of whether or not we have enough resources it works on a system of DEMAND & SUPPLY. We have space which=food and an abundance of water on our planet that literally CANNOT escape our atmosphere=limitless supply, therefore the only question ever asked is how much is needed; and the the needs are met with the suppls(resources) that we have available to the the collective WHOLE.

The rest of the everyday B.S. that has been rooted in our culture as a people and planet are just luxuaries.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1260049
 Netherlands
12/13/2011 03:48 AM

Let us wait until we truly experience the oneness in each other and are able to see the other as yourself in another life and experience then how can you charge yourself when you help yourself? You do it because you help yourself attain the best and you get good feelings from that.

Another way is through technology. Scientists already know that material is energy in a specific state.

Wait till they find out how to manipulate all that infinite energy that surrounds us and create from seemingly thin air all the things we want by manipulating energy through technology. Yes you could create gold and diamons as much as you want but when your neighbour can create it also what is the value of it? You can't eat it, you can show it off but the other can do that too. Life will then be everything about abundance and not shortages. Gold and everything that has value now will become worthless.

So there are some scenarios which are not that hard to come up with when the fantasy goes a bit wild giving a few examples either through spirituality or through technology.

ossbogoley
User ID: 3672761
 United States
12/13/2011 03:53 AM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

wildhoney
User ID: 1246311
 Spain
12/13/2011 03:53 AM

our currency should be love and compassion

and 5 to you op

Michael

User ID: 1805432

 Denmark

12/13/2011 04:01 AM

imagine a world where we didnt work for money, but for the pride and satisfaction of doing the work we did.

how many can honestly say the takey pride and satisfaction in their work, its not even 50% of us, is my bet if everything was free, would people still steal?

would people be more tempted to share an item that didnt have any "value" ?

Last Edited by Michael on 12/13/2011 04:02 AM

JustUs

User ID: 6561229

 Germany

12/13/2011 04:03 AM

imagine a world where we didnt work for money, but for the pride and satisfaction of doing the work we did.

how many can honestly say the takey pride and satisfaction in their work, its not even 50% of us, is my bet if everything was free, would people still steal?

would people be more tempted to share an item that didnt have any "value" ?

Quoting: Michael_

Beautiful!!!

wildhoney

User ID: 1246311

 Spain

12/13/2011 04:05 AM

Hey notice how many of us Europeans on this thread? nice to see

Maybe we will set the trend in this too huh?

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 09:43 AM

money isnt bad its actually good lets say in old days i have a cow and u want my cow but all u have to offer is lets say corn but i dont want ur corn so u go without a cow :(

next scenerio lets say we give something value that we all want lets call this item "money" so i have a cow and you have corn u want my cow but all u have u corn :(so u give ur corn to someone with money and now i want money because i can use it to buy something else other than corn with it so i accept the deal to trade my cow for your money

the only world that can live without money is a perfect one and humans arnt perfect

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6849048

Now put on your ability to envision and go beyond that, because global living without money is NOT confined to this very limited idea. You have just posted the mind control you have learned about money dear one! LOOK INWARD and UPWARD, because this is not even about money. HUMANS aren't perfect? Well then WHY NOT. You are supposed to be HIGHER UNIVERSAL MAN. Why cannot you have more, for that, by creating more. Don't you want a more perfect world? It is possible. Money will always produce have not enoughts. And depress the ability to create.

The worlds that give up money are not always "perfect" yet.

I would like to know what you do to earn your money by your slavery, that allows you to be able to EAT and have stuff. Engage more.

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/13/2011 09:45 AM

in5d

User ID: 1509000

 United States

12/13/2011 09:44 AM

5 stars, karma and a

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7044980

 United States

12/13/2011 09:50 AM

I am all for it. Lets start by not paying our taxes. But people are cowards. They place their petty lives above principles. So they will pay the ultimate price in the end.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 09:53 AM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

Quoting: ossbogosley

What do YOU do for your "living." My amazing how people consider themselves to even be "living" on this world. MOST OF YOU DO NOT. We will have a world someday where people won't even have to "hermit", money or otherwise. Those that hermit in this world can't stand it. hmmm that would be ME! If I did not "hermit" I could not do what I do now, as hermiting is my method of staying out of the madness out there. be back in a bit, have morning stuff to finish.

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/13/2011 09:53 AM

Sammie

Thread Killer

User ID: 2220559

 United States

12/13/2011 09:58 AM

"and you won't have peace either until the money goes away." -OP

Truth!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7044270

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 09:58 AM

The other day I watched a BBC video about the life of the beaver, how they live in harmony within their environment, and even give shelter to other creatures during the winter months.

Why can't we live simply in harmony with our environment?

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 3271634

 United States

12/13/2011 10:04 AM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

Quoting: ossbogosley

It communicates your sweat equity into the hands of idle share holders. You should have swallowed the red pill.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

12/13/2011 10:06 AM

I'd like to know who the first psychopath was that invented money.

Real list

User ID: 7049451

United States
12/13/2011 10:09 AM

The other day I watched a BBC video about the life of the beaver, how they live in harmony within their environment, and even give shelter to other creatures during the winter months.

Why can't we live simply in harmony with our environment?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7044270

I saw a small news story about beavers that were felling so many trees that they were endangering their own environment. Overpopulated perhaps. Point is, beavers are just dumb animals.

An animal that acts opposite are squirrels, they hoard food for bad times and kill other animals that try to take their stash.

Real list

User ID: 7049451
United States
12/13/2011 10:10 AM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

Quoting: ossbogosley

It communicates your sweat equity into the hands of idle share holders. You should have swallowed the red pill.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 3271634

Right. You work for no personal gain. You receive nothing in return for your labor. No food, no shelter, no entertainment, no transportation. Nothing.

Real list

User ID: 7049451
United States
12/13/2011 10:14 AM

I'd like to know who the first psychopath was that invented money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

The first man that realized that trading goods was better than working as individuals with each person doing EVERYTHING for himself. Or the first man that realized that using currency to facilitate those trades made things much more convenient.

Whoever it was was a genius

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

12/13/2011 10:25 AM

I'd like to know who the first psychopath was that invented money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

The first man that realized that trading goods was better than working as individuals with each person doing EVERYTHING for himself. Or the first man that realized that using currency to facilitate those trades made things much more convenient.

Whoever it was was a genius

Quoting: Real list

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7047687

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 10:26 AM

because you cant fit many goats and camels in a till when the new ipad comes out.

ossbogosley

User ID: 3672761

 United States

12/13/2011 10:28 AM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

Quoting: ossbogosley

It communicates your sweat equity into the hands of idle share holders. You should have swallowed the red pill.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 3271634

Right. You work for no personal gain. You receive nothing in return for your labor. No food, no shelter, no entertainment, no transportation. Nothing.

Quoting: Real list

Sarcasm appreciated. I trade labor on peoples homes for checks that I convert to lawful money with a non-endorsement of the FED. Real U.S. money that is not taxed. So I don't consent to the Fed./IRS system. As long as the paper is honored I'm fine. Get a trade. This thread is fueled by uneducated emotion.

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 10:29 AM

I'd like to know who the first psychopath was that invented money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

The first man that realized that trading goods was better than working as individuals with each person doing EVERYTHING for himself. Or the first man that realized that using currency to facilitate those trades made things much more convenient.

Whoever it was was a genius

Quoting: Real list

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Yep, just look to people who live outside of our forced reality.

People who are not part of "modern society" dont use money. They hunt (food/supplies) for 2-8 hours. Then socialize, relax with family etc.

It can be done. It was done before. It is still being done.

 Dawn ***

User ID: 1101610

 United States

12/13/2011 10:29 AM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.
Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian live. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build you house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in.

Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT every go away.

Your angel work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. (and you won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Let's abolish currency on Earth. Let's Love each other and help each other. Let's honor our animals and children. Let women have the reign. Let's brainstorm what to do with Humans who harm AND let's tear down the jails. Let's play in the rivers and let our laughter echo through the canyon walls. Let us be FREE, please let us choose Freedom. Peace and Love--Dawn. 🌻

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7041612

🇨🇳 China

12/13/2011 10:32 AM

Nice thread.

Being Mindful

User ID: 1351464

🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 10:40 AM

ossbogosley

User ID: 3672761

🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 10:41 AM

Thread: Pay No Taxes legally -End the FED -synopsis page 8-Why are waiting for someone to do it for us like Ron paul

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1364770
🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 10:41 AM something like 13 people rated 5 stars obviously great thread

why is it not pinned?

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622
🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 10:43 AM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Real list

User ID: 7049451
🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 10:55 AM

I'd like to know who the first psychopath was that invented money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

The first man that realized that trading goods was better than working as individuals with each person doing EVERYTHING for himself. Or the first man that realized that using currency to facilitate those trades made things much more convenient.

Whoever it was was a genius

Quoting: Real list

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Yep, just look to people who live outside of our forced reality.

People who are not part of "modern society" dont use money. They hunt (food/supplies) for 2-8 hours. Then socialize, relax with family etc.

It can be done. It was done before. It is still being done.

Quoting: Revguard

You can complete your 'hunt' in 2 to 8 hours per WEEK. 1 trip to the grocery. That is 14 to 56 hours less than the tribal folks. You have 14 to 56 more idle hours per week.

Or you have 14 to 56 hours per week to earn your trip to the store, your heat, the conveniences of:

not preparing every meal from scratch including building a fire

not having to hunt/gather every day or no food for you not having to blaze new trails for every journey (highway system)

not depending on witch doctor magic for your health needs.

Besides, OP said there is no need (in her world) to revert to the stone age if money were eliminated.

Last Edited by Real list on 12/13/2011 10:55 AM

ossbogosity

User ID: 3672761

 United States

12/13/2011 10:56 AM

Thread: Get rid of the money system, then get rid of governments

Last Edited by ossbogosity on 12/13/2011 10:57 AM

luckyirish83

User ID: 5217613

 Canada

12/13/2011 11:01 AM

Honestly..it is very hard to envision. I say that because it's how we have all been conditioned to have and need. Would be amazing if we all just worked and made everything out of gratitude and endless love for one another. There would be no war, no stealing, no hunger or greed..it's a beautiful concept no doubt and know that money is just pieces of paper..but at this point, we need it.

Problem is, the world has become so greedy and selfish that that kind of world would be very hard to come by.

One can only dream though..

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 11:01 AM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

snip:

I have taken some small liberties in transcribing the following excerpts from, The Life & Teaching of the Masters of the Far East, to clarify their meaning and to make them more readable.

"Life lived by the average individual is hypnotic; that is, the majority of men and women are not living life as it was intended at all. Not one in a million feels the freedom to live how he or she inwardly feels they should live. They have come under the world opinion of themselves and this is the opinion that they obey, rather than the law of their own being."

"They live under the delusion that they are mere human beings, living in a merely material world, and the only hope of escape is to die and to go on to what they call heaven. This is not what was intended in the plan and purpose of life. Obedience to one's inner nature, the expression of life as they instinctively feel it ought to be expressed, is the very foundation of life and the only true mode of living. True mastery is living the instruction of the inner teacher, the inner self, and not seeking the opinions of the world."

[\[link to www.seekeronline.org\]](http://www.seekeronline.org)

You must choose, regardless of the world around you. Find like minded people and make the move if you wish. But I like things pretty well the way they are. That is my choice.

Leave my system alone

nibiru2012planetx

User ID: 3011957

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 11:01 AM

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 11:02 AM

Honestly..it is very hard to envision. I say that because it's how we have all been conditioned to have and need. Would be amazing if we all just worked and made everything out of gratitude and endless love for one another. There would be no war, no stealing, no hunger or greed..it's a beautiful concept no doubt and know that money is just pieces of paper..but at this point, we need it.

Problem is, the world has become so greedy and selfish that that kind of world would be very hard to come by.

One can only dream though..

Quoting: luckyirish83

We don't 'need' money at all, we need the things we can trade money for.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 11:05 AM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

these are free on the web, link to first one [link to www.horuscentre.org] you might want to read this, maybe to better understand what I am always saying that God is WITHIN YOU. As Christmas approaches, perhaps some of you can glimpse who and what Jesus IS.

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/13/2011 11:43 AM

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 11:08 AM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

snip:

I have taken some small liberties in transcribing the following excerpts from, The Life & Teaching of the Masters of the Far East, to clarify their meaning and to make them more readable.

"Life lived by the average individual is hypnotic; that is, the majority of men and women are not living life as it was intended at all. Not one in a million feels the freedom to live how he or she inwardly feels they should live. They have come under the world opinion of themselves and this is the opinion that they obey, rather than the law of their own being."

"They live under the delusion that they are mere human beings, living in a merely material world, and the only hope of escape is to die and to go on to what they call heaven. This is not what was intended in the plan and purpose of life. Obedience to one's inner nature, the expression of life as they instinctively feel it ought to be expressed, is the very foundation of life and the only true mode of living. True mastery is living the instruction of the inner teacher, the inner self, and not seeking the opinions of the world."

[link to www.seekeronline.org]

You must choose, regardless of the world around you. Find like minded people and make the move if you wish. But I like things pretty well the way they are. That is my choice.

Leave my system alone

Quoting: Real list

Thank you for the quote!

These people can manifest a Light.....and when the Light subsides, there is their need fulfilled! :)

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 11:11 AM

When men take their faces off of money.

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 11:12 AM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

these are free on the web, link to first one [link to www.horuscentre.org] you might want to read this, maybe to better understand what I am always saying that God is WITHIN YOU.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Thank you NiP.....yes, well worth the read!

I've already read all the volumes.....:)

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

...

The first man that realized that trading goods was better than working as individuals with each person doing EVERYTHING for himself. Or the first man that realized that using currency to facilitate those trades made things much more convenient.

Whoever it was was a genius

Quoting: Real list

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Yep, just look to people who live outside of our forced reality.

People who are not part of "modern society" dont use money. They hunt (food/supplies) for 2-8 hours. Then socialize, relax with family etc.

It can be done. It was done before. It is still being done.

Quoting: Revguard

You can complete your 'hunt' in 2 to 8 hours per WEEK. 1 trip to the grocery. That is 14 to 56 hours less than the tribal folks. You have 14 to 56 more idle hours per week.

Or you have 14 to 56 hours per week to earn your trip to the store, your heat, the conveniences of:

not preparing every meal from scratch including building a fire

not having to hunt/gather every day or no food for you

not having to blaze new trails for every journey (highway system)

not depending on witch doctor magic for your health needs.

Besides, OP said there is no need (in her world) to revert to the stone age if money were eliminated.

Quoting: Real list

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

miked

User ID: 6285472

 United States

12/13/2011 11:14 AM

imagine a world where we didnt work for money, but for the pride and satisfaction of doing the work we did.

how many can honestly say they take pride and satisfaction in their work, its not even 50% of us, is my bet if everything was free, would people still steal?

would people be more tempted to share an item that didnt have any "value" ?

Quoting: Michael_

thats how i feel. i work in construction. my job is necessary for people and i do take pride in my work. imagine all that would get done if all the lawyers and advertisers and any other useless job or job that is only there because of money were gone and everyone did something productive or at least helped people in some way. people wouldn't be starving if we made all the lawyers farmers on some lot that used to be a golf course.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 11:16 AM

People can't live without it but they will have to soon enough. Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money. How are you going to feed your family? How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?

electricity, what is that?

We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels,too. Wood stoves will come in handy.

Things will have to be relearned all over again and humans will have to learn how to become self sufficient to survive.

The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs? they want people to learn to become more self-sufficient. and you will learn how,too.

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 11:19 AM

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshiping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Last Edited by ObeWayneKenobe on 12/13/2011 11:20 AM

xxkoshxx

User ID: 1332188

 United States

12/13/2011 11:19 AM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.
Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian live. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build you house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in. Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT every go away.

Your angel work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

(and you

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

How would people fuck one another?

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1427896

United States

12/13/2011 11:23 AM

we need free energy systems, that would go a long way to making a money free world.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

United States

12/13/2011 11:24 AM

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshiping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshiping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

hekau718

User ID: 3102986

Canada

12/13/2011 11:27 AM

good post! fuck money! sheeps

Streamcatcher

User ID: 1006073

Netherlands

12/13/2011 11:31 AM

Let us wait until we truly experience the oneness in each other and are able to see the other as yourself in another life and experience then how can you charge yourself when you help yourself? You do it because you help yourself attain the best and you get good feelings from that.

Another way is through technology. Scientists already know that material is energy in a specific state.

Wait till they find out how to manipulate all that infinite energy that surrounds us and create from seemingly thin air all the things we want by manipulating energy through technology.

Yes you could create gold and diamonds as much as you want but when your neighbour can create it also what is the value of it? You can't eat it, you can show it off but the other can do that too.

Life will then be everything about abundance and not shortages. Gold and everything that has value now will become worthless.

So there are some scenarios which are not that hard to come up with when the fantasy goes a bit wild giving a few examples either through spirituality or through technology.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1260049

great vision!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 11:32 AM

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshiping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshiping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Get your lazy ass out there and chase down a chicken nor learn how to fish. You can get a fishing license or a hunting license. No, we'd best not give you a hunting license, you'd shoot your eye out. It's called being self sufficient but you don't know how to do that because you're too ingrained into the Matrix because of money.

fbiciadeafhafanniemaepoooo

User ID: 1565431

 United States

12/13/2011 11:33 AM

This should be 5 stars, pins, whatever....Money is killing everyone at the bottom of the global ponzi scheme.....Stop using money, its so simple.

Yes there are adjustments, but the movement to reduce the amount of "money" exchanged would do so much in the way of equality and prosperity..

miked

User ID: 6285472

 United States

12/13/2011 11:34 AM

we need free energy systems, that would go a long way to making a money free world.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1427896

this would help. along with some star gate tech. forget planes and trains be anywhere instantly and free.

xxkoshxx

User ID: 1332188

 United States

12/13/2011 11:37 AM

We produce plenty of food. We could feed the whole world. We dont because some cant pay.

urantian

User ID: 1286724

Quoting: IS-BE

We need to re-invent the cosmic conscientiousness.

What is light?

What is love?

What is life?

Real list

User ID: 7049451

United States
12/13/2011 11:38 AM

...

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Yep, just look to people who live outside of our forced reality.

People who are not part of "modern society" dont use money. They hunt (food/supplies) for 2-8 hours. Then socialize, relax with family etc.

It can be done. It was done before. It is still being done.

Quoting: Revguard

You can complete your 'hunt' in 2 to 8 hours per WEEK. 1 trip to the grocery. That is 14 to 56 hours less than the tribal folks. You have 14 to 56 more idle hours per week.

Or you have 14 to 56 hours per week to earn your trip to the store, your heat, the conveniences of:

not preparing every meal from scratch including building a fire

not having to hunt/gather every day or no food for you

not having to blaze new trails for every journey (highway system)

not depending on witch doctor magic for your health needs.

Besides, OP said there is no need (in her world) to revert to the stone age if money were eliminated.

Quoting: Real list

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, I did not forget. That was the point of my saying 14 to 56 FREE hours per WEEK. Those hours sort of correspond to an average work week. Which compares to primitive hunter/gatherer work week, according to Anonymous Coward 1546672

Modern money has little intrinsic value. Therefore it MUST be a REPRESENTATION of real wealth (value). Therefore, if money is the root of all evil, real wealth is the root of all evil. That is a fallacy. The love of wealth is evil, placing an undue importance on the ACCUMULATION of wealth (greed) is the real evil.

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 11:42 AM

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshiping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshipping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

I'm sorry my friend, but your information is incorrect:

First off; money is just "ink on paper".....so it cannot be evil or good(simply printed)! But it is the intent on how its spent that determines its worth!

So it is the human aspect that is at question here.....not the money itself!

....And Secondly; Jesus did NOT "whip the money changers" as your bible tells you: THIS WAS THE LIE that was concocted, in order to get the man arrested! He was a "Christed Beings", and NEVER would have done such a thing!

Last Edited by ObeWayneKenobe on 12/13/2011 11:44 AM

\(:-DeeZe

User ID: 7050204

 United States

12/13/2011 11:43 AM

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 11:46 AM

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshipping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshipping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Most people don't know this.

During that period the jewish people had to pay their tax with a particular coin, the half shekel. The money changers were exchanging these coins for whatever forms of money the jewish people happened to possess. (The jewish people came from all over the country to be counted in a census and pay their taxes). The money changers were charging a high premium for the exchange, effectively cheating the people. And to top that, they were committing this wrong in God's house. That is what made Jesus go off on them.

Jesus did not condemn the money, he condemned the actions of the men.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 11:46 AM

We produce plenty of food. We could feed the whole world. We dont because some cant pay.

Quoting: xxkoshxx

Take away the military industrial complex money and there you can feed everyone for free forever. But NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO, we can't do that, we're not that far thinking ahead. We're great at bombing the shit out of brown people, but we can't cuz back on defense spending? BS!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

12/13/2011 11:47 AM

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshipping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshipping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Get your lazy ass out there and chase down a chicken nor learn how to fish. You can get a fishing license or a hunting license. No, we'd best not give you a hunting license, you'd shoot your eye out. It's called being self sufficient but you don't know how to do that because you're too ingrained into the Matrix because of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I have a fishing, hunting, big game, small game, and trapping licenses.

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 11:48 AM

Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money.
I cut my own hair, and it looks professional.

How are you going to feed your family?
We have gardens and trade food with a cattleman.

How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?
My men are not spoiled and useless.

electricity, what is that?
During Katrina we ate rice and fruit and did fine. Many cultures survive with fresh fish as well. Candles and burning oil lamps worked fine.

We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels, too. Wood stoves will come in handy.
Why did you back-track off your "no electricity, no means of building homes" stance?

Things will have to be relearned all over again and humans will have to learn how to become self sufficient to survive.

By this point in your argument, you are geared up to survive.

The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs?

You want us to fear, so you create your own fear. It won't work for me. I am a survivor.

they want people to learn to become more self-sufficient. and you will learn how, too.

You get a red badge of courage, now go rake some pine straw and switch to tea bags and local honey instead of coke-cola.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 764206

 United States

12/13/2011 11:49 AM

Physical money is not bad or good, it is simply a medium to facilitate exchange. That's all. It is a necessary utility for society.

Debt creation and usury, however, are completely destructive to society.

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 11:51 AM

Anyone with any real work experience will agree I think, the more a person is paid the more respect he gets from his employers. Actually, the higher paying professions are more respected by the public also. Who among us treats the janitor with the same respect as a doctor or lawyer or professor?

So the idea working only for the respect, the prestige, the self satisfaction does not fly.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1124291

 United States

12/13/2011 11:53 AM

Someone once said in an interview that the money WILL go away and the resulting chaos would be totally unnecessary if we'd just stop and realize that all the stuff we paid money for would still be there and we'd just have to find a way to keep it available.

This is a ridiculous, outdated system and I'm ready for real progress and evolution.

Another thing that gets me is how we think an American's labor is worth more than someone's in another country.

And still another thing that makes no sense to me is the false idea of rising value. How can a hundred year old--or ANY house-- be worth more the OLDER it gets?

And never mind about land value--it's the same land in the same place it's always been except the area has probably declined over the years in one way or another which seems like it would make the land less valuable. There is NOT less land and there's plenty to go around if people would spread out.

AND who has the right to OWN land? Or sell it? It was here before we were.

Ridiculous greed.

AmericanJedi

User ID: 1503533

 United States

12/13/2011 11:53 AM

I have a theory on this, I'll call the "Star Trek" theory. Ok, look at Star Trek, "the acquisition of wealth was no longer the driving force of humanity", so sayeth the Pircard!

So, were they communist, socialist? Nope, they were driven by personal achievement. Bettering oneself for the sake of yourself and the greater good! Sort of Ayn Rand meets Buddhism, I know not the ideal analogy, but close enough for government work.

Well, if there were no money, how would we achieve. Curing disease, exploring space, the depths of the ocean, and solving the problems of humanity. Right?

Well, what happens to career politicians, lawyers, bankers, accountants, and shit bag traders in this sort of scenario? Well, we'd still need a few lawyers, but we would need statesmen not smiley faced politicos who can't do anything else.

We'd need Jeffersons, Washingtons, and Franklins, not Obamas, Bushs, Clintons, and Romneys.

Fact of the case, why people can't envision a world without money is quite simple, because you'd actually have to fucking work! So, sayeth the Jedi!

No more sitting on your ass calling some poor SOB and berating him or her for not being able to pay 650 bucks a month on a medical bill that includes 80 dollar aspirin, no more sneaking into yards and stealing back someone's truck because the poor bastards out of work and can't make the payments on a 25K note for a vehicle that isn't worth 6K, no more suing some poor doctor because he or she is working 80s a week at their practice and wrote .2 mg when he meant .3 mg and your gorked out 88 year old granny, who is brain dead, died a little faster!

Yep, the love of money will be the death of humanity, now, I gotta get back to watching the market.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 108458
United States
12/13/2011 11:56 AM

The OP mistake is to confuse real money and how it enables a division of labor that allows all humans a better standard of living with fiat money which benefits the few at the expense of the many.

Nobody in Particular (OP)
Busy Rattling Cages on GLP
User ID: 7049086
United States
12/13/2011 11:57 AM

...

I said money. People bartered before money and traded goods with no problem. Money has to be issued by somebody and that somebody owns everybody that uses the money. Indigenous people that do everything for themselves usually only work a few hours every day and spend the rest of the day and night lounging around and socializing. With money comes stress because you are working a whole lot longer than you are meant to be. The human being is capable of accomplishing great things in short bursts but not laboring all day for the rest of their life without having problems come up. With money comes war and kings. You can't pay soldiers in food and with war comes slaves.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Yep, just look to people who live outside of our forced reality.

People who are not part of "modern society" dont use money. They hunt (food/supplies) for 2-8 hours. Then socialize, relax with family etc.

It can be done. It was done before. It is still being done.

Quoting: Revguard

You can complete your 'hunt' in 2 to 8 hours per WEEK. 1 trip to the grocery. That is 14 to 56 hours less than the tribal folks. You have 14 to 56 more idle hours per week.

Or you have 14 to 56 hours per week to earn your trip to the store, your heat, the conveniences of:

not preparing every meal from scratch including building a fire

not having to hunt/gather every day or no food for you

not having to blaze new trails for every journey (highway system)

not depending on witch doctor magic for your health needs.

Besides, OP said there is no need (in her world) to revert to the stone age if money were eliminated.

Quoting: Real list

You forgot the hunt for the money to pay for the groceries. I don't agree with OP on civilization without money. Money can't be undone. It's here to stay because people would never give up the convenience of having a system based on money. I'm not trying to change the world or convince anybody to stop using money and I'm just saying what is obvious and that is money is the root of all evil.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Money can and will be UNDONE, for this world is shortly to be UNDONE as it exists. Those returning will have NO MONEY, it will not be there, so perhaps then we can get some attention to co creating a world without it. YOU ARE STUCK IN WHAT YOU GREW UP IN. YOU ARE MIND CONTROLLED BY YOUR EXPERIENCES since your "birth" into this world.

There will be ever so much more convenience IF ONES WILL GIVE IT UP. There must be a change of consciousness, to give it up. It is because people will NOT give it up that this world is shortly to be paused big time. The evil brought by money and "religions", has brought to man his own destruction. Money is the root of all evil, but ones must have the courage to gather and make change and sadly there is not vision enough to gather to make change.

I would seem now too late, but truly if mother could cause those earth changes man would begin to understand by his service to others after them, he does not need money. HE WOULD BECOME THE "MONEY THE FACE OF GOD.

WHY DO YOU ONES ACCEPT LIFE SLAVERY TO THIS STUFF? you must work every so many more hours to "buy" the stuff you need, and want. You suffer thru life chasing money to buy food with alone, and other necessities. the thus have made it so you cannot EAT without money. And in the end as fields decay, as everything decays from the changes, you will not be able to eat the money, the silver, or the gold you have stocked up. You have all as a group brought this upon yourselves.

How many of you are going to use your credit cards to charge up Christmas, the most false and materialistic of "holidays" in this country?????? And others that adhere to it. What is there to force YOU to go out and buy gift often for people you don't even care about? Look at the social pressure upon you, once again this year, this silly merry go round each year that brings yet more destruction to your society? WHY have you no better vision than to go buy buy buy???????? And then die an old and miserable age? Can you not come into your god creative knowing and stop this useless time of year, which only enriches the other slaves enough to buy presents for their "loved ones", loved or not.

I am not putting down the celebration of life, but this is NOT the CELEBRATION OF LIFE. It is societies forced concepts upon you, which are terribly difficult to say no to. I used to give MY TIME to people for Christmas and they were offended by that. WHY?

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 11:57 AM

Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money.
I cut my own hair, and it looks professional.

How are you going to feed your family?
We have gardens and trade food with a cattleman.

How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?
My men are not spoiled and useless.

electricity, what is that?
During Katrina we ate rice and fruit and did fine. Many cultures survive with fresh fish as well. Candles and burning oil lamps worked fine.

We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels, too. Wood stoves will come in handy.
Why did you back-track off your "no electricity, no means of building homes" stance?

Things will have to be relearned all over again and humans will have to learn how to become self sufficient to survive.
By this point in your argument, you are geared up to survive.

The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs?
You want us to fear, so you create your own fear. It won't work for me. I am a survivor.

they want people to learn to become more self-sufficient. and you will learn how, too.
You get a red badge of courage, now go rake some pine straw and switch to tea bags and local honey instead of coke-cola.

Quoting: pool

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people?

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 952924
 United States
12/13/2011 11:57 AM

...

No, money is NOT the "root of all evil".....but the worshiping of money can be!!!

Never-the-less: Money CAN BE "undone".....but it is the choice of each individual to take steps to overcome THAT condition!

Manifesting is VERY REAL, for those who understand the workings of the Spirit! imho :)
Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

What's the root of worshiping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Get your lazy ass out there and chase down a chicken nor learn how to fish. You can get a fishing license or a hunting license. No, we'd best not give you a hunting license, you'd shoot your eye out. It's called being self sufficient but you don't know how to do that because you're too ingrained into the Matrix because of money.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I have a fishing, hunting, big game, small game, and trapping licenses.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Then you don't really need money. you just like having toys, tell the truth!

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 7043202
12/13/2011 12:00 PM

But isn't that's what Dr.Bernankenstein and his federal fiat reserve are trying to do anyways ??

Real list
User ID: 7049451
 United States
12/13/2011 12:05 PM

Someone once said in an interview that the money WILL go away and the resulting chaos would be totally unnecessary if we'd just stop and realize that all the stuff we paid money for would still be there and we'd just have to find a way to keep it available.

This is a ridiculous, outdated system and I'm ready for real progress and evolution.

Another thing that gets me is how we think an American's labor is worth more than someone's in another country.

And still another thing that makes no sense to me is the false idea of rising value. How can a hundred year old--or ANY house-- be worth more the OLDER it gets?

And never mind about land value--it's the same land in the same place it's always been except the area has probably declined over the years in one way or another which seems like it would make the land less valuable. There is NOT less land and there's plenty to go around if people would spread out.

AND who has the right to OWN land? Or sell it? It was here before we were.

Ridiculous greed.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1124291

The 'find the way to keep modern society' IS the chaos.

Yes, house values do not go up, the value of the fiat currency goes down. But with land, that is a finite resource and the law of supply/demand do apply to that.

Own land? Maybe more that we own the right to use the land as we wish. I mean, what is ownership? How can we really own anything? We only own the right to dispose of it as we want.

On you point on the value of labor, I agree. Lately it rubs me wrong that the cost of disasters (for example) are discussed in terms of 'dollars' (or any money type) instead of manhours of labor. Money does not do any rebuilding or reclamation, it take labor to do those things.

~Christine~

User ID: 6991153

 United States

12/13/2011 12:06 PM

There is a group of people out there who already manifest their needs: Read "Life & Teachings of the Masters of the Far East", to learn about them!(volume of 6 small books if I remember right).....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

these are free on the web, link to first one [link to www.horuscentre.org] you might want to read this, maybe to better understand what I am always saying that God is WITHIN YOU.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Thank you NiP.....yes, well worth the read!

I've already read all the volumes.....:)

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

Yes! Awesome books!

Last Edited by ~Christine~ on 12/13/2011 12:06 PM

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1427896

 United States

12/13/2011 12:06 PM

why don't you make your own christmas presents? It would be more meaningful!

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 12:09 PM

I want to mention, I am not advocating any side of the argument.

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison. I didn't expect anything. I lived for the moment and bonded with my family. We actually had fun, carrying candles with us.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Talents can carry a person further than light. It is more of a level playing field, and philanthropy flourishes during crises.

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people? It all balances, in a realistic way, in the end. Greed is older than dirt and even with this system, greed will evolve.

ossbogosley

User ID: 3672761

 United States

12/13/2011 12:10 PM

Why don't we envision a world without communication? That's all money is.

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 12:10 PM

Report Abusive Post

Report Copyright Violation

Re: Why cannot earth folks envision a world without MONEY!

why don't you make your own christmas presents? It would be more meaningful!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1427896

I do, and I'd like a recipe for moonshine.

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:12 PM

Why don't we envision a world without communication? That's all money is.

Quoting: ossbogoley

Every post you made in this thread you are hinting that "money" is our only form of communication. Or even a "true form of communication".

You are debating a point without looking at the broader picture. You act as if we still wouldn't be able to

1. Talk
2. Radio
3. Internet
4. Barter
5. Share
6. etc....

Please stop with this tactic. Money is NOT communication, in the truest sense of the word.

Eggcellent

User ID: 6633673

 United States

12/13/2011 12:15 PM

The other day I watched a BBC video about the life of the beaver, how they live in harmony within their environment, and even give shelter to other creatures during the winter months.

Why can't we live simply in harmony with our environment?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7044270

Because for the most part our "environment" doesn't live in harmony with US!! It's too hot, or too cold, or too arid, or there is too much rain and everything gets covered with moss and mildew and rots away. Our environment presents us with hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, volcanoes, tsunamis, etc. In order to survive, we need to have some sort of portable concrete "validation" of the work which we have traded our time and energy for. It differentiates us from the leeches who only desire that they be "taken care of" by others who work hard and are thrifty with their hard-earned compensation.

Additionally, humans are "hard-wired" for "profit". Even in a barter situation, each participant wants to feel that they have brokered the "better" deal. We also can feel kind and charitable toward others, but only AFTER our OWN needs and obligations have been met.

So, NIP, (and I'm not being an "educated posterior" here!) if we don't have "money", what unit of compensation would you suggest?? I can't see a grocery store saying "Come on in and take whatever you want". I can't see a farmer saying "Yeah, I put in hours and days and weeks and months to grow this produce, but you guys can just drive up and help yourselves". I can't see a landlord (or a bank, for that matter) saying "I had to pay for the materials and labor to build this home, but you can just walk in and squat because you're such a nice guy and you'd like to have a nice place to live". If we eliminate "money", what would be its' replacement?

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:15 PM

I want to mention, I am not advocating any side of the argument.

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison. I didn't expect anything. I lived for the moment and bonded with my family. We actually had fun, carrying candles with us.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Talents can carry a person further than light. It is more of a level playing field, and philanthropy flourishes during crises.

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people? It all balances, in a realistic way, in the end. Greed is older than dirt and even with this system, greed will evolve.

Quoting: pool

Yes, but it doesn't have to be this way. We are brainwashed/taught that money/greed is the only way. I have a higher opinion of the human race. Although we rarely show our best sides.

We are capable of SO much more!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

12/13/2011 12:15 PM

...

What's the root of worshipping money? Money. Why do you think Jesus whipped the money changers and not the people bartering chickens and goats in the temple? Money is the root of all evil and Jesus probably said that until someone changed it to worship of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Get your lazy ass out there and chase down a chicken nor learn how to fish. You can get a fishing license or a hunting license. No, we'd best not give you a hunting license, you'd shoot your eye out. It's called being self sufficient but you don't know how to do that because you're too ingrained into the Matrix because of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I have a fishing, hunting, big game, small game, and trapping licenses.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Then you don't really need money. you just like having toys, tell the truth!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I like people and nobody is going to go live in the wilderness with me. I'd rather not be alone unless I have to be but I can live off the land.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 12:15 PM

Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money. I cut my own hair, and it looks professional.

How are you going to feed your family?

We have gardens and trade food with a cattleman.

How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?

My men are not spoiled and useless.

electricity, what is that?

During Katrina we ate rice and fruit and did fine. Many cultures survive with fresh fish as well. Candles and burning oil lamps worked fine.

We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels,too. Wood stoves will come in handy.

Why did you back-track off your "no electricity, no means of building homes" stance?

Things will have to be relearned allover again and humans will have to learn how to be come self sufficient to survive.

By this point in your argument, you are geared up to survive.

The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs?

You want us to fear, so you create your own fear. It won't work for me. I am a survivor.

they want people to learn to become more self-sufficent. and you will learn how,too.

You get a red badge of courage, now go rake some pine straw and switch to tea bags and local honey instead of coke-cola.

Quoting: pool

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people?

Quoting: Real list

Face it. you're greedy and you won't give it up. if a man were to come up to you and try to force you to give up what money you have,you would fight to the death over it,wouldn't you? Do you see how this makes people into slaves or worse animals? it's like cavemen who used to run around raiding other tribes to steal their women so they could breed. You have to give up this idea of if I don't have it, i'm going to starve concept. There will be no more money in the future. life will be simpler, harder for some but simpler. But you will learn to survive on without dependence for money. your work will be appreciated more, your labor will be appreciated and thus you as a human will be more grateful becuase someone will appreciate what you have done to help yourself and someone else. see?

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:17 PM

The other day I watched a BBC video about the life of the beaver, how they live in harmony within their environment, and even give shelter to other creatures during the winter months.

Why can't we live simply in harmony with our environment?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7044270

.....Additionally, humans are "hard-wired" for "profit". Even in a barter situation, each participant wants to feel that they have brokered the "better" deal. We also can feel kind and charitable toward others, but only AFTER our OWN needs and obligations have been met.

....

Quoting: Eggcellent

No we are not! This is taught to us by TV, and people.

A child does not come out this way. It is taught this by its parents, television and society.

If from birth our society was taught/brainwashed to be more giving, sharing, etc. Then it would not be the way it is.

We are nothing close to "hard-wired" for "profit". We are taught this. Nothing more.

no-one-special

User ID: 7036457

 United States

12/13/2011 12:17 PM

That sounds so awesome!!! Lets do it now so I never have to work again, as I am getting tired of it!! I can just go take whatever I want, without paying of course, and I can have anything I want for FREE!!! Yahoo!!! I want a Lexus, an airplane and a mansion on a hill!!! And don't forget the maid to clean it!!

Seriously, this sounds like a great idea! I can persue my dreams now! Sit around by the pool and read all day, maybe paint something in the afternoon after my nap, do to the ocean and have some fresh seafood, all for free, no work needed on my part!!!

YAHOO!!! Heaven on earth at last!!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 12:18 PM

...

Get your lazy ass out there and chase down a chicken nor learn how to fish. You can get a fishing license or a hunting license. No, we'd best not give you a hunting license, you'd shoot your eye out. It's called being self sufficient but you don't know how to do that because you're too ingrained into the Matrix because of money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I have a fishing, hunting, big game, small game, and trapping licenses.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Then you don't really need money. you just like having toys, tell the truth!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I like people and nobody is going to go live in the wilderness with me. I'd rather not be alone unless I have to be but I can live off the land.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1546672

Then you had better learn to do so. [link to w3.newsmax.com]

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 6907239

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 12:18 PM

Money is there to keep us all as slaves..

This system works for the ruling elite because humans are greedy and think no further than "what's in it for me"!

By working for the common good, we all free ourselves..

We just need one mantra.. Never do anything that is harmful to something else..

With this insight we could all be Godlike!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 6907239

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 12:18 PM

Money is there to keep us all as slaves..

This system works for the ruling elite because humans are greedy and think no further than "what's in it for me"!

By working for the common good, we all free ourselves..

We just need one mantra.. Never do anything that is harmful to something else..

With this insight we could all be Godlike!

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:20 PM

That sounds so awesome!!! Lets do it now so I never have to work again, as I am getting tired of it!! I can just go take whatever I want, without paying of course, and I can have anything I want for FREE!!! Yahoo!!! I want a Lexus, an airplane and a mansion on a hill!!! And don't forget the maid to clean it!!

Seriously, this sounds like a great idea! I can persue my dreams now! Sit around by the pool and read all day, maybe paint something in the afternoon after my nap, do to the ocean and have some fresh seafood, all for free, no work needed on my part!!!

YAHOO!!! Heaven on earth at last!!

Quoting: no-one-special

Sarcasm

urantian

User ID: 1286724

 United States

12/13/2011 12:21 PM

We still need to work to survive, but all profession pay the same.

All need to learn as many traits as possible and take turn to do what you like, no job is long term like congress!!!!!!

All can be all you want if you strive and meet the requirement set by we the people of the law of ONE.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 6907239

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 12:22 PM

That sounds so awesome!!! Lets do it now so I never have to work again, as I am getting tired of it!! I can just go take whatever I want, without paying of course, and I can have anything I want for FREE!!! Yahoo!!! I want a Lexus, an airplane and a mansion on a hill!!! And don't forget the maid to clean it!!

Seriously, this sounds like a great idea! I can persue my dreams now! Sit around by the pool and read all day, maybe paint something in the afternoon after my nap, do to the ocean and have some fresh seafood, all for free, no work needed on my part!!!

YAHOO!!! Heaven on earth at last!!

Quoting: no-one-special

Sarcasm

Quoting: Revguard

I like your sarcasm..

A good mantra is "Never want for anything you cannot take with you after death"!

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 12:22 PM

Face it. you're greedy and you won't give it up. if a man were to come up to you and try to force you to give up what money you have, you would fight to the death over it, wouldn't you? Do you see how this makes people into slaves or worse animals? it's like cavemen who used to run around raiding other tribes to steal their women so they could breed. You have to give up this idea of if I don't have it, i'm going to starve concept. There will be no more money in the future. life will be simpler, harder for some but simpler. But you will learn to survive on without dependence for money. your work will be appreciated more, your labor will be appreciated and thus you as a human will be more grateful because someone will appreciate what you have done to help yourself and someone else. see?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I have given up everything in my life several times. It didn't separate me from my soul. Find another target for your rants.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1458657

 United States

12/13/2011 12:23 PM

Another thing that gets me is how we think an American's labor is worth more than someone's in another country.

And still another thing that makes no sense to me is the false idea of rising value. How can a hundred year old--or ANY house-- be worth more the OLDER it gets?

And never mind about land value--it's the same land in the same place it's always been except the area has probably declined over the years in one way or another which seems like it would make the land less valuable. There is NOT less land and there's plenty to go around if people would spread out.

AND who has the right to OWN land? Or sell it? It was here before we were.

Ridiculous greed.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1124291

American Labor is expensive because of Cost of Living and freedoms here is typically far higher than any other nation. Outside of government regulation, which is inherently destructive on employees and employers, free markets dictate what American labor is worth. If the cost of labor here is too high, business owners will relocate that business to a more cost effective country. Plus american labor won't take 60 days of vacation like Europe meaning you actually have some value in hiring these workers to do their assigned task/operation/mission. Working Hard or Smart mean absolutely NOTHING in the global market place. You can be the best ditch digger and work the hardest and smartest however the second somebody comes in with a crane to dig, my hard and smart work have ZERO value in the market place.

Money is a tool of exchange, yes. Moreover, it is the PRIMARY MEANS OF SURVIVAL in the external world for a human being with their brain being the tool that interprets the external world.

How are you going to EARN SAVE and INVEST enough to live a good life? How much will that cost? adjusted for inflation? What is a good life? When do you want to retire? People need to occupy some real thinking on these questions.

I am a 1%er. I have thought upon, developed strategies & tactics, and realized the answers to these questions. I will not be enslaved by the 99%. My family will eat. We will live in safe neighborhoods. My kids will attend the best schools. These are not my mere opinions; they are fact. I designed my life and my future such that I ensure these certain future events. I will fight to my dying breath to protect my life, family and freedoms.

JustUs

User ID: 6561229

 Germany

12/13/2011 12:23 PM

Money is just another form of communication. If you want to live without communicating with it , become a hermit or STFU.

Quoting: ossbogosley

What do YOU do for your "living." My amazing how people consider themselves to even be "living" on this world. MOST OF YOU DO NOT. We will have a world someday where people won't even have to "hermit", money or otherwise. Those that hermit in this world can't stand it. hmmm that would be ME! If I did not "hermit" I could not do what I do now, as hermiting is my method of staying out of the madness out there. be back in a bit, have morning stuff to finish.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

Truth right there!

Sungaze At Dawn

User ID: 1458670

 Canada

12/13/2011 12:24 PM

Earth was created in absolute innocence, a shadow of our home in the heavenly beyonds, sent in through the mirror/sun, erected into the hologram. We always had the choice to bring it up or send it down, by Love/Equality/Freedom in equal measure, by bringing Heaven to Earth or rather, Earth to Heaven.

We're the seeds supposed to grow into the Flower/Tree.

There is no money in our homes that we left. Its wonderful equality. Everything that we have belongs to all, yet there is no limits on abundance so all are prospered enormously.

And that is the way we should live here. Everyone with a full stomach, not just a roof over their heads, but beauty and abundance, some volunteering (if you're healthy, able bodied and don't have young ones out of school), part time, or full dependign on your wish's and other responsibilities.

High clean technology. Basically Venus Project.

It can be done anywhere. Whole neighborhoods in cities could be joined up and treated like eco farms.

The back yards that many elderly give up on due to the work, and then they think they need to sell and move into apartments, can be shared by the neighborhood groups and grow food for everyone, so the elderly can stay in their own homes, and volunteers manage the gardens and landscaping.

People who wish to downsize can sell and instead of buying the expensive homes, buy into eco farms or a mobile home and actually dontate to their communities. Land donations and yurts for the homeless.

Free energy, brought out and put into workshops with teenagers.

Citizens counsels in every region with online radio, run by students, and college students, and the Natives.

Give everyone a voice and if they are so traumatized or their health so poor, then we advocate for each other.

Most of all, everyone included, respect for every single person, and ensure that the homeless, the poor, the single parents, and everyone has a voice, is heard and respected.

No more telling people what to do, but listening, respecting, understanding, and empowering one another.

We all need to be healing partners for each other.

I wouldn't be waiting.

If they're crashing the economy, this is what needs to spring up under their noses.

But never settle for anything that is run by them, or the elite.

They can take a moneyless eutopia and turn it into slaves.

As the Hopi Elders said, Do not wait for a leader.....We're the ones we've been waiting for.

Stop thinking in terms of limits, jobs, false economy, and instead realize how much we could do if it didn't have a cost, but only took volunteering and cooperation, a shared idea.

And then get together with others and share those ideas.

I offered a pin, hope more do.

Last Edited by Sungaze At Dawn on 12/13/2011 12:30 PM

no-one-special

User ID: 7036457

 United States

12/13/2011 12:25 PM

That sounds so awesome!!! Lets do it now so I never have to work again, as I am getting tired of it!! I can just go take whatever I want, without paying of course, and I can have anything I want for FREE!!! Yahoo!!! I want a Lexus, an airplane and a mansion on a hill!!! And don't forget the maid to clean it!!

Seriously, this sounds like a great idea! I can persue my dreams now! Sit around by the pool and read all day, maybe paint something in the afternoon after my nap, do to the ocean and have some fresh seafood, all for free, no work needed on my part!!!

YAHOO!!! Heaven on earth at last!!

Quoting: no-one-special

Sarcasm

Quoting: Revguard

Yes, sarcasm. Truth be told, I love my job, my home and my old car. I want for nothing except what I value, and that is not material things.

But I hope you see that there is alot of people who would take that attitude. "Yay free for me" and not care who had to do the work, as long as it was not them. There are alot of people who already feel like they are owed something in this life without any effort on there part. The majority of people will only do what they have to, because they have to. They will perform some type of work to earn food, shelter and clothing.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 12:25 PM

I honestly couldn't agree more with OP's concept. Although its not the money thats the problem its our enduring enslavement to the materialistic paradigm that we lovingly embrace as a society and civilization. We love our "things", our useless shit that won't accompany us in the next plane nor help us get there. We are slaves to our own belief systems and capitalistic, consumer based, thought processes/mind programs. The truth is that the money we so desperatley desire is also the figurative double deadbolt lock on our cages and the bars of the cell itself. Unbeknownst to the general slave population we are the slave drivers and masters pushing our minds and bodies to the brink of incapacitation and/or insanity, locking ourselves in our own prisons every night, with the locks on the INSIDE of the doors facing us, & the keys around our necks; literally hanging us with fear of the unknown and uncertainty in the result of necessary change.

Simply put money should only be a means of exchange.

The dollar bill does not say In God We Trust because we put our undying faith in God. No, it says In God We Trust as in In Money We Trust, i.e. money is your God. Just look at a dollar, read the print, and see how you feel. Do you feel as if you are proclaiming something about the money or your faith?

In a world where having stuff to show off so that you can attract a "mate"(woman) etc. isn't paramount and the physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual(not religious) state and status of the people IS(paramount), peace reigns. In a world based in this mindset, with the stasis of the people being of the utmost importance, peace reigns over all lands; for the friction caused by turmoil in the human psyche has been thwarted and all the basic needs of said human are met. This type of society works because there is no question of whether or not we have enough resources it works on a system of DEMAND & SUPPLY. We have space which=food and an abundance of water on our planet that literally CANNOT escape our atmosphere=limitless supply, therefore the only question ever asked is how much is needed; and the the needs are met with the supplys(resources) that we have available to the the collective WHOLE.

The rest of the everyday B.S. that has been rooted in our culture as a people and planet are just luxuries.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1646427

well said, but one a world uses money as only an exchange they no longer need it. Money is a dark energy. On a world not using money, in which people are mentally free, they all gift to their society, and the energy of love prevails, and money becomes useless. it is NOT the energy of LOVE.

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 12:25 PM

*Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money.
I cut my own hair, and it looks professional.*

*How are you going to feed your family?
We have gardens and trade food with a cattleman.*

*How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?
My men are not spoiled and useless.*

*electricity, what is that?
During Katrina we ate rice and fruit and did fine. Many cultures survive with fresh fish as well.
Candles and burning oil lamps worked fine.*

*We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels, too. Wood stoves will come in handy.
Why did you back-track off your "no electricity, no means of building homes" stance?*

*Things will have to be relearned all over again and humans will have to learn how to become self sufficient to survive.
By this point in your argument, you are geared up to survive.*

*The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs?
You want us to fear, so you create your own fear. It won't work for me. I am a survivor.*

*they want people to learn to become more self-sufficient. and you will learn how, too.
You get a red badge of courage, now go rake some pine straw and switch to tea bags and local honey instead of coke-cola.
Quoting: pool

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people?
Quoting: Real list

Face it. you're greedy and you won't give it up. if a man were to come up to you and try to force you to give up what money you have, you would fight to the death over it, wouldn't you? Do you see how this makes people into slaves or worse animals? it's like cavemen who used to run around raiding other tribes to steal their women so they could breed. You have to give up this idea of if I don't have it, i'm going to starve concept. There will be no more money in the future. life will be simpler, harder for some but simpler. But you will learn to survive on without dependence for money. your work will be appreciated more, your labor will be appreciated and thus you as a human will be more grateful becuase someone will appreciate what you have done to help yourself and someone else. see?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

I am greedy?

Where does that come from? The truth is, I am 64 years old and not as capable of earning money or anything else as I used to be. Soon I will be totally unable to earn more. So yes, I will fight to the death for the things my money REPRESENTS. That is food, medical and shelter in my 'golden years'. I have worked and saved all my life to prepare for this time. And for the simple reason, we are not the angels that OP thinks, we cannot depend on each other for our living needs.

So please do what you said. Appreciate, thank me for what I have done for myself and what I have done to not be a burden on others.

And yes, I could have as aeasily accumulated any wealth besides fiat money. But that is nowhere near the utopia OP imagines. It is simply swapping one form of wealth for another.

All these 'money is the problem' threads are the same. Dreamers VS real-ists

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:27 PM

That sounds so awesome!!! Lets do it now so I never have to work again, as I am getting tired of it!! I can just go take whatever I want, without paying of course, and I can have anything I want for FREE!!! Yahoo!!! I want a Lexus, an airplane and a mansion on a hill!!! And don't forget the maid to clean it!!

Seriously, this sounds like a great idea! I can persue my dreams now! Sit around by the pool and read all day, maybe paint something in the afternoon after my nap, do to the ocean and have some fresh seafood, all for free, no work needed on my part!!!

YAHOO!!! Heaven on earth at last!!

Quoting: no-one-special

Sarcasm

Quoting: Revguard

Yes, sarcasm. Truth be told, I love my job, my home and my old car. I want for nothing except what I value, and that is not material things.

But I hope you see that there is a lot of people who would take that attitude. "Yay free for me" and not care who had to do the work, as long as it was not them. There are a lot of people who already feel like they are owed something in this life without any effort on their part. The majority of people will only do what they have to, because they have to. They will perform some type of work to earn food, shelter and clothing.

Quoting: no-one-special

Yep, I see it. That is why I didn't attack you. Those people are still asleep. They are part of the problem.

We have so much potential. More and more people will realize. I just hope enough realize in my time. I would love to see something truly grand happen here on earth.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 12:28 PM

Let us wait until we truly experience the oneness in each other and are able to see the other as yourself in another life and experience then how can you charge yourself when you help yourself? You do it because you help yourself attain the best and you get good feelings from that.

Another way is through technology. Scientists already know that material is energy in a specific state.

Wait till they find out how to manipulate all that infinite energy that surrounds us and create from seemingly thin air all the things we want by manipulating energy through technology.

Yes you could create gold and diamonds as much as you want but when your neighbour can create it also what is the value of it? You can't eat it, you can show it off but the other can do that too. Life will then be everything about abundance and not shortages. Gold and everything that has value now will become worthless.

So there are some scenarios which are not that hard to come up with when the fantasy goes a bit wild giving a few examples either through spirituality or through technology.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 1260049

and it well past time for people to engage that wild fantasy. for of that HUMAN is truly born. The fantasy of so many over wealth from money is a sad sad use of "fantasy" in fact its not fantasy at all, it simply continues the enslavement to money.

urantian

User ID: 1286724

 United States

12/13/2011 12:29 PM

AN INTERVAL OF NON-TIME

When the universe reaches a point of maximum expansion, a unique phenomenon will take place.

There will be a moment when all laws necessary for the creative maintenance of physical matter and all materializing processes become suspended.

Due to the relative velocities of the various star systems. this event will not be experienced simultaneously in all parts of the universe, but will travel as a wave across the sea of creation.

Existing within this ripple of non-time will be the focused conscious attention of the Creator.

As it passes through the material realms, it will stay and take up residence in all life forms with circuitry capable of mirroring its essence.

This is the moment when the Creator will slip inside Creation; the moment for which we are attempting to prepare you.

This is the much misunderstood "Second Coming of Christianity".

It is the event that primitive civilizations have looked forward to as "the return of the gods".

The Mayans went so far as to pinpoint its actual occurrence in what you would call the year 2011 A.D.

Yet while many of your traditions hint at what is about to transpire, none of them have adequately conveyed the magnitude of impact such an event will have.

Indeed, no single conceptual structure is capable of conveying the enormity of what is soon to take place.

Those familiar with the scriptures of your various peoples should be in position to understand what is occurring for these are the times spoken of.

Yet you must realize that God did not invent the words used in scripture.

He merely arranged them In the order most approximating His meaning.

Further, He only presented them in mental pictures and through the years of translation and deliberate tampering most meaning is distorted and damaged.

What is actually happening requires all of biological life to convey its meaning.

Thread: Stasis - An Interval of Non-Time

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 12:30 PM

The other day I watched a BBC video about the life of the beaver, how they live in harmony within their environment, and even give shelter to other creatures during the winter months.

Why can't we live simply in harmony with our environment?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7044270

.....Additionally, humans are "hard-wired" for "profit". Even in a barter situation, each participant wants to feel that they have brokered the "better" deal. We also can feel kind and charitable toward others, but only AFTER our OWN needs and obligations have been met.

....

Quoting: Eggcellent

No we are not! This is taught to us by TV, and people.

A child does not come out this way. It is taught this by its parents, television and society.

If from birth our society was taught/brainwashed to be more giving, sharing, etc. Then it would not be the way it is.

We are nothing close to "hard-wired" for "profit". We are taught this. Nothing more.

Quoting: Revguard

You have never seen a baby take something from another baby? Greed is instinctive, it is part of the survival instinct, the will to live.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 12:31 PM

our currency should be love and compassion

and 5 to you op

Quoting: wildhoney

Thankyou and when this currency is discovered we will create a balanced world. Man will gift himself as a society. Some will grow the food, others will distribute it, banking will go away, as will investment counselors and that whole industry built around money. HUMAN will in fact create more technologies, such as robotics that will do much of the actual work. This world must go thru that stage as part of the growing up. Man will long occupy temporary bodies on this world, as it is a seed planet to grow the soul. but he will grow by seeking his spirit and not by seeking wealth and control over others.

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:32 PM

*Imagine not being able to get your hair cut on a regular basis without having any money.
I cut my own hair, and it looks professional.*

How are you going to feed your family?

We have gardens and trade food with a cattleman.

How will you build a home if you don't know how to cut down the trees to create the lumber you need?

My men are not spoiled and useless.

electricity, what is that?

During Katrina we ate rice and fruit and did fine. Many cultures survive with fresh fish as well. Candles and burning oil lamps worked fine.

We can create windmills that will help produce electricity and you can build your own solar panels,too. Wood stoves will come in handy.

Why did you back-track off your "no electricity, no means of building homes" stance?

Things will have to be relearned all over again and humans will have to learn how to become self sufficient to survive.

By this point in your argument, you are geared up to survive.

The money you so cherish now will become your toilet paper one day. Why do you think there are no jobs?

You want us to fear, so you create your own fear. It won't work for me. I am a survivor.

they want people to learn to become more self-sufficient. and you will learn how, too.

You get a red badge of courage, now go rake some pine straw and switch to tea bags and local honey instead of coke-cola.

Quoting: pool

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people?

Quoting: Real list

Face it. you're greedy and you won't give it up. if a man were to come up to you and try to force you to give up what money you have, you would fight to the death over it, wouldn't you? Do you see how this makes people into slaves or worse animals? it's like cavemen who used to run around raiding other tribes to steal their women so they could breed. You have to give up this idea of if I don't have it, I'm going to starve concept. There will be no more money in the future. life will be simpler, harder for some but simpler. But you will learn to survive on without dependence for money. your work will be appreciated more, your labor will be appreciated and thus you as a human will be more grateful because someone will appreciate what you have done to help yourself and someone else. see?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

...snip...

All these 'money is the problem' threads are the same. Dreamers VS real-ists

Quoting: Real list

I disagree. Completely. I see it more like....

Awake vs Sheep.

The ones saying money is not needed are not the sheep BTW.

People have been brainwashed to believe there is only one real way to live. And that is with money. It is not the only way.

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 12:35 PM

We still need to work to survive, but all profession pay the same.

All need to learn as many traits as possible and take turn to do what you like, no job is long term like congress!!!!

All can be all you want if you strive and meet the requirement set by we the people of the law of ONE.

Quoting: urantian 1286724

Sounds good (sarcasm). I pick up a broom and pretend to sweep the street. You go to school 1/3 of your life. We earn the same. I sweep the street and you work in a mine or on high voltage or a shrim boat in the north atlantic. All pays the same.

Fair.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1546672

 United States

12/13/2011 12:38 PM

I'm going back to a simple primitive way of life. What other people do doesn't affect me. I don't want to be a part of a communist utopia.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 12:38 PM

imagine a world where we didnt work for money, but for the pride and satisfaction of doing the work we did.

how many can honestly say the takey pride and satisfaction in their work, its not even 50% of us, is my bet if everything was free, would people still steal?

would people be more tempted to share an item that didnt have any "value" ?

Quoting: Michael_

This is lovely too, Thankyou. If we provide to everyone all that is needed and created by everyone who makes a contribution, crime goes way down.

Please all of you, STATE your WORK you do for money here and the work you gift this world as "charity" for which you get no pay and tell which ones feels the best? State if your work for which you get paid, is fully worthy of what you have to offer also. I bet if people really look, it' well less than 50%.

I might myself write up a little essay about my "work" and where it satisfied and where it did not. But thats a later story and only IF I need to tell it to teach. I think you ones here can take up that role, if you but will do it, so have at it! As you will notice this morning, I am going thru the posts one by one from the first page, so I don't miss any. Its easy to read and answer the most recent and forget those at the beginning. I will be leaving the computer periodically to do the stuff of life, I am almost out of clean pots and pans and since this body still needs food, (it doesn't but I have reasons to keep it this way), I must muck my way thru the muck in the kitchen.

THOSE of you in this thread who do SEE, you are more than welcome to help others SEE. Have at it. As I said, man must come to envision far more than he has, but you see, if you do not want to evision, you will stay a fool and spend a goodly portion of your life somewhere else where you can continue your fool hood until you desire to use the God given MIND within YOU. Ponder that one, how many more useless shitty lives being a parasite do you want?

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/13/2011 12:41 PM

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 6989735
 United Kingdom
12/13/2011 12:39 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 6994394
 United States
12/13/2011 12:40 PM

Just an observation...Why do you think they are poisoning everything from air,water to land/food? Because one day we will have to be self sufficient without money, we then can go out and catch our own poison and plant on our own poisonous soil, sure we can build shelter from dying trees which won't last long through harsh weather. My point this whole planet is one huge diseased pit and if we don't die from freezing to death or starvation it will be from their continuous attempts to poison us!

Not a fair fight in the end right? So I read some of your replies and I do agree we need to utilize our inner light in this mess by thinking outside the box, we are our own healers of ourselves and our surrounding environment all we need to do is convince those others of their own capabilities to be able to do this as well and work together to heal this planet and regain the freedom TO LIVE that we all deserve!

God turns all bad into good through pure light energy we all have it in us, now lets start using it for the better of not only mankind but for all on earth and Earth its self! 🍷🌸

Real list

User ID: 7049451

🇺🇸 United States

12/13/2011 12:44 PM

...

You went without electric for a short time. You knew (or expected) it to come back eventually and you were in a position to do without because you had it prior to the event. Not a fair comparison.

The other things you mentioned, not everyone has the physical ability. What about them? Do they starve or freeze? Or would it be better if they did something within their capabilities and 'traded' that labor for the things they could not produce themselves?

Bottom line...yes we could do those things, but is that better or worse way for MOST people?
Quoting: Real list

Face it. you're greedy and you won't give it up. if a man were to come up to you and try to force you to give up what money you have,you would fight to the death over it,wouldn't you? Do you see how this makes people into slaves or worse animals? it's like cavemen who used to run around raiding other tribes to steal their women so they could breed. You have to give up this idea of if I don't have it, i'm going to starve concept. There will be no more money in the future. life will be simpler, harder for some but simpler. But you will learn to survive on without dependence for money. your work will be appreciated more, your labor will be appreciated and thus you as a human will be more grateful becuase someone will appreciate what you have done to help yourself and someone else. see?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 952924

...snip...

All these 'money is the problem' threads are the same. Dreamers VS real-ists

Quoting: Real list

I disagree. Completely. I see it more like....

Awake vs Sheep.

The ones saying money is not needed are not the sheep BTW.

People have been brainwashed to believe there is only one real way to live. And that is with money. It is not the only way.

Quoting: Revguard

The first people used their physical ability to hunt/gather. Then they began farming and animal husbandry. Then they began using animals to replace some human labor. They found that working in groups was more efficient than going it alone. After thousands of years they discovered cheap energy and industrialized. Began using mechanical tools and mostly discarded animal labor. Somewhere along the line they found that standardized currency made transactions possible that had not been possible.

Which, if any of these changes did NOT improve the human condition? None did. Because we, like all intelligent life, gravitate to things that work and away from things that harm or do not work. We gravitate to systems that work better than other systems.

No one on this board has any proven system that can replace the system we use today. I see theories, dreams, futuristic fantasies.

Dreamers and realists

Last Edited by Real list on 12/13/2011 12:46 PM

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 12:46 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6989735

Thanks for the reality check.

The whole idea is stupid beyond comment.

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:48 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6989735

Thanks for the reality check.

The whole idea is stupid beyond comment.

Quoting: Real list

But, you are commenting. If it was "beyond" comment you would stop um..... commenting?

I will leave with.... we will just have to disagree.

Last Edited by Revguard on 12/13/2011 12:48 PM

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 12:51 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6989735

Thanks for the reality check.

The whole idea is stupid beyond comment.

Quoting: Real list

But, you are commenting. If it was "beyond" comment you would stop um..... commenting?

I will leave with.... we will just have to disagree.

Quoting: Revguard

I thanked the poster for pointing it out.

Yes, you can surely not agree with me. But notice one thing, there are no real replies to my real-life facts.

I will leave with this.....

Revguard

User ID: 1448291

 United States

12/13/2011 12:51 PM

Why cannot earth folks envision a world without MONEY!

Quoting: OP

Simple answer.

We have been brainwashed. Too much television, too much promoting the worship of money.

Simple honest answer.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 12:55 PM

The greatest thing America ever invented was the assembly line right before the Great Depression. Truth right there. There was need for everything made and everyone's help. The assembly line was the driving force behind productivity.

pool

User ID: 5849497

 United States

12/13/2011 12:55 PM

Please all of you, STATE your WORK you do for money here and the work you gift this world as "charity" for which you get no pay and tell which ones feels the best? State if your work for which you get paid, is fully worthy of what you have to offer also.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

no way, honey.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 12:56 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 01:04 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Last Edited by Nobody in Particular on 12/13/2011 01:05 PM

ossbogosley

User ID: 3672761

 United States

12/13/2011 01:06 PM

Why don't we invision a world without communication? Thats all money is.

Quoting: ossbogosley

Every post you made in this thread you are hinting that "money" is our only form of communication. Or even a "true form of communication".

You are debating a point without looking at the broader picture. You act as if we still wouldnt be able to

1. Talk
2. Radio
3. Internet
4. Barter
5. Share
6. etc....

Please stop with this tactic. Money is NOT communication, in the truest sense of the word.

Quoting: Revguard

[\[link to www.reinventingmoney.com\]](http://www.reinventingmoney.com)

"Not money, but a false money system is the root of all evil."

This new concept is a challenge to the academic economist and a bid to the layman to enter into the practical mastery of a subject that has heretofore been enshrouded in mystery.

"To desire freedom is an instinct. To secure it requires intelligence. It must be comprehended and self—asserted. To petition for it is to stultify oneself, for a petitioner is a confessed subject and lacks the spirit of a freeman. To rail and rant against tyranny is to manifest inferiority, for there is no tyranny but ignorance; to be conscious of one's powers is to lose consciousness of tyranny. Self government is not a remote aim. It is an intimate and inescapable fact. To govern oneself is a natural imperative, and all tyranny is the miscarriage of self government. The first requisite of freedom is to accept responsibility for the lack of it."

E.C. Riegel

What is Money?

Money is an agreement

The agreement may be voluntary or coerced, conscious or unconscious, and may fluctuate with time or remain fixed.

within a community

All kinds of communities--large and small; local, national, international, or virtual; cooperative or competitive--may create such an agreement.

to use something as a medium of exchange.

The money itself can be issued en masse by a central authority or created ad hoc by two consenting parties in a mutual credit system; it may store value or merely mark transactions; it may be backed or valued with something tangible or merely by the issuing authority; and it may take any shape--coins and bills, some chalk marks on a blackboard, or bits of data inside a computer.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 952924

 United States

12/13/2011 01:07 PM

<http://youtu.be/uesFLe9j2Bo>

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7057041

 United States

12/13/2011 01:12 PM

I can envision it - A WORLD WITHOUT MONEY!!!

Just like - A WORLD WITHOUT PRIVATE PROPERTY!!!

Or, - A WORLD WITHOUT SUCH AND SUCH NATURAL RIGHT!!!

It's not hard to envision: a revolutionary army on the streets with machine guns and, perhaps, smart looking berets decorated with revolutionary ornaments; an all powerful Central Committee for the Defense of the People Against Money; a network of re-education centers for "resistors"...

We've seen it all before. Convince the sheeple that all our problems stem from a basic facet of human nature. Then, in the process of "correcting" that natural defect...enslave them

ossbogossley

User ID: 3672761

 United States

12/13/2011 01:19 PM

I can envision it - A WORLD WITHOUT MONEY!!!

Just like - A WORLD WITHOUT PRIVATE PROPERTY!!!

Or, - A WORLD WITHOUT SUCH AND SUCH NATURAL RIGHT!!!

It's not hard to envision: a revolutionary army on the streets with machine guns and, perhaps, smart looking berets decorated with revolutionary ornaments; an all powerful Central Committee for the Defense of the People Against Money; a network of re-education centers for "resistors"...

We've seen it all before. Convince the sheeple that all our problems stem from a basic facet of human nature. Then, in the process of "correcting" that natural defect...enslave them!

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7057041

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 01:20 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I'll agree, employees are basically slaves. They trade the precious time they have on this planet, in this incarnation, for a measly wage.

Working for other people, however, is not true capitalism. True capitalism is working for yourself, creating your own business and becoming successful based on your own intelligence and abilities. People have forgotten this fact and this why we have things like OWS. Everyone wants a life handed to them, they want a job given to them, money given to them, they want to do a minimum of work to receive what they feel they deserve.

True capitalism means that those with the intelligence and abilities to be successful are successful and everyone else does what they can and works for these true capitalists.

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Everyone has some amount of worth but many people are only valuable as workers. The only thing they can contribute to society is to do a repetitive task which they have been trained to do. Creating an "equal" society has never been about raising those that are low but lowering those who, rightfully, should be raised above the rest.

If you're unhappy in your job and you think you deserve more than quit and start your own business. There are very few things that can not, in some way, be done in at least a freelance fashion.

You say I have no heart because I have no desire to equate myself with the moronic masses of people that demand things yet contribute nothing.

Inequality is a fact of nature, the slow zebra is the one that gets eaten, the biggest gorilla is the one in charge.

Forced equality does nothing but breed contempt.

Tell me, in your perfect moneyless world, who gets to work in the fields, who gets to do back breaking labor and who gets to sit in a comfortable office and manage everything?

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1601759

Canada

12/13/2011 01:21 PM

And if we envision then what? It's not enough to envision, it has to be implemented, and that's the problem. The most difficult thing in this world is to convince people about something. To convince the entire mankind it's a huge task, to say the least. Add the thugs who for millennia are watching every move we make and you get closer to the reality. A shift in our consciousness is the answer. Theorizing and finding logical answers won't do it. Besides the fact that this discussion will stay 'locally' with no impact on the large masses.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1055984

United States

12/13/2011 01:41 PM

And how are you gonna barter your X-Box for bread and milk?

AkelDama

The small things are the big things

User ID: 1326518

United States

12/13/2011 01:41 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I'll agree, employees are basically slaves. They trade the precious time they have on this planet, in this incarnation, for a measly wage.

Working for other people, however, is not true capitalism. True capitalism is working for yourself, creating your own business and becoming successful based on your own intelligence and abilities. People have forgotten this fact and this why we have things like OWS. Everyone wants a life handed to them, they want a job given to them, money given to them, they want to do a minimum of work to receive what they feel they deserve.

True capitalism means that those with the intelligence and abilities to be successful are successful and everyone else does what they can and works for these true capitalists.

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Everyone has some amount of worth but many people are only valuable as workers. The only thing they can contribute to society is to do a repetitive task which they have been trained to do. Creating an "equal" society has never been about raising those that are low but lowering those who, rightfully, should be raised above the rest.

If you're unhappy in your job and you think you deserve more than quit and start your own business. There are very few things that can not, in some way, be done in at least a freelance fashion.

You say I have no heart because I have no desire to equate myself with the moronic masses of people that demand things yet contribute nothing.

Inequality is a fact of nature, the slow zebra is the one that gets eaten, the biggest gorilla is the one in charge.

Forced equality does nothing but breed contempt.

Tell me, in your perfect moneyless world, who gets to work in the fields, who gets to do back breaking labor and who gets to sit in a comfortable office and manage everything?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I agree with you, but I believe this is meant to be looked at as something much more than this physical world we live on.

If we dropped money and lived a spiritual life, where we treat others better than ourselves, like the Lord says, then there would literally be no need for money...because we would always be watching out for each other, getting rid of 'inequality.'

That being said, this would never happen, because that is an ideal, and it is our true purpose. Human minds have become distorted by evil and materialism, thus the 'need' for money. So yes, on a physical, secular, material way--which we DO live in--you are correct.

But our potential/purpose is much higher than inequality and capitalism.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 6994394

 United States

12/13/2011 01:51 PM

Some believe by starting your own business is the answer, I own my own business and guess what they the government own it more than I do. I don't comply with their rules I am shut down and penalized!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 02:03 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I'll agree, employees are basically slaves. They trade the precious time they have on this planet, in this incarnation, for a measly wage.

Working for other people, however, is not true capitalism. True capitalism is working for yourself, creating your own business and becoming successful based on your own intelligence and abilities. People have forgotten this fact and this why we have things like OWS. Everyone wants a life handed to them, they want a job given to them, money given to them, they want to do a minimum of work to receive what they feel they deserve.

True capitalism means that those with the intelligence and abilities to be successful are successful and everyone else does what they can and works for these true capitalists.

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Everyone has some amount of worth but many people are only valuable as workers. The only thing they can contribute to society is to do a repetitive task which they have been trained to do. Creating an "equal" society has never been about raising those that are low but lowering those who, rightfully, should be raised above the rest.

If you're unhappy in your job and you think you deserve more than quit and start your own business. There are very few things that can not, in some way, be done in at least a freelance fashion.

You say I have no heart because I have no desire to equate myself with the moronic masses of people that demand things yet contribute nothing.

Inequality is a fact of nature, the slow zebra is the one that gets eaten, the biggest gorilla is the one in charge.

Forced equality does nothing but breed contempt.

Tell me, in your perfect moneyless world, who gets to work in the fields, who gets to do back breaking labor and who gets to sit in a comfortable office and manage everything?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I agree with you, but I believe this is meant to be looked at as something much more than this physical world we live on.

If we dropped money and lived a spiritual life, where we treat others better than ourselves, like the Lord says, then there would literally be no need for money...because we would always be watching out for each other, getting rid of 'inequality.'

That being said, this would never happen, because that is an ideal, and it is our true purpose. Human minds have become distorted by evil and materialism, thus the 'need' for money. So yes, on a physical, secular, material way--which we DO live in--you are correct.

But our potential/purpose is much higher than inequality and capitalism.

Quoting: AkelDama

I agree, humans have a much higher potential than they are currently living up to and this is part of the reason for my growing disdain for the majority of the race.

The problem is that, barring some incredible technological achievement, things like housing, clothing, food, electricity, all of the things we consider necessary to life, require the hard work (sometimes incredibly hard work) of a large group of people. Simply caring for one another and "looking out for each other" will not make crops grow, it will not turn trees into houses and steam into electricity.

Think of a common factory worker. He spends the majority of his life on an assembly line doing one menial repetitive task day after day. He has no power in his job and very little power in his life. His entire life is basically dominated by his need to show up at the factory the next morning. The only freedom this man truly has is his right to spend the money he makes in any way he wants. This is the only time he has any sort of real power. This is his prime motivation.

If we took that away from him do you truly think he would still be so eager to show up every morning? Would he really wake up and say to himself "Time to go waste my life doing something I hate with no reward for the good of everyone else"?

No, he would see that he is forced to work in a factory while others work in offices. He would see that some are able to be creative and use their brains while he needs to perform a repetitive task, without thinking, like a machine.

That, in my opinion, is a much bleaker image than the one we have today.

Everyone feels great on payday.

This moneyless society that everyone seems to be promoting will NEVER work with the population numbers we have today. There is simply no way to sustain this many people in a society which is truly equal, where everyone shares in everything, it's impossible.

This is another reason why I despise the people who promote these ideas. The success of such a concept relies on a massive reduction of the population and the imposing of a system of governance which regulates every person's entire life to ensure that all is equal. No one has any power, no one can choose their own destiny, everyone must answer to "the good of the people".

Not only is it not capitalist but it is entirely against the fundamental concepts that America was founded one, concepts of personal freedom and liberty that I still firmly believe in.

These people offer an image of life which sounds nice, it sounds easy and comfortable, but most people don't realize what this concept entails.

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 02:10 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6989735

Thanks for the reality check.

The whole idea is stupid beyond comment.

Quoting: Real list

Because, without a vision of the direction that you what to be moving in, you are missing out on the opportunity to improve your standings!

Last Edited by ObeWayneKenobe on 12/13/2011 02:13 PM

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 02:14 PM

this whole thread is fucking dumb, why are you even discussing this shit?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6989735

Thanks for the reality check.

The whole idea is stupid beyond comment.

Quoting: Real list

Because, without a vision of the direction that you want to be moving in, you are missing out on the opportunity to improve your standings!

Quoting: ObeWayneKenobe

Exactly why I am a capitalist with no political affiliation.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7060247

 Germany

12/13/2011 02:14 PM

Why should I? I have enough money.

ObeWayneKenobe

User ID: 1330622

 United States

12/13/2011 02:19 PM

Why should I? I have enough money.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7060247

Good luck with that.....cause some would say you've got a pocket full of illusions! lol

Pa resident1

User ID: 5721648

 United States

12/13/2011 02:43 PM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.

Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian live. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build your house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in. Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT every go away.

Your angel work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. (and you won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I can envision a world with out money!!!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 75804

 United States

12/13/2011 02:50 PM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.
Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian live. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build you house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in. Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT every go away.

Your angel work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. :peace on earth: (and you won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

A world without desire? Not for a while

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7061701

 United Kingdom

12/13/2011 03:00 PM

IT IS NOT THAT HARD PEOPLE. Some folks didn't like my butting into this thread this evening.
Thread: What is the reason for money?

So lets just do it under my name and YOU butt into this one with VISION. Living without money does not need serfdom. And it does not mean going back to the hunter gatherer stage either, nor to an agrarian live. It does not mean you trade your organic back yard grown veggies to a carpenter to build your house either.

The carpenter to build you house does not have to do something to acquire the wood, shingles, plumbing, electrical wiring and all the rest to build your house for his groceries. YOU CAN DO BETTER.

HUMAN is different from the animals because human can envision. I have had in fact 3 cats that have gotten a father fragment because they began to envision something beyond CAT. Leave out the Father Fragment though for this time, its not a thread on religion or cosmology.

Can you ones see no further ahead than working away your lives under the control of others? Can you not see your enslavement? I have never had a free day in my life on this world. NOT ONE. While I have "free time" to write here on GLP, I had to pay for the computer, and I have to pay for the electricity to run it, and most importantly I have to pay for the internet connection to get here.

And some pour soul likely earned next to nothing to bring me the expensive mac in the first place because the way international currency works. I have no idea who builds all the parts to a mac, then there is the shipping, packaging to ship and all that stuff that makes the world of apple go round.

I want to leave religion out of this, but I will not leave spirituality and some cosmology out of it. I have to make one statement, you are so missing out on the spirituality stuff, that you have bought the false heaven lie, which allows you to let yourself live as slaves, in hopes of a reward in heaven where you never have to work again, you can have parties with Jesus for eternity of trillions of years. Yes some of you do think that way, do not deny it.

Well guess what, Jesus has returned and he has worked his butt off for you since then. He worked his butt off finding places for you to go at the time this world is closed down and that is soon. Because you have destroyed your world and you have done so by allowing MONEY to be used to squelch your creative minds and reduce you to enslaved beings. And there are plenty of people who will post here that I am coo coo around this idea, they did already in the thread above and they have done so in the other threads on money.

I am NOT COO COO on this. Guess what, you will always work SOME in all of your life eternal. You will always live on planets of some sort. There is no heaven up in them their clouds to float in. Jesus LIVES on a planet except right now he lives on a CRAFT. Crafts are heaven people. You do not fly the friendly universe until you have earned the right to do so. The galactic wars are over and every race on every world must earn the right to fly or you stay on your prison world until you do. Work does NOT every go away.

Your angel work, didn't that occur to you? Do they get paid digital credits or paper bills for it? NO.

In the friendly universe everyone GIFTS their skills. Period. Now enough for tonight, I will continue this tomorrow and see what's posted in it. You are going to learn to expand your consciousness, or you are going to stay as fools on fools planets. This was the teaching left out of your bible.

"Truly, I say to you, wisdom must be learned from the laws of Creation, which humans may recognize in nature. But if humans do not think and seek, they will not be able to attain wisdom and will remain fools. There is no higher happiness than wisdom, no better friend than knowledge, and no other saviour than the power of the spirit."

If you do not get that POWER of your SPIRIT up and running, you are moving to other stupid worlds full of fools. OK. Can I be any clearer of that one?

Now would someone help me out here and list all the shit you have to pay for in this life? To pay for your shit, (and you do pay sewer fees to your water company to process your shit, do you not, quite literally), you have to work hours almost beyond your endurance, and submit to enslavement. Every single person that is employed is a slave and every single employer manages slaves. PONDER THAT ONE FOR IT IS TRUTH. Good night. :peace on earth: (and you won't have peace either until the money goes away.)

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

its in the clue MAN - AGER to age your fellow man and jump over his grave !

all_the_kings_horses

User ID: 4536389

 United States

12/13/2011 03:05 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I'll agree, employees are basically slaves. They trade the precious time they have on this planet, in this incarnation, for a measly wage.

Working for other people, however, is not true capitalism. True capitalism is working for yourself, creating your own business and becoming successful based on your own intelligence and abilities. People have forgotten this fact and this why we have things like OWS. Everyone wants a life handed to them, they want a job given to them, money given to them, they want to do a minimum of work to receive what they feel they deserve.

True capitalism means that those with the intelligence and abilities to be successful are successful and everyone else does what they can and works for these true capitalists.

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Everyone has some amount of worth but many people are only valuable as workers. The only thing they can contribute to society is to do a repetitive task which they have been trained to do. Creating an "equal" society has never been about raising those that are low but lowering those who, rightfully, should be raised above the rest.

If you're unhappy in your job and you think you deserve more than quit and start your own business. There are very few things that can not, in some way, be done in at least a freelance fashion.

You say I have no heart because I have no desire to equate myself with the moronic masses of people that demand things yet contribute nothing.

Inequality is a fact of nature, the slow zebra is the one that gets eaten, the biggest gorilla is the one in charge.

Forced equality does nothing but breed contempt.

Tell me, in your perfect moneyless world, who gets to work in the fields, who gets to do back breaking labor and who gets to sit in a comfortable office and manage everything?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

there are so many errors in what you said.....lets start at the beginning...you said..."Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life."

the "ONLY" system? You painting with a pretty broad brush. Please present some evidence that this claim is true. Simply saying it does not make to true.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 03:23 PM

Because I'm a capitalist. I have no political affiliation except to myself. If it'll make me money then I'm all for it.

Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life. A world without money would be a world with no options, no prospects and no ability to change one's situation in life.

Socialist pigs simply want power and wealth (accumulation of material things) without doing any work. Most people who believe in a moneyless society have been duped into a false mindset where they never assume they will be the ones working in the fields.

Capitalism allows the individual to earn based upon their own skills for survival. This isn't to say that there aren't a few people who inherit their money, but if you are more capable, smarter and more determined than your peers you will likely make more money and be more successful.

People who don't like capitalism are people without any useful skills and do not have the ability to think for themselves or approach a problem in a new way. They want everything to be "fair" and everyone to be "equal".

People are not equal.

Life is not fair.

Get over it.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You will thus be incarnating on another fucked up world, ponder that. Capitalism such as it is, means that a company is worked by cooperation, and all in it PROFIT from what the company does, and are NOT EMPLOYEES. They co create the company. They share in the money taken in. Any other way, and the "employee" is a SLAVE. I worked in hospitals for a long time, and there was NO CREATIVE SPIRIT there, that drove them to better themselves, either the people working in them or the patients. I chose that career to SERVE and while I did where I could, I was still a slave, because creative spirit was not allowed. People are equal, in terms they have a God mind, but it is slavery that divides them and causes huge in equality. Some folks are smarter than others, yes. Because the not so smart are just younger souls who are still growing themselves, unless the brain of course is defective as an interface with their world.

Your post is a tragic fail, it has no heart within. Even the dumbest of people have a worth, and can be part of a cooperative creative venture. Even the retarded in many MOST cases.

Quoting: Nobody in Particular

I'll agree, employees are basically slaves. They trade the precious time they have on this planet, in this incarnation, for a measly wage.

Working for other people, however, is not true capitalism. True capitalism is working for yourself, creating your own business and becoming successful based on your own intelligence and abilities. People have forgotten this fact and this why we have things like OWS. Everyone wants a life handed to them, they want a job given to them, money given to them, they want to do a minimum of work to receive what they feel they deserve.

True capitalism means that those with the intelligence and abilities to be successful are successful and everyone else does what they can and works for these true capitalists.

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Everyone has some amount of worth but many people are only valuable as workers. The only thing they can contribute to society is to do a repetitive task which they have been trained to do. Creating an "equal" society has never been about raising those that are low but lowering those who, rightfully, should be raised above the rest.

If you're unhappy in your job and you think you deserve more than quit and start your own business. There are very few things that can not, in some way, be done in at least a freelance fashion.

You say I have no heart because I have no desire to equate myself with the moronic masses of people that demand things yet contribute nothing.

Inequality is a fact of nature, the slow zebra is the one that gets eaten, the biggest gorilla is the one in charge.

Forced equality does nothing but breed contempt.

Tell me, in your perfect moneyless world, who gets to work in the fields, who gets to do back breaking labor and who gets to sit in a comfortable office and manage everything?

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

there are so many errors in what you said.....lets start at the beginning...you said..."Capitalism is the only system that allows the individual to better their station in life."

the "ONLY" system? You painting with a pretty broad brush. Please present some evidence that this claim is true. Simply saying it does not make to true.

Quoting: all_the_kings_horses 4536389

How about the fact that it is the only system in the history of man to allow someone to rise from poverty to wealth, prosperity and power?

Can you name any other economic system that has allowed this to happen to effectively?

Capitalism is the only system which gives even the poorest and lowest person the tools and opportunity to better their station and create a life of their own choosing.

Capitalism is, I believe, the most natural state for any economy.

Of course, I'm just completely wrong about everything I've said, right? It's not like I went from eating out of dumpsters and wearing dead people's clothing to running my own business. I obviously have no idea what I'm talking about.

Please, enlighten me, oh wise one.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 03:29 PM

WHOEVER PINNED this thread, thankyou. I am back, left a bit to tend my own forum, nap and finish getting those dishes under control.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7006972

 Brazil

12/13/2011 03:33 PM

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

No. You are wrong.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 4104666
 United States
12/13/2011 03:35 PM

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

No. You are wrong.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. Your incredibly thought provoking comment has changed my perception of reality.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1786332
 United States
12/13/2011 03:36 PM

We could easily have a world without money. Just kill a couple billion people and then put everyone on the same playing field.

An Orwellian model would work perfectly.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 7006972
 Brazil
12/13/2011 03:38 PM

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

No. You are wrong.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. Your incredibly thought provoking comment has changed my perception of reality. 🤔

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I could say more.

But the "freedom loving people" ban us.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1094488
🇨🇦Canada
12/13/2011 03:39 PM

Money is a fine idea. Taxes are fair, as long as society gets back what we put into it. The problem is so much of our wealth is stolen along the way by the PTB, for their own purposes and agenda, which has nothing to do with the good of society.

Without them, we would be just fine. The Federal Reserve, the Vatican, Rothschild's, Rockefeller's etc....all need to be behind bars....otherwise, they will not stop.

If what is left of what they have stolen could be returned, we can start again. Everyone won't have to work so hard, pay as much tax, and earn a better wage. We will have more free time, and not slaves to them.

Happy Dog
User ID: 3263959
🇷🇴Romania
12/13/2011 03:42 PM

Man, this is crazy! I just found this thread AFTER I did some research about what could be the best replacement for capitalism. I have started this search about a week ago and it became almost an obsession. This is what I found (among others):

[\[link to en.wikipedia.org\]](http://en.wikipedia.org)

I have no doubt: capitalism is dying! This is the transition to the next step. Yes, in my opinion, people should learn to give, we need to forget about money, as money brings war and unhappiness. We need to change from inside and the world is going to change too... Nice thread, OP! :)

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 1482902

🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 03:42 PM

Money is the religion of the new world order.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 4104666
🇺🇸 United States
12/13/2011 03:42 PM

You may say I have no heart but I understand the world in a much deeper way than you apparently do. People are not equal, not everyone has the same worth. You would have us believe that an illiterate, sack jawed, vapid moron with barely enough brain cells to keep breathing is just as valuable as Einstein or Hawking. They are not, this is a fact.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

No. You are wrong.

.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. Your incredibly thought provoking comment has changed my perception of reality. 🤔

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I could say more.

But the "freedom loving people" ban us.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I totally believe you. You have the answer but "they" won't let you say it.

I'll do it for you:

"Everyone is equal, they all have worth, everyone is as good at everything as everyone else. Despite the obvious reality of existence on this planet, equality is the natural state. People are all special, God loves everyone, we're all magic beings with super special powers to love each other.

The only reason we aren't equal now is because people with brains, skills and the determination to create the life they want have made it so that lazy, dumb and unskilled people don't get to live in fancy houses and stuff their faces.

Determined people are bad! Save the weak!"

Nobody in Particular (OP)
Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 03:43 PM

Thread: Pay No Taxes legally -End the FED -synopsis page 8-Why are waiting for someone to do it for us like Ron paul

Quoting: ossbogosley

So why are they hoping Ron Paul will do it for them? Is that the jist? He can't even honor the constitution enough to give up his party affiliation. When he does that I will take interest. The next president on my country is already chosen, but I have not paid enough attention to the game this year to figure out which one. Obviously it was not to be Cain. But Cain got lots of money to play the role he did, how shameful.

People will only place trusted individuals into place and the elections will truly be representative when we are off money. Until Paul gives up his party and runs on his own accord, you will not be able to put him into place anyway, and I am pretty sure is not the chosen president at this point.

Don't some of you ones get tired of the daily politics of people running that promised more jobs and slavery? Can you not use your creative minds to see thru the bull?

I hope the thread above, does fully have in it that the amendments used to put taxation into place were not ratified. Also, I hope someone here in my absence has pointed out that your personal INCOME is your personal property and cannot be taxed any more that you can submit a tax form to pay taxes on your BED each year. But don't worry, somebody will do that too, you could be taxed each year on all the stuff you do own, on its current value. Imagine how much your tax assistant is going to charge for that one.

I might take a look at the thread later, I cannot remember if I have posted in it or not, for if one thing I am maybe next tired of, after money it would be our political systems which are also just a continuation of your slavery at this point, in all ways and which keep you further divided. These systems cannot exist in an aware civilization of people off os money, for money and politicians are joined at the hip.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 1094488

 Canada

12/13/2011 03:44 PM

Read "The creature of Jekyll Island" to get an idea of HOW MUCH the Federal Reserve, and the PTB behind it, have stolen through history, and are stealing now. None of it was for their good, only theirs.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7006972

...

No. You are wrong.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. Your incredibly thought provoking comment has changed my perception of reality. 🤔

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I could say more.

But the "freedom loving people" ban us.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I totally believe you. You have the answer but "they" won't let you say it.

I'll do it for you:

"Everyone is equal, they all have worth, everyone is as good at everything as everyone else. Despite the obvious reality of existence on this planet, equality is the natural state. People are all special, God loves everyone, we're all magic beings with super special powers to love each other.

The only reason we aren't equal now is because people with brains, skills and the determination to create the life they want have made it so that lazy, dumb and unskilled people don't get to live in fancy houses and stuff their faces.

Determined people are bad! Save the weak!"

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I broke my promise to never post in this board anymore to say that you were wrong.

I still think you are wrong.

I just wanted to say that.

We all have the same value.

No wonder you like money.

That's all.

I go back to my silence.

(Lets hope)

samanthasunflower

User ID: 5364986

 United States

12/13/2011 03:51 PM

Imagine a world where the elderly can't put anything aside to feed them in their golden years. Where those without family are left to starve to death.

Of course there is the imaginary world where everyone gets free access to all the food/clothing/shelter that they need. Of course, in that world your all going to starve to death. Because farmers like myself may be willing to work hard for ourselves, but we aren't going to give our sweat and blood away for free. So very little food will be produced, and people will start to starve.

Then new rules will come, If you don't work, you won't eat. Which again leads the elderly to starve to death.

Your imaginary world sucks!!!

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 03:52 PM

...

Oh, I'm sorry, I stand corrected. Your incredibly thought provoking comment has changed my perception of reality. 🤔

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I could say more.

But the "freedom loving people" ban us.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I totally believe you. You have the answer but "they" won't let you say it.

I'll do it for you:

"Everyone is equal, they all have worth, everyone is as good at everything as everyone else. Despite the obvious reality of existence on this planet, equality is the natural state. People are all special, God loves everyone, we're all magic beings with super special powers to love each other.

The only reason we aren't equal now is because people with brains, skills and the determination to create the life they want have made it so that lazy, dumb and unskilled people don't get to live in fancy houses and stuff their faces.

Determined people are bad! Save the weak!"

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I broke my promise to never post in this board anymore to say that you were wrong.

I still think you are wrong.

I just wanted to say that.

We all have the same value.

No wonder you like money.

That's all.

I go back to my silence.

(Lets hope)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

You make me laugh, man. Enjoy the weather down there

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 03:54 PM

Man, this is crazy! I just found this thread AFTER I did some research about what could be the best replacement for capitalism. I have started this search about a week ago and it became almost an obsession. This is what I found (among others):

[\[link to en.wikipedia.org\]](#)

I have no doubt: capitalism is dying! This is the transition to the next step. Yes, in my opinion, people should learn to give, we need to forget about money, as money brings war and unhappiness. We need to change from inside and the world is going to change too... Nice thread, OP! :)

Quoting: Happy Dog 3263959

The reference you cite is pure opinion. The term 'citation needed' appears 12 times. That means readers have questioned the author's credibility.

My opinion....

The US constitution is the framework under which capitalism can work well. As the constitution is assaulted and compromised, so will the odds of capitalism enduring.

The idea of capitalism is people making trades they agree on without interference. That system would work, it is the most natural way of us trading our talents/abilities/efforts for items we need or want at the lowest price/best efficiency.

Capitalism has provided the following combination of living standard:

The best return for the most people with the least effort. Not everyone is rich, not everyone has an easy job, but using the averages, it works best. [citation needed]

Last Edited by Real list on 12/13/2011 03:55 PM

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 6550608
 United States
12/13/2011 03:57 PM

Because you can't trade labor with a stupid, lazy person for 24" rims.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 7006972
 Brazil
12/13/2011 03:58 PM

...

I could say more.

But the "freedom loving people" ban us.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh, I totally believe you. You have the answer but "they" won't let you say it.

I'll do it for you:

"Everyone is equal, they all have worth, everyone is as good at everything as everyone else. Despite the obvious reality of existence on this planet, equality is the natural state. People are all special, God loves everyone, we're all magic beings with super special powers to love each other.

The only reason we aren't equal now is because people with brains, skills and the determination to create the life they want have made it so that lazy, dumb and unskilled people don't get to live in fancy houses and stuff their faces.

Determined people are bad! Save the weak!"

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I broke my promise to never post in this board anymore to say that you were wrong.

I still think you are wrong.

I just wanted to say that.

We all have the same value.

No wonder you like money.

That's all.

I go back to my silence.

(Lets hope)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

You make me laugh, man. Enjoy the weather down there

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You sould not laugh.

You should ask yourself why the "freedom loving people" ban.

And kill.

But you like too much money.

So laugh.

While my voice gets banned.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7065153

 United States

12/13/2011 04:04 PM

It'll never happen, Sorry

End of thread

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7006972

 Brazil

12/13/2011 04:05 PM

Because you can't trade labor with a stupid, lazy person for 24" rims.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 6550608

If I had said that, I would have been banned.

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 4104666

 United States

12/13/2011 04:10 PM

...

Oh, I totally believe you. You have the answer but "they" won't let you say it.

I'll do it for you:

"Everyone is equal, they all have worth, everyone is as good at everything as everyone else. Despite the obvious reality of existence on this planet, equality is the natural state. People are all special, God loves everyone, we're all magic beings with super special powers to love each other.

The only reason we aren't equal now is because people with brains, skills and the determination to create the life they want have made it so that lazy, dumb and unskilled people don't get to live in fancy houses and stuff their faces.

Determined people are bad! Save the weak!"

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I broke my promise to never post in this board anymore to say that you were wrong.

I still think you are wrong.

I just wanted to say that.

We all have the same value.

No wonder you like money.

That's all.

I go back to my silence.

(Lets hope)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

You make me laugh, man. Enjoy the weather down there

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You sould not laugh.

You should ask yourself why the "freedom loving people" ban.

And kill.

But you like too much money.

So laugh.

While my voice gets banned.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

I thought you went back to silence?

I laugh because you think that people like the OP, who expound the virtues of a system devoid of any personal freedom or liberty, are interested in your own well being.

You are quite mistaken, my friend. I'm the one promoting your ability to live your life in anyway you see fit, to earn your own money and govern your own property.

The OP would have you turn in all of your possessions for a grey jumpsuit and eat oatmeal and rice everyday just so that no one feels any less special than anyone else.

Nobody in Particular (OP)

Busy Rattling Cages on GLP

User ID: 7049086

 United States

12/13/2011 04:14 PM

Honestly..it is very hard to envision. I say that because it's how we have all been conditioned to have and need. Would be amazing if we all just worked and made everything out of gratitude and endless love for one another. There would be no war, no stealing, no hunger or greed..it's a beautiful concept no doubt and know that money is just pieces of paper..but at this point, we need it.

Problem is, the world has become so greedy and selfish that that kind of world would be very hard to come by.

One can only dream though..

Quoting: luckyirish83

it starts with the DREAM in fact, before the "universe" can assist. You must put the "thought forms" into the genetic mind before others can download them, should they become "motivated" to do so. It takes more than one to dream it, it takes many of similar focus to bring in whatever a world needs, be that world you immediate family, or the whole of the global civilization.

The genetic mind if full of thought forms of power and greed in fact. They must be changed. But is it not enough to just dream, actions are required. There is another post I want to look at on this teaching.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 4104666
 United States
12/13/2011 04:18 PM

Hey OP,

Maybe if you click your ruby slippers together enough times we can also be rid of all sickness and disease.

People like you scare me, you should learn to be more grounded in reality. Unrealistic solutions do more harm than good.

Anonymous Coward
User ID: 7006972
 Brazil
12/13/2011 04:21 PM

...

I broke my promise to never post in this board anymore to say that you were wrong.

I still think you are wrong.

I just wanted to say that.

We all have the same value.

No wonder you like money.

That's all.

I go back to my silence.

(Lets hope)
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

You make me laugh, man. Enjoy the weather down there
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You sould not laugh.

You should ask yourself why the "freedom loving people" ban.

And kill.

But you like too much money.

So laugh.

While my voice gets banned.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

I thought you went back to silence?

I laugh because you think that people like the OP, who expound the virtues of a system devoid of any personal freedom or liberty, are interested in your own well being.

You are quite mistaken, my friend. I'm the one promoting your ability to live your life in anyway you see fit, to earn your own money and govern your own property.

The OP would have you turn in all of your possessions for a grey jumpsuit and eat oatmeal and rice everyday just so that no one feels any less special than anyone else.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I said at the beginning:

"I could say more. But the "freedom loving people" ban us."

They havent yet. But they did many many times before. Everywhere.

You should not laugh. As I said, too.

You should ask why "freedom loving people" ban.

But, you love too much money.

As I said.

So you laugh.

I said too, that I would go back to silence.

BUT?

Lets hope.

Hope is not a promise.

American.

(So lets hope they dont ban this too!)

(And you understand the real meaning of the point that I wanted to make. This exchange had value too.)

Aiyanna

...Always Love...

User ID: 7057351

 United States

12/13/2011 04:21 PM

I don't know...Therefore alien's.

Real list

User ID: 7049451

 United States

12/13/2011 04:21 PM

Hey OP,

Maybe if you click your ruby slippers together enough times we can also be rid of all sickness and disease.

People like you scare me, you should learn to be more grounded in reality. Unrealistic solutions do more harm than good.

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

That makes a lot of sense. She should use this 'universal conscience' or whatever it is to do something simpler and with a safer, more predictable outcome.

Maybe envision grass being pink, let's see that happen. What could it hurt?

Anonymous Coward

User ID: 7006972

 Brazil

12/13/2011 04:23 PM

...

You make me laugh, man. Enjoy the weather down there
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

You should not laugh.

You should ask yourself why the "freedom loving people" ban.

And kill.

But you like too much money.

So laugh.

While my voice gets banned.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

I thought you went back to silence?

I laugh because you think that people like the OP, who expound the virtues of a system devoid of any personal freedom or liberty, are interested in your own well being.

You are quite mistaken, my friend. I'm the one promoting your ability to live your life in anyway you see fit, to earn your own money and govern your own property.

The OP would have you turn in all of your possessions for a grey jumpsuit and eat oatmeal and rice everyday just so that no one feels any less special than anyone else.
Quoting: Anonymous Coward 4104666

I said at the beginning:

"I could say more. But the "freedom loving people" ban us."

They haven't yet. But they did many many times before. Everywhere.

You should not laugh. As I said, too.

You should ask why "freedom loving people" ban.

But, you love too much money.

As I said.

So you laugh.

I said too, that I would go back to silence.

BUT?

Lets hope.

Hope is not a promise.

American.

(So lets hope they dont ban this too!)

(And you understand the real meaning of the point that I wanted to make. This exchange had value too.)

Quoting: Anonymous Coward 7006972

Oh. And there is NO property.

All land belong to god.

It was a gift.

A gift is only sold by those who love money.